ONE TAX LIEN CASE AND ONE DAMAGE SUIT IN DISTRICT COURT

Paul H. Gillen has filed suit in the district court to foreclose a tax lien against Belle N. Minnick et al., and the south half of section 30, township 33, north of range 12, west of the 6th p. m., in the first cause of action. In his petition he alleges that I. Y. Gillan & Co. purchased a tax certificate to the land on November 11, 1927, for delinquent taxes for the year 1926 and that they subsequently paid the taxes thereon for the years 1927, '28, '29, and '30. That said tax sale certificate had been sold and assigned to the plaintiff who is now the owner and holder thereof. That the amount due the plaintiff is $416.70.

As a second cause of action he alleges that on the above date he also purchased tax sale certificate on the northwest quarter of section 31, township 33, north of range 12, west of the 6th p. m., for delinquent taxes for the year 1926 and that he subsequently paid taxes thereon for the years 1927, '28, '29, and '30. He alleges that there is due on the second cause of action the sum of $201.70. He asks that a decree of foreclosure be entered and that defendants be required to pay the same and that in case of failure that the land may be sold to satisfy the amount found due.

Lawrence H. Snell has filed suit in the district court against William Milnar, Arthur Humpal, Chance Coxbill, doing business under the name of Humpal & Coxbill, and Mrs. William Milnar. In his petition he alleges that the defendants, Coxbill & Humpal, had a contract with the state highway department for graveling a stretch of road on highway number 20, between Stuart and Atkinson. That while thus engaged that they were guilty of gross negligence, as they failed to have warning signs on the highway to show that same was under repair. That on May 21, 1932, while the defendant was driving west on said highway, about 4:30 on the above afternoon, in his 1930 Model Buick Sedan, when four or five miles west of Stuart that the defendant William Humpal was unloading gravel on the highway. The plaintiff said that he saw the truck at work and when he got close to the same he honked his horn and pulled to the left to pass the truck. That just as he came opposite the truck the driver started up and pulled sharply to the left and into the car of the plaintiff, hitting him in the side and upsetting the car. That as a result of the gross carelessness of the driver of the truck the car of the owner was badly wrecked and the defendant seriously injured. That he suffered intense pain from the injuries received and that he has since been unable to work at his trade and that he has lost in wages alone since the date of the injury the sum of $600. That he has expended for surgical and medical attention since that date the sum of $99. That all or said injuries are permanent and he asks judgment in the sum of $15,000.00 and costs of suit.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

The opening meeting of the Woman's Club will be held at eight o'clock, October fifth, at the home of Mrs. F. J. Dishner. The following program will be given:

Part I. Review—"The Royal Family" by Geo. S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber—Mrs. Gaius Cadwell.

Part II. One Act Play—Direction of Mrs. Dishner.

BRIEFLY STATED

Miss Mildred McNulty visited relatives in Atkinson over Sunday.

Clarence Tenborg, of Emmet, was looking after business matters in this city Wednesday.

J. A. Donohoe left Tuesday morning on a business trip to Des Moines and other Iowa cities.

M. R. Sullivan came over from Hartington last Saturday and spent Sunday with his family here.

Miss Vera Baker has returned from Denver and will again work in this city as a beauty operator.

Mrs. James Davidson went down to Sioux City this morning to spend a couple of days visiting relatives.

Miss Bernadette Brennan spent the week-end in Hastings visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Zimmerman.

Dick Cromwell, who has been visiting his sister in Laramie, Wyo., for the past summer, has entered the university there.

Mrs. J. P. Ryan, of Bonesteel, S. D., who has been here visiting her sister Mrs. Tom Donlin for the past week, returned home Monday evening.

Rt. Rev. Monsignor M. F. Cassidy, Rev. B. F. Leahy and F. J. Biglin drove down to Omaha Tuesday for a few days visit in the metropolis.

The Presbyterian Ladies Guild will meet with Mrs. Roy Sauers Thursday afternoon, October 6th, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. L. A. Burgess will be assistant hostess.

L. A. Jones, who has operated the Idle Hour Cafe the past two months, has retired from the management and Mrs. Burke is again in charge of this popular cafe.

Little Donna Gallagher entertained about twenty of her little playmates with a party at her home last Friday afternoon, it being her sixth birthday. Needless to say the little folks had a very enjoyable time.

