District Court December 7th

The court docket is out for the November term scheduled for next Monday. Judge Dickson Tuesday advanced the day of convening until December 7. Irvin Staalmaster, associated with county attorney D. J. Cronin in the Flannigan bank cases, is said to be laid up in a hospital and hence unable to come to court.

The hearing of the motion of A. E. Flannigan of the failed Basset State Bank for a new trial, set for Saturday at the court house here, has also been continued for the same reason.

Flannigan was recently convicted in the district court of Rock county on a charge of making a false report to the state banking department.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

James W. Rooney, County Extension Agent

Francis Flood to be in County

Holt county people will have the opportunity of hearing Francis Flood, Nebraska Farmer Traveler, the last week of November. Mr. Flood will talk at the World Memorial Hall in Atkinson the evening of Monday, November 23rd, at the K. C. Hall in O'Neill the evening of Tuesday, November 24th and the town hall in Chambers the evening of Wednesday, November 25th. Mr. Flood will show motion pictures of his trip to Borneo, the South Seas and Australia.

These meetings will be conducted under the auspices of the 4-H clubs of the county and the proceeds of the meetings will be used to further club work in the county. Admission charges will be thirty-five and fifteen cents. His appearances will be advertised in the various papers in the county.

Annual Meeting Date Set

The annual meeting of the Holt county Farm Bureau will be held in O'Neill on December 8th. J. F. Lawrence of the University Extension Service will be the main speaker. His subject "Taxation" is a timely one and should be of interest to every one. Details of the meeting will be announced later.

Accessories for the House project

The third meeting of the Women's clubs will be held on Tuesday, November 17th, at O'Neill. Miss Helen Locke, Extension Specialist, will continue the discussions on Accessories for the House and the lesson for consideration will be "Lines for the Dining Room".

Oats put gains on Calves

Stock calves gain almost a pound per head per day during their first winter when fed a ration of prairie hay and two pounds of oats per head per day, according to the three successive experiments at the Valentine Substation of the University of Nebraska. Similar calves on prairie hay alone did little better than hold their own in weight during the winter, gaining from 26 to 38 pounds per head in the three winters. While the thin, stunted calves gained more rapidly on pasture the following summer, they never caught up with the oats fed calves, nor did the stunted calves, make as much profit at the end of their second summer.

In the same three tests, two pounds of oats replaced from 35 to 50 pounds of prairie hay in putting on a pound of gain on the calves. Farmers who have both prairie hay and oats to feed can compare the farm value of two pounds of oats with 35 to 50 pounds of hay and decide whether or not it pays to feed oats to the 1931 crop of calves. Figuring prairie hay at $5 per ton, oats at a cent a pound, and pasture at $2.50 per head, E. M.

Brouse, superintendent at the Valentine Station, says they put the extra gain on the oats fed calves during both winter and summer for $4.62 per hundred.

As long yearling off grass, the oats fed calves weighed 862 pounds while the hay fed calves weighed 771 pounds. The feed bill for the oats fed calves was only $4.11 more per head than that of the hay fed group. The calves weighed the same when started on the test at weaning time.

From the Daily Bulletin of College Station, Texas, the following item is taken concerning a son of Supervisor and Mrs. L. C. McKim:

The first regular meeting of the Social Science Seminar will be held in the Physics Lecture room Monday evening, October 26, at 8:00 o'clock. Calvin McKim, assistant professor of Agricultural Economics will give a talk, illustrated by stereopticon views, on northern Luzon, the largest island of the Philippine group.

The lecture will deal with the natural resources, the industries, and the social life of the people. While the subject matter will be scholarly, as evidenced by its publication in the Journal of Science of the Philippine Islands, it will be replete with human interest material such as one would gather under protection of the constabulary in a district inhabited by "head hunters."

OBITUARY

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Rosa A. Gannon at the M. E. church at O'Neill Thursday afternoon, Rev. Mertie E. Clute, pastor of the M. E. church at Inman presiding.

Mrs. Gannon was born in Wellsville, Pa. January 6, 1867 and died November 2, 1931 at a hospital in Rochester, Minn., at the age of 64 year, nine months and twenty-six days.

