

HOLT COUNTY BAR HOLDS MEETING AT COURT HOUSE

was a kindly, friendly soul; his energy and ability were always marshalled, whether at the bar or in assembly, on behalf of the weak or in the cause of friendship. His friends were many; his kindly benefactions numerous. He had no enemies. A kindly, lovable, sincere man is gone. He is missed at the bar.

THEFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, Honorable Robert R. Dickson, Judge, and the Bar of the Fifteenth Judicial District, do hereby adopt this resolution as a symbol of our bereavement in the death of John H. Meredith, and.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, as a further mark of our affection, that we petition the Court to make and enter an Order spreading this resolution upon the Journal in this said Court in which the deceased labored for so many years.

JULIUS D. CRONIN,
Chairman.

District court then adjourned.

When the meeting was called to order the following members were present; William Ely, J. Baker and George Farham, Ainsworth; George Greenmyre, Springview; L. G. Nelson, Bassett; B. E. Boyles, Stuart; W. T. Wills, W. P. Whitla, W. P. Wills, John Davies, W. L. Brennan and A. B. Wallace, Butte; D. R. Mounts, Atkinson; J. A. Donohoe, J. J. Harrington, G. M. Harrington, W. J. Hammond, H. M. Uttley, Judge R. R. Dickson, J. D. Cronin, Judge C. J. Malone and Emmet Harmon, O'Neill.

An interesting session of the bar association was then held. Constitution and by laws for the government of the organization were then adopted.

The following officers were then elected for the ensuing year; J. A. Donohoe, O'Neill, president; W. T. Wills, Butte, vice president; L. G. Nelson, Bassett, secretary and treasurer. An executive board to consist of the above officers and William M. Ely of Ainsworth, were then selected.

The Association decided that they would meet four times a year, the date and place of meeting to be selected by the executive board.

The meeting was brought to a close with a banquet at the Golden Hotel that evening at 8 o'clock. J. A. Donohoe presided as toastmaster.

An address of welcome was delivered to the visiting members of the bar by Judge R. R. Dickson which was responded to by George Farnham of Ainsworth.

Short talks on the hopes and ambitions of the members of the bar were delivered by W. T. Wills, of Butte, and George Greenmyre, of Springview, which were very well received by the members of the profession present.

MRS. C. E. DOWNEY

Mrs. C. E. Downey died at her home in Independence, Mo., on Tuesday, February 7, 1932, after an illness of about ten days. The funeral was held last Thursday, burial in Independence in the family lot.

Minnie M. Bailus was born at Toledo, Ohio, on May 13, 1869. In the spring of 1885 she came to this county with her father, Horace Bailus, and he started a newspaper at Star, Nebr., on the old Downey homestead, where the Star postoffice was then located, about one mile from the present Star office. Mr. Bailus ran a paper there for several months and then went to Atkinson where he was also engaged in the newspaper business.

In 1886 she was united in marriage to Charles E. Downey at Running Water, South Dakota, coming back to Star where they lived for several years, then moving to this city where the family resided until 1926 when they moved to Independence, Mo., where she resided up to the time of her death.

Deceased leaves her husband and seven children to mourn the passing of a kind and loving wife and mother. The children are: Sumner and Lee, of O'Neill; Mrs. Mildred Coleman, Omaha; Mrs. Freida Pound, Blair; Randall, Billings, Mont.; Maurice, Omaha, and Artis, Los Angeles, Cal. She also leaves one step-sister, Edna Bailus, of Los Angeles and a step brother, Edwin Bailus, of Billings, Mont., eight grandchildren and three great grandchildren. All of her children, except Sumner and Randall were in attendance at the funeral.

visited with Mrs. Keeney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Seger. They returned Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Beckwith entertained the following guests at a delicious Sunday dinner: Mrs. Ernest Garvin and son, Rex; Fred Beckwith, Rex and Dean Beckwith; Mr. and Mrs. Verne Beckwith; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Beckwith and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beckwith and children. Charles and Edward Winkler spent Monday hunting rabbits.

