

NOTICE!

Someone has started the story that the Hanford Produce Company has discontinued buying cream in O'Neill. This is absolutely untrue. THE HANFORD PRODUCE CO. ARE STILL DOING BUSINESS IN O'NEILL the same as they have been for more than twenty years, and we hope you will continue to take your cream to the same old place, THE HANFORD CREAM AND ICE CREAM FACTORY, where the highest cash prices will always be paid for Your Cream and Eggs.

Prompt service, courteous treatment and a square deal to all

The Prize Winners

Fourteen boys and girls, winners of the Chicago and North Western Railway's prize trips to Chicago, will leave this week-end to attend the International Live Stock Exposition to be held November 28 to December 5, in that city. These 14 trips, all assigned to Neb., are a part of the 100 trips given by the North Western.

The winners are as follows:
Dorothy Smith of Plainview, Oscar Skanderup of Albion, Doris Dollison of David City, Carol Paulus of Harvard, Henry Rabeler of Leigh, Roland Nelson of West Point, Carcus Deans of Chadron, Ernest Schmidt of Fremont, Edna Nunn of Geneva, Irene Leymaster of Stockham, Arthur Dexter, of O'Neill, Neola Nelson of Newman Grove, Milton Thorson of Wahoo and Harold Carr of Seward.

These boys and girls are going on trips which are given every year by the North Western Railway to those who are most proficient in the raising of live stock and in home economics. The selection was left entirely up to the State agricultural authorities and the State schools working through County agricultural agents.

The prize trip in each case is equal to the cost of one round trip ticket to Chicago from the station at which the winner lives, the ticket being good during the period of the International Live Stock Exposition.

Methodist Church Notes

Sunday School at 10:00 A. M.—Just as well make up our minds that winter is here and come on anyway.

Morning Worship 11:00 A. M.—We are hearing a good deal of favorable comment about the Gospel themes being used which have been centering about the Cross.

Sickness made inroads on the program the Young folk had planned for last Sunday night. But they went thru with it with what material they had.

Epworth League again next Sunday at 6:30.

Regular preaching services at 7:30. We are using the Sermon on the Mount for our evening themes. Hear how Christ talks straight to us and not about us to others. Yet he never retaliates when His truth is rejected. He leaves it with us and the world and it accomplishes victory in due time.

There was considerable merriment Tuesday night at the "Twin Party" entertainment in the church basement, sponsored by the Ladies Aid and Mr. Burch, the latter with his helpers proving quite efficient in the serving department, also.

D. W. Gimmell and William Bedford, assistant manager International Harvester Co., located at Omaha, going east on 20 and 8, turned over on the highway at Charley Grass' north of Page yesterday. Neither men were hurt but the car, a new Chevrolet belonging to Mr. Gimmell, was damaged so as to require a wrecker to haul it to O'Neill.

Ralph Bauman and Elvaetta M. Belling, both of O'Neill, obtained a marriage license at Judge Malone's office Saturday last.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I have purchased the O'Neill Gass and Oil Station and took possession December 1. I know you will miss your good friend Fred, but we will do our best to give you the same good service that he has always given.

We will appreciate your patronage.

Tree Application Blanks Ready

Applications for forest tree seedlings have been received at the Farm Bureau office. The trees will not be shipped until spring at the proper time for planting. This usually is about the first of April.

Next spring farmers will be able to get American Elm, Chinese Elm, Catalpa, Cottonwood, Honey Locust, Green Ash, Russian Mulberry, Box Elder, Russian Olive, and Caragana. Of the evergreen transplants, Scotch pine, Austrian pine, Western yellow pine, Jack pine, and possibly red cedar for western Nebraska will be available. These seedlings are available for woodlots, shelterbelts, windbreaks, and are distributed under provisions of the Clark-McNary act of congress, and handled by the Agricultural Extension Service of the Agricultural college.

Farmers wishing to take advantage of this distribution may procure the necessary application blanks from this office.

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Holt county Farm Bureau will be held December 8th at 1:30 P. M. This meeting will be held in the O'Neill High school auditorium.

A program of the events of the afternoon follows:

Songs. O'Neill High School Glee Club Farm Bureau Policies

Bryan French, Farm Bureau Pres. Heart and Clubs

Mrs. Louella Parker, Co. Supt. Treasurers report. Frank Murry Three Trees, (musical reading)

Jack Cromwell Election of Farm Bureau Board Members.

Summary of Extension work in county. County Agent

General Discussion. Audience Taxation Problems. J. F. Lawrence

The program as outlined should prove of interest to everyone. Mr. Lawrence in his talk, deals with a subject that is of vital importance. The election of Board members to direct the policies of the organization concerns all those interested in the Extension Program.