YANKS TRIM THE CUBS.

The New York Yankees took the Chicago Cubs to a cleaning in the first game of the 1932 world series played at New York Wednesday afternoon, with a score of 12 to 6. Chicago used three pitchers in an attempt to stop the Yankee sluggers, but to no avail. Ruffing was in the box for the Yanks throughout the contest. Bush, Grimes and Smith were in the box for the Cubs, Bush, starting pitcher, losing the battle. Local Cub followers still have faith that their team will come through the series victorious.

The Yankees also won the second game of the series played at New York this afternoon, with a score of 5 to 2. Vernon Gomez was the Yankee pitcher while Wearne was on the hill for the Cubs. It begins to look as if the Yanks were going to make it four straight. The next game will be played at Chicago Saturday afternoon.

Emmet Harmon went down to Sioux City Wednesday morning to take in the sights of the city and incidentally to pay his respects to the democratic presidential nominee.

Charles A. Goss, of Lincoln, chief justice of the Nebraska supreme court, was in the city last Tuesday visiting among the electors promoting his candidacy for reelection.

Highway number 13 was opened to traffic again last Monday, the repair work and the new graveling on the road having been completed and the road is now in fine condition.

This section was visited by a light frost last Monday night. Close observers say that no damage was done, but that the frost was a good thing as it would help to ripen late corn.

Fred Richter, one of the prominent farmers of northeastern Holt, had the misfortune to have his left collar bone broken last Friday, when he fell from a hay stack, landing on his left shoulder.

An overflow crowd was in the city last Tuesday night. All the hotels were full and some transients were looking for sleeping quarters in private homes. This is the first time for several months that this has happened.

Complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stafford, of Scottsbluff, Mrs. R. E. Gallagher and Mrs. H. E. Coyne entertained a dozen couples with a dinner at the bakery last Monday evening, after which they adjourned to the Gallagher residence for a pleasant evening at cards.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stafford, of Scotts Bluffs, Nebr., arrived in the city last Sunday night for a few days visit with old time friends. Mrs. Stafford, as Dorothy Testman, was a resident of this city for many years and she had an enjoyable visit here with her old school mates and girlhood companions. They left for home Tuesday.

The state engineer announces that bids will be received on October 6th for 197.3 miles of maintenance gravel on state highways in addition to three construction projects previously announced. The graveling is the largest maintenance letting since early in the spring. Among the projects included for graveling is 15.8 miles from Neligh to Ewing.

Candidate Palmer Visits O'Neill.

Harry O. Palmer, nominee for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Nebraska, and Arthur L. Palmer, his aviator-lawyer brother, spent Tuesday night and Wednesday in O'Neill, calling on the voters and visiting old friends. The Palmer brothers were college mates at Nebraska Wesleyan University twenty-five years ago of Dr. Leroy A. Burgess, and Arthur L. Palmer and Edward M. Gallagher and Hugh J. Birmingham were college friends and fraternity brothers in Beta Theta Pi at the University of Nebraska. Both are graduates of Harvard University Law School, and Harry O. Palmer was two years editor of the Harvard Law Review. They speak German, Swedish, and the Scandinavian tongues, as well as French, Spanish and Modern Greek.

They come from pioneer Nebraska stock. Their grandmother settled in Nebraska more than seventy years ago, and their grandfather was a bullwhacker and oxteam freighter to Pikes Peak before the railroads. Their father was a merchant and farmer at Louisville, Nebraska, where their uncle still publishes The Courier, and where they still have their farming interests. During the war Harry O. Palmer was executive officer to the Judge Advocate General of the army, and he was judge advocate of the China Expedition, and served in China, Siberia, Japan, and the Philippines. His brother served in the navy, and both are foreign war veterans, and Legionnaires. Judge Palmer carried fifty-nine counties in the primary, including Holt county, and after campaigning in eighty-two counties he says that his election seems to be generally conceded.

