

Hens that eat and do not lay
 Are hens that cost and do not pay;
 They kill the joy of tending flocks,
 And keep the profits from father's sox.
 Get rid of the boarders and you will see
 What a difference in profits there will be.

ROYAL THEATRE

O'Neill, Nebraska
 HOME OF GOOD PICTURES

Thursday Fri., Sat., March 12-13-14
 Wheeler & Woolsey, the comedy team of "Dixiana" and "Rio Rita" in "HALF SHOT AT SUNRISE"

It's one of the most absurdly ridiculous, nonsensical messpots of assorted comedy that ever was cooked up from celluloid. Two A. E. F. privates madly A. W. O. L., in Paris. How they get away with it is the story, embellished with some of the funniest lines and situations ever devised.

Matinee Saturday 2:30; 10-25c; night admission 10-40c.

Sunday, Mon., Tues., March 15-16-17
 Will Rogers, in "LIGHTNIN'"

With Louise Dresser, Joel McCrea, Helen Cohan, Sharon Lynn and J. M. Kerrigan. Brilliant wit, flashing fun, illuminating drama. Love that leads to kisses and love that leads to Reno, love that endures and love that flies out the window—love that forgives all and love that tells all to the judge. You'll find them all in this wise and witty comedy, with Will Rogers as Doctor of Hearts.

Wednesday and Thurs., March 18-19
 Charles Farrell, Maureen O'Sullivan and H. B. Warner, in

Matinee Sunday 2:30, adm. 10-35c; night admission 10-50c.

"PRINCESS AND THE PLUMBER"
 A new comedy of errors. She thought he was a real prince. He thought she was a make-believe princess. Love unlocks the castle door. When a Princess is lonely and beautiful; when a man is handsome and mysterious—Romance brings them together—then? Romance knows no code and a modern maid has to forget she's a princess—once in a while.

LOCAL DECLAMATORY CONTEST

A Declamatory Contest was held at the High School auditorium, Wednesday evening.

The winner of first place in the Oratorical was given to Burdette Miller who read "The Flag," "Little Boy Blue," read by Arleen Page, was awarded first place in the Dramatic section, and Helen Cole, who read "One of the Mothers," was given second place.

The judge, Miss Florence Sherman of Neligh, had a great deal of difficulty in deciding the winners in the Humorous class as all readings were well given. Ned Allendorfer was given first place, reading "Pa Rents a Modern Apartment;" second place was awarded Geneva Fox, who read "Jane;" Miss Mary Haffner placed third, reading "China Blue Eyes."

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The W. C. T. U. contest between California, North, and the state of Nebraska, is now in full swing. The contest is to be triangular; the state securing the most new members by Mother's Day, being the end of the national drive, wins the other state's flag. The state having the most new unions will receive a prize of a silk American flag, and for the state distributing the most literature, a prize from the losing state of its state flower, these emblems to be provided for each delegate at the next state convention. California has the advantage over Nebraska of near 200 members, the membership of Nebraska at this time being 7,070.

The W. C. T. U. local unions in Holt County have all organized for a membership drive, and at a meeting held by the O'Neill union last week at the home of Mrs. Clara Conklin, final plans were made by dividing the members into two groups and choosing a leader for each group, Mrs. Carmen Smith to be leader on one side and Mrs. Ethel Olson for the other. Points are to be given for new members, attendance at meetings and for visitors, 25 points to be given for honorary members, and the local W. C. T. U. ladies hope to show by the close of this contest that a goodly number of our O'Neill men are standing by their slogan, "Law observance and enforcement, not repeal." "There is No Place Like Nebraska," and Nebraska women generally get what they go after, and even though they fail to win California's flag, they will have the satisfaction of knowing they made California work to win the Nebraska flag.