Stock Prefer Warm Water

Animals drink more when the water temperatures are right and hens lay more eggs if they drink more water. Some hog feeding experiments indicate a 10 to 15 per cent saving in feed by having warm water instead of ice water in the winter, according to the Agricultural College. It is fairly well established that much better results can be secured by using water directly from the well at well temperatures than by using ice water.

No one likes to pump water by hand as a regular farm chore. Neither does anyone like to chop and remove ice from the stock tanks. Few people successfully operate a tank heater in extremely cold weather. All of these tasks show very little definite return but become necessary on many farms. Choosing the task that pays best of all depends on individual cases. Usually, however, pumping the fresh water as the stock need it is the best paying of these last three named tasks. Chopping ice out of tanks does not change the temperature of the water; often the tank heater does very little more than to keep the ice from forming on the heater itself.

Feeding for Eggs

If the purpose of feeding is to produce eggs it will be necessary to feed the hens the materials required for making eggs. We may as well state in the beginning that grains alone will not insure profitable winter production. It is here that we find a good egg mash indispensable. The more mash hens eat, usually the more eggs they will lay. But let it be understood that when hens have their choice of grain or mash they will eat the grain. It is for this reason that it is sometimes necessary to force the hens to eat the mash. This is done by giving them less grain than they would like to have and in this way keeping them slightly hungry so they will go to the mash hopper for their complete fill.

The complaint that "my hens will not eat the mash" suggests that too much grain has been fed the hens. It may be that heavy feeding of grain has not been intentional, perhaps the hens have had access to grain bins or waste grain about the farm. This in a large measure will explain why good poultrymen find it to their advantage to keep the hens confined to their laying houses throughout the winter. This is especially advisable for the pullets that are kept for production only. The hens that are for breeding purposes only may be allowed to run. Write the Farm Bureau Office for details regarding feeds and feeding.

Straw Loft Insulation

Poultry houses are made more comfortable when insulated. The use of straw provides a simple and inexpensive form of insulation that has given satisfactory results. A common method of putting in the straw loft has been put in a false ceiling of two inch mesh wire netting and cover it with a layer of straw.

By putting in 2x4 supports from front to back and about four feet apart, the wire can be quite securely attached so that it will hold the straw without sagging. If the wire strips are placed along two or three inches apart and then pulled together before being tacked through the center of the building, they can be made much tighter than when stretched from end to end.

THE COUNTY PRESS

Ewing Advocate: Mrs. R. B. Crelin was painfully burned about the face, neck and arms Tuesday morning when she attempted to take a pan of burning fat outdoors. The pan caught fire in the oven of the kitchen stove, and as she started for the kitchen door, she slipped and fell, the pan of burning fat spilling on her. Her left arm was severely burned, and she will not be able to use it for some time.

Inman Leader: A petition was circulated in Inman Tuesday by Mrs. Grace Davis and signed by everybody in town, petitioning Governor Hartly of the state of Washington to commute the sentence of Hubert Nicolls and that the boy be placed in Father Flannigan's home in Omaha. The boy who is 12 years old was recently convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of John Wormel, sheriff of Asotin, Wash.

Stuart Advocate: Following closely on the heels of the Advocate's announcement of last week that the state department of Trade and Commerce would soon pay out 10 per cent of the deposits in the defunct Citizens' Bank of Stuart, the checks were received for the amounts anticipated. Letters accompanying the checks intimated that another "dividend" might be paid later. While it is not known exactly how much money is released into this community, the deposits of the bank were more than $300,000 and the majority of it was to the credit of local folks.

Chambers Sun: Mr. and Mrs. Craig Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Hylas Farrier went to Long Pine Tuesday to attend the Masonic services and installation. A six o'clock banquet was served. . . . Arthur Cooper, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cooper of Douglas, Wyoming, arrived Saturday for a visit with relatives here. He will spend some time with his uncle, Dave Holcomb. . . . Russel Graves delivered a bunch of cows, to the Charles Grimes place east of town, for an O'Neill party last Saturday. Mrs. Graves motored to Chambers and they spent the evening and Sunday at the W. H. Russ home.

Page Reporter: The Antelope county board of Supervisors last week adopted a resolution, whereby the people of Antelope county will have no road tax to pay for 1932, as the board will not levy any tax for the purpose of building or maintaining county roads, using only the money derived from gasoline tax and car licenses. . . . On Wednesday of last week, Mr. Buv. Wanser of Page sold over 1000 head of hogs at the livestock sale at his sale pavilion south of the depot. While we are not bragging—the fact remains that we have heard of large pavilions in small cities that brag of selling that many hogs at one sale. Mr. Wanser is fast bringing Page to the front with his livestock sales.