GUILTY OF PETTY LARCENY

The case of the State of Nebraska vs. Scott Howard, who was charged with petty larceny, with have stolen, on or about September 3, 1932, certain goods and chattels the property of Aloys Kaup, of Stuart, was before the County Court for trial last Monday, being tried to the Court. The state was represented by Deputy County Attorney Erwin Cronin while Attorney Elain A. Butterfield of Neligh, represented the defendant. After the witnesses had testified and the attorneys had made their arguments the Judge found the defendant guilty as charged and to pay a fine of $10 and costs of suit, taxed at $63.90 and that in default of payment that he be committed to the Holt county jail.

ALONG THE WAYSIDE

The political public forum opened on Douglas street this week, with the republicans and democrats alternating nights, but there will be no Jerry Howard to liven things up this time. Just orators.

Plot for a mystery story—Omaha cops blocked traffic one recent afternoon when they picked up a man tearing down the alley behind the World-Herald building in high. He was attired only in a cap, a fur-collared overcoat, B. V. D.'s, socks, shoes, and nothing more. The newspapers never did say why so write your own.

Doc Brinkley, the Milford, Kansas goat-gland specialist, is getting the goats of both the republicans and democrats down there. As a petition candidate for governor, gamblers odds are two to one in Topeka that he will poll more votes than both the other candidates. It isn't politics, the voters merely thinking that he was not given a square deal when he was counted out two years ago.

There is considerable opposition in southeastern Nebraska Missouri river counties to the proposed deepening and stabilizing of the Missouri river channel. Its opponents declare the scheme to be merely a reclamation one and not so much for navigation purposes and say that financial interests backing the movement are taking options at very nominal figures on river bottom lands subject now to flood and erosion and owned mostly by poor farmers. These options to be taken up after a permanent channel has been constructed and the bottom lands made safe from floods. The lands then will be very valuable. A river island owned by Falls City Capital, now comprising several thousand acres of very rich corn land, will be doubled in size when the river is confined to one of its sides and the added land will automatically become the property of the present island owners, who own frontage on both sides of the river.

A California oil producer and refiner, who in his younger days was a stockman in Kansas, visited the Omaha stock yards last week. Attracted to the truck docks where several hundred truckloads of stock were being unloaded, he and several of the shippers in discussing trucking agreed that they would prefer shipping by railroad if the railroads would let them. "Our concern," he said, "trucks the bulk of our products to Arizona and New Mexico points although it costs less to move a tank car of oil or gasoline by rail than it does an equal amount by truck, everything considered. The reason is that the truck lines are up to the minute while the railroads persist in antiquated practices and are still all bound up with red tape. We receive an order from Arizona or New Mexico at our Los Angeles office in the morning; trucks back up to our tanks the same day, are filled and start on their way that day, arriving at their destinations

James P. Dolan Passes Away.

The following article on the death of James P. Dolan, formerly a resident of this city, is taken from the last issue of the Riverton Review-Chronicle:

"James Patrick Dolan, 37 years of age, son of James P. Dolan of this city passed away at Rapid City, South Dakota, Sunday, September 11th, following a sudden attack of cerebral hemorrhage, passing away within a few hours, before medical aid could be summoned. Funeral services were held in this city this morning at nine o'clock from the Catholic church, Rev. Zuercher of St. Stephen's Mission having charge of the services. Interment was in Mountain View cemetery where the members of the local Legion Post conducted military burial services at the grave.

"Deceased was born in Walnut, Ia., March 29, 1895. He served in the army during the World War, but never saw service overseas, as he was one of the late draft members of the army. He was a single man, residing at Rapid City, South Dakota for the past number of years. Some seven or eight years ago he was a resident of Riverton for a time while employed in a local garage. Four years ago he again came to Riverton for a brief visit with his parents and brothers and sisters, all of whom then resided here. "Following his death at Rapid City the body was brought to Riverton, arriving here on Wednesday evening's train. The Altar Society of St. Margaret's Church of this city held the Rosary Service over the body at the Davis Mortuary last night.

"The funeral this morning was attended by a large group of friends of deceased and his family, and many beautiful floral offerings were in evidence. Members of the family present were James P. Dolan, father of deceased; George, of this city; Ted Douglas; Leonard of Casper, all brothers of deceased; Mrs. Frank Gill of Lander and Mrs. Grace Campbell, sisters of deceased. One other brother and a sister were unable to attend the funeral.

"Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Davis Mortuary of this city."