Mail carrier Floyd Vequest was unable to make the entire route last week on account of the bad roads. Floyd carries mail on the star route northwest of O'Neill.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ernst and daughter, and Mrs. William Schmohr and children, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lorenz and son called at Guy Beckwith's Saturday evening. The ladies spent the evening making flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lorenz and son and Verne Stahley visited at the John Kee home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schmohr and children visited at John Schmohr's Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ernst visited at the Fred Lorenz home Sunday afternoon. The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Coday burned to the ground Sunday evening. The Coday family live about three miles south of Emmet.

IN DISTRICT COURT

The Bazelman Lumber Company has filed an action in the district court against John Sullivan to collect on a note for $1,340 given on April 5, 1930. They claim there is a balance due on the note of $1,619.17.

The case of A. W. Miller vs. Rosa Johns Wheeler, et al. has been filed in the district court. According to the petition the plaintiff and several other defendants are the owners in fee simple of an undivided one twenty-sixth of the estate of the late Willard Wheeler and that the defendant, Rosa Johns Wheeler is the owner in fee simple of one half of said estate. That Willard Wheeler died possessed of title to the following real estate: Lots 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 8, block 34, in Kimball and Blair's addition to the city of Atkinson, also lots 9, 10, in block 35, in the same addition; and lot 6, the east 30 feet of lot 7, 8, except the 16 inches back from the front west end and 50 feet now occupied by the wall of the Security State bank on lot 8 and a strip on lot 9, block 6, south of lot 8 and adjoining lot 8 from 50 feet back from the west end front to the back of said lot, 3 feet wide and a strip 7 inches wide from lot 7 back from the west end 70 feet along the brick wall of The First National bank, in block 6 of the original town of Atkinson, Nebraska. A partition of the estate is asked for.

The Norfolk Building and Loan Association has filed suit to foreclose a mortgage given by Sidney E. Adrain et al., on lot 14, block 5, in the village of Ewing. The petition alleges that they defaulted in the payment of the taxes due on the land for the year 1930 and that same had to be paid by the plaintiff. They asked that an accounting be had to determine the amount due and that if same is not paid within twenty days that the same be sold to satisfy the amount found due.

The Nebraska Central Building and Loan association has filed suit against Emma B. McNally, et al., to foreclose a mortgage given on July 23, 1931, for $1,500 on lots 9, 10, in block 2, in the original town of O'Neill, Nebr. They allege that default has been made in the payment of the 1931 taxes due on the property and that there is now due on said mortgage the sum of $1,381.26.

CLARA DOWLING VEACH

San Jose, Calif.

Editor Frontier:

On Sunday, February 5, 1932, Mrs. Clara Dowling Veach passed away at the home of her daughter, Doris, in San Francisco, and was buried in one of the beautiful cemeteries of that city on February 8, surrounded by a host of friends from many cities in central California. A large delegation of the Daughters of Veterans of the Civil War escorted the body to its last resting place.

Mrs. Veach was well known in Atkinson and O'Neill and through Holt county, as Clara Dowling, she having moved to Atkinson with her father and mother, the late Thomas Dowling, having arrived there in the 80's from Hamilton, Illinois, where she was born March 10, 1869.

Mrs. Veach taught school in various parts of Holt county and other sections of the state for a number of years where her genial disposition and her great ability to teach made her one of the most popular educators in the state. Many pupils she taught are now filling high positions throughout the United States.

It was while teaching at Rushville, Nebr., that she met and married Will Veach in 1899, and later moved to Sheridan, Wyo., where Mr. Veach was elected sheriff and later passed away in the discharge of his official duties.

Two daughters were born to them, Mabel, now Mrs. James Graham, of Oakland, Calif., and Doris Edgerton, of San Francisco, both daughters now having daughters of their own.

Mrs. Clara Dowling Veach moved to California in 1921 and there renewed acquaintances with several of her former Nebraska friends and pupils. There were several Nebraskans present at the funeral services.

In addition to her two daughters, she leaves to mourn her passing, a brother, Ed. Dowling of Lincoln, Nebraska, and Frank Dowling, of Oregon City, Oregon.