School Children in Greece Write Holt Co. Schools

By the County Superintendent

This office has received letters of thanks from school pupils in Greece for Christmas boxes sent last year. About fifty boxes were sent to the National Red Cross by the school children of Holt County to be forwarded to foreign children. These boxes were distributed to different foreign countries. Some of the letters received were written by the foreign children and were not accompanied by translations and for others the translations alone were sent. Unfortunately the acknowledgements do not state from what school the boxes were received so it will be impossible to send them to individual schools. Following are a number of the translations as received:

Nauplia, May 28, 1931

Dear Fellow-Juniors:
The Hellenic J. R. C. sent us by post from Atheneia parcel with your choice gifts, which you had the kindness to send to it for distribution among the Greek Juniors. We hasten to thank you warmly. The love and interest which you show us has deeply moved us and your noble sentiments have charmed us. Our group inspired by the same ideals which the J. R. C. has set as its aim assures its American fellow-Juniors that it will not spare any effort to show itself worthy of its destination. Actively working under the direction of our teacher, we have founded a school pharmacy, a library, dried up swamps, organized lectures of hygiene, distributed quinine to children suffering from malaria, etc. We would be exceptionally happy if you would start with us a correspondence and would let us know the activity of your group. As soon as we will receive a letter from you we will send back a portfolio which we are preparing.

Looking anxiously forward to your reply, we send you our warmest greetings.

The Juniors of the Mauplia Gym.

Chios, 18-4-31

Dear Brother Juniors of America:
We received with great emotion your presents which prove your love for us. We have only one longing that all the children of the world should live as brothers with one father, God, because in that way they will be happy and Peace will rule the world. Kindly accept a few gifts from us.

We embrace you fondly.
The Primary School of Chios.

Chios, 25-5-31.

Dear Juniors:
Delighted with the beautiful presents we received from you we write a few words from our hearts, to thank you and request you to kindly accept the presents we send you and consider them as a few flowers taken from the garden of our hearts.

With love and esteem,
The Primary School of Livadia,

Chios.

Kavoussi, 31-3-31.

Dear Fellow Juniors:
We received yesterday the Xmas gifts you sent us. When we saw them the class-room was flooded with joy and emotion because that we understood that other children think and work as we do. We understood the joy which must have felt the children of our orphanage when we sent them presents last year too. We are deeply moved by your presents because you are so far away with us and that fact that you thought of us proves that we are bound with love and brotherliness. We regret that we can only thank you by this letter. Your presents will always remind us of our school life even when we shall have finished school. We thank you from the bottom of our hearts and wish you health and happiness.

Your fellow Juniors of the Primary School of Kavoussi, Ierapetra, Crete.

Janina-31.

Dear Friends:
With much pleasure and emotion did we receive your beautiful presents, tokens of your love; we shall try all our life to be worthy of your friendship, remembering the ideals we have in common.

Long live your country! Long live American youth!

The 2nd Gymnasium.

Messaria, Andros-31.

Dear Friends:
Our teacher was speaking to us about peace and the ideals of the J. R. C. when your presents arrived. Our joy cannot be described.

The Juniors of the Primary School. Perhaps some one in your school district has friends who can read Greek. If so we should be glad to loan them the letter which we have.

Borden-Hooker

Dr. Harold E. Hooker of Long Pine, Nebraska, and Miss Bernice Borden of Spencer, Nebraska, were united in the bonds of holy wedlock at the Methodist Parsonage by Rev. Benj. Kuhler, Wednesday evening, Nov. 25, at 6:00 o'clock. Dr. Hooker is practicing dentistry in Long Pine, where they will make their future home.

W. H. Grothe was in this morning from the farm west of Emmet with a load of rye, forty-four bushels, which he sold on the local market for 42 cents per bushel.

TRICKS of MAGIC EXPLAINED by Will L. Lindhorst

TRICK FOR DINING ROOM MAGICIANS

Here is a good trick to perform at the dining table. It is necessary beforehand to cover your fingers with an adhesive substance such as gum arabic, rubber cement or lead plaster. At the table you pick up a knife, rub it briskly on the palm of your hand as though to magnetize it and turning your thumb upward press the knife against your fingers, where it will stick. In explanation, you can jokingly say that by rubbing the knife on your palm you have caused the magnetism from your body to enter the knife, thereby making it possible for the knife to cling to your fingers.

RUBBER SPONGE USED TO PERFORM MAGIC

Buy a small rubber sponge and break it into five pieces. Holding these in your hand, pass two to a person in your audience, instructing him to close his hand over them. Pick two more from your hand and press them together between your fingers so they appear as one. Hand these also to the person, who upon receiving them closes his hand and is then told that he holds three pieces of the sponge. Pretend that you are placing the remaining piece in his pocket, telling him at the same time that you will make it vanish from his pocket into his hand. Upon opening his hand, he finds that he holds four pieces instead of the supposed three.