Ernest Richter went down to Kansas as the first of the week, where he will consult physicians regarding the condition of his health. His many friends in this city and county hope that the trip will be beneficial.

GREEN BERET CLUB HAS LARGE MEETING ON WED. EVENING

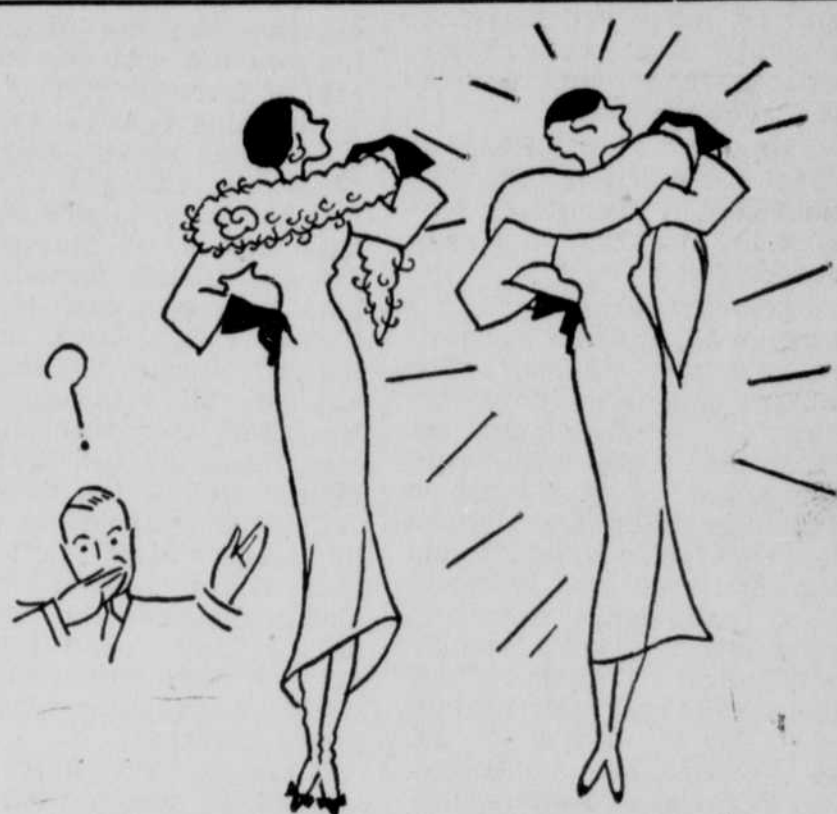

The members of the Green Beret Club held a large and enthusiastic meeting at the K. C. Hall last evening where arrangements were completed for the Free Day Celebration to be held in this city on Wednesday, October 12th. The committees reported progress that had been made on the program and said that it would be completed today. It was also announced that a booster trip would be made next week, the definite date not as yet decided. Peter Duffy has been appointed chairman of the booster trip and a definite date will be selected for the trip before the end of the week. It is hoped that there will be at least seventy-five cars on this trip and every business man that can possibly get away should make the trip. The Atkinson, Ewing and O'Neill bands will be present and plenty of music is assured for the day.

Plan now to be in O'Neill on October 12th and enjoy the hospitality of this city and see the entertainment put on for you enjoyment.

Lloyd Gillespie, who has been attending federal court at Norfolk for the past two weeks as a juror, came home Wednesday, having been excused until next week. He said that Oscar Dixon of this city, who was in court there charged with the sale of intoxicating liquor, plead guilty to the charge and was fined $200 and in default of payment was committed to the Madison county jail. A Mrs. Hanson, who gave her address as O'Neill, was sentenced to jail for sixty days on the charge of violating the national prohibition act.

Pete Duffy, Pat Harty, Howard Bauman, William and Clinton Gatz, George Bowen, Phil Ziemer and Mr. and Mrs. Abe Saunto went down to Sioux City this afternoon to take in the Roosevelt meeting there this evening. The boys are planning on returning tonight on the special train that leaves there at 10 p. m.

Mrs. George Agnes and Mrs. Ben Grady entertained forty ladies with dinner and cards at the Golden Hotel last Tuesday evening. Mrs. J. A. Donohoe won the first prize for high score. Mrs. L. A. Burgess and Mrs. D. H. Clauson won the other prizes.
