Woman

Civilization rests on her. She reaches out to spiritual and intellectual attainments and keeps alive the music, the art, the letters, the culture, the religion of the white race.
Is it too much to say there would be no schools; no churches, no social clubs without her? Probably not.
Seventy-five per cent of the worshipers at the churches are women, and priest and pastor knows that his work is secure because of her. She comprises eighty per cent of the teachers in the schools and will sacrifice and plan for the education of the children even though her mate is indifferent or hostile.

In jungleland she is excluded from everything that would raise her above the standing of a slave. That explains the fact of jungleland.

Woman's rights, the styles of dresses, the cigarette, the hip flask, have done their baleful work to the charm, the grace, the beauty and bloom of our mothers and sisters and daughters, but American womanhood, the world's womanhood, is still the balance wheel that holds us from the brink of barbarism.

An ominous cloud has arisen on the far eastern horizon that reminds us of the alarming days preceding Verdon. Japan, small but mighty—a little people but crafty, capable and everyone of them a statesman and a military genius—has huge China, crude and awkward, by the throat.
What is to come of it no one can predict, but anything may happen. Japan has cherished the dream of one day dominating Asia. Is this the starting point of the fulfillment of that dream? Another dream lingers in the minds of all Asiatics—a dream of supremacy over the white races.
With Asia under the leadership of Japan, the yellow peril might become more than a dream.

The League of Nations seems to be at loss to know what to do about the Chino-Japanese fray. Japan seems to care little for suggestions from the League. We can't see it any other way than making a bad matter worse.
If all the nations feel that they must get into the quarrel too, we can do nothing else than have another war.
If Japan does not cease hostilities, the only thing the league can do is to jump into the conflict and make a grand fight of it. We can't remember anyone that ever got into trouble by minding his own business.

The largest newspaper transfer in Nebraska for some time past is that of the Norfolk Press, which has just been taken over by I. N. and V. J.
Tompkins of Minnesota. Mrs. Weeks, the retiring editor and publisher, gave to the Press an individuality, a personality, that attracted state wide attention. The first issue of the Press under the new management indicates that the standard is to be maintained.

Senator Norris is said to be prepared to introduce a 3 billion dollar federal road program at the forthcoming session of congress, with the view of putting the idle to work building roads. That would mean about 60 million to each state. A great people in a great country ought to be able to adjust themselves so everybody has a job. When Norris starts something others take notice.

State politics are stirring a bit.
Two democrats declare themselves for governor. One republican that has come to our attention starts his campaign for governor with a somewhat frank statement of his attitude on public questions and a brief but comprehensive personal history. This is Frank Myers of Omaha who has filed as a candidate for the republican nomination for governor.

The public feels secure in its right to cherish the memory of the great inventor in spite of the unpleasant discussion which has arisen of Edison family affairs.

The main thing about business depression that we do not understand is, why should the president of the United States be blamed for it?

Prices materially advance after the wheat crop has passed from the possession of the producer to the speculator.

A Luxurious Ranch House

Valentine Republican: Ed Taylor left Saturday morning for the McKelvie ranch, "By the Way," where he expects to be engaged for the next six to eight weeks in decorating the interior of the new ranch house. This is a modern and decidedly artistic home of about ten or eleven rooms, besides a large hall, the walls of which will be completely decorated with flat wall paint. Then Mrs. McKelvie, who is no mean artist herself, will beautify the plain walls with mural decorations and paintings, and Mr. Taylor expects to assist in this, besides learning something of the art from Mrs. McKelvie. When completed this ranch house will be one of the most outstanding among the country homes in Nebraska. George L. Hauver of this city has been engaged in installing the heating system in the house.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY RED CROSS POSTER

A PRETTY, twenty-year-old bank teller of Phoenixville, Pennsylvania—Miss Margaret Wilt—served as the model for the Red Cross poster this year, and thus entered into the halls of everlasting fame.
This particular poster marks the fiftieth birthday of the American Red Cross. The original poster will be preserved in the Red Cross museum in Washington, and the reproductions will undoubtedly be used in 1931—when the one hundredth anniversary is observed—and in 2031 and through the birthdays of the Red Cross in all the future centuries.
Joseph M. Clement is the artist of this effective anniversary poster, which follows out the slogan of the Red Cross birthday—"Fifty years' service to humanity." Mr. Clement has a studio and home on old mill property at Chester Springs, Pennsylvania, and thus looked about the neighborhood for local talent and discovered Miss Wilt—who has posed for several of his works.