There are many in Atkinson and O'Neill who will remember Clara Dowling and her sister Anna, who passed away a few years ago in Portland, Oregon, and will recall the pleasant parties had at the Dowling residence.

FIRE AT PAGE

Page Reporter. Fire Monday morning burned to the ground the carpenter shop belonging to Floyd Wertz. The fire was discovered about one o'clock. The loss was estimated by Mr. Wertz to be around $1,000.00 He said he had some insurance but did not know how much as the policy burned in the fire.

The blaze was discovered first by Eddie Rakow, who was unable to sound the alarm, due to the fact that the rope to the little bell had worked loose and had blown to the top of the roof of the Smith Hardware store, where the bell is mounted.

Mrs. Wertz was the next to discover the fire and notified central, who proceeded to give the alarm by phone. This caused considerable delay between the time the fire was discovered and the time firemen arrived on the scene.

At that time in the morning there was hardly any wind and none of the nearby buildings caught fire with the exception of Mr. Wertz's house, which caught on the roof, but was immediately extinguished.

CHURCH NOTES

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Sunday School 10:00—Mr. George C. Robertson, superintendent.

Morning Worship 11:00—"Fulfilling Not Destroying."

Young People's C. E. Meeting 6:45. Evening Service 7:30. This will be a gospel meeting with gospel singing and a gospel message. We invite you. H. D. Johnson, Pastor.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Services next Sunday as follows:
Sunday School at 10:00 A. M.
Morning Worship at 11:00 A. M.
Epworth League at 6:30 P. M.
Evening Worship at 7:30 P. M.

A very cordial invitation is extended to any who have no church home.

We cannot stress too much the importance of regularity in our Sunday school and church attendance. We especially covet the regular attendance of the children. At the best the small amount of time allowed for Bible study is insufficient. To miss these very brief periods discounts much of the good done. There is one way to insure the presence of your children every week, that is, make a habit of attendance yourself. We have classes for adults and will make any provision necessary to meet the demand if other classes are needed. May we look for you next Sunday?

F. J. Aucock, Pastor.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING INCREASED SALES 35 PCT.

The Paris Medicine Co. of St. Louis, manufacturer of drug specialties, increased sales 35 per cent during the last six months of 1932 by using a larger amount of newspaper advertising. Harry B. Goldsmith, vice president, announced Monday. Sales for the first 22 days of January were 107 per cent ahead of the same period a year ago.

Instead of marking time until conditions improved, the company decided upon a course of vigorous advertising. Mr. Goldsmith said, with the result that sales mounted steadily, while many other companies were complaining of small volume.

HOUSE ON CODAY FARM NEAR EMMET BURNS

James Coday was down from Emmet last Tuesday and informed us that his home south of Emmet burned to the ground last Monday morning, about 1, a. m. Mr. Coday said that the family was awakened by the smell of smoke and they got the children out of bed and downstairs, dressed and then over to his neighbors, Joe Crawford. He said that Mr. Crawford and his two sons came over and they helped them get some of the furniture out of the living room, but that practically all the furniture in the kitchen, and dining room, as well as the bed clothing and nearly all their personal effects were destroyed as the fire had gained such headway that there was no time to get the furniture or clothing out of the house. Mr. Coday says that his loss was only partially covered by insurance. This is a severe loss to Mr. Coday, especially in these kind of times, and his many friends sympathize with him and his family in their misfortune.

months will have a helpful effect on business in the future.

Last summer the country underwent a time of financial liquidation with strengthening of our financial structure. This was followed by a similar period of commodity liquidation, which seems now coming to an end. The next step will doubtless be further commercial liquidation and readjustment to put many of our industries on a basis to show earnings in normal times.

Since 1929 there has been a decline in foreign markets for American Agricultural products but last year the decline showed a tendency to slacken. It is believed that once the problems of disturbed monetary systems and trade barriers are partially settled, the trend will be reversed and larger quantities of our farm products will reach foreign lands.

Domestic demand for products is naturally awaiting industrial recovery. Even a slight change for the better in business generally, should cause marked improvement in farm markets.