In 1888 with her widowed mother and brothers she came to Nickerson, Nebraska where she made her home. It was at this place she met and married Mr. Wm. A. Gannon, on October 8, 1891. He preceded her in death on February 15, 1927.

To this union were born six children, all of whom are living. They are Mrs. Edna Sparks, Mrs. Rena West and Mrs. Helen Pallies, all of Los Angeles, California, Mrs. Bertha Wilson, Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. Blanche Lindberg, Ageo, Nebraska and Roy of Inman. She is also survived by fifteen grandchildren and four brothers.

Mrs. Gannon was one of the early settlers here and until the death of her husband lived, on a farm two miles north of Inman. During the past few years she had spent much of her time in California with her daughters.

She had started back there this fall when sudden illness over took her and she was hastened to the hospital.

Out of town relatives attending the funeral were Mrs. Edna Sparks, Los Angeles; Mrs. Bertha Wilson, Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lindberg and family, Ageo; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. William Soden, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. John Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. D. Soden, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Bishop and son, all of Wisner; Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Spangler, Scribner; Howard Spangler, Fremont; J. G. Gannon, Norfolk; Mrs. G. J. Gannon and son and Mrs. Carl Aldrich, Lincoln; Andrew Jensen and children, Stanton; Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. Cal. Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Spangler, Fremont; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin York and son, Clearwater; Mrs. Jennie Gentzler and son, Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. Lite Rich, Neligh; Mr. and Mrs. Groves, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, Tilden and two Darr families from Creighton.

Interment was made in the cemetery at O'Neill by the side of her husband.

OBITUARY

Mrs. John E. White—The many friends of "Grandma White" were grieved to hear that she had passed away at the home of her son, H. S. White of Amelia.

Mary Ann Hammond was born at Mont Chuck, Luzerne county Penn., March 26, 1841 and died Nov. 5, 1931 aged 90 years 7 months and 10 days.

In 1855 she, with her parents, and other relatives emigrated from Penn. driving through in covered wagons, and settled in Kankakee county, Ill.

She was married to John E. White December 3, 1862. To this union were born three sons and one daughter. The daughter having died in early childhood. Her husband John E. White died January 19, 1905. Three sisters and two brothers also preceded her in death. She leaves to mourn her loss three sons and their families, H. S. and E. H. of Amelia and E. A. of Inez, Nebraska. Five grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Also two sisters, Mrs. H. Y. Swan and Mrs. E. W. Stirling of Aroma Park, Ill., three brothers, Samuel Hammond of Aroma Park, Ill., Frank Hammond of Chicago and Charles Hammond of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mrs. White, mother, or Aunt Mary, as we all knew her was converted to Christ when 16 years of age and has lived a devoted Christian life. In 1884 she, with her husband and family settled on the farm now owned by E. H. White and in recent years has made her home with her three sons, dividing the time between each. Words are inadequate to tell of the many Christ like traits of her character, but even yet we can hear many an old settler say, "In the early days she was a mother to us all." "For her life has been a guidepost along life's weary mile, where she fed the weary traveler and cheered him with her smile."

She will be greatly missed by those who have known her beautiful life and loved her for what she was and for what she did. But while she rests her work and influence will continue. Impressive funeral services were held at the Methodist church at Amelia, Saturday morning. Rev. Rasmussen of Edgar, Nebraska, assisted by Rev. Lindsey of Amelia officiating. The body was tenderly laid to rest in the Chambers cemetery.

Red Cross Drive Begins

The Red Cross drive for funds has started and will continue until Thanksgiving day. The ladies will be visiting the citizens during the next two weeks and it is hoped everyone will do their utmost to help supply the great need with which the Red Cross is confronted at this time. They have the responsibility of helping the needy in this time of large needs everywhere and are looking to those who are able for generous help.

Mrs. Stannard, Chairman.

O'Neill Loses to Atkinson 25-0

O'Neill again tasted defeat by losing to Atkinson by a score of 25-0. The score was the same as the O'Neill Atkinson game last year. Parnell of Atkinson was the outstanding player of the day, making a long run for a touchdown. Kelly of O'Neill, with a bad shoulder played a better game than his team mates who were not suffering from injuries. The last game of the season will be played on the home field when O'Neill tackles Lynch.
