

TAX ON WHEAT WILL SOON GO INTO EFFECT

are intended to provide the farmer with the pre-war "parity" price for that portion of his crop which is to be domestically consumed.

The act sets as its goal the return of farm purchasing power to the average for the 1909-1914 period. Thus, to attain "parity" the price of wheat must bear the same relationship to the price of goods farmers buy as the price of wheat bore to these goods in the pre-war period.

Just now the parity price on wheat would be approximately 89 cents a bushel while the farm price is reckoned at about 59 cents, leaving the difference of 30 cents as the amount Wallace can levy as a tax.

If wheat prices fall before the tax goes into effect the maximum Wallace could levy might be more than 30 cents. He expects to put the tax into effect between July 1 and July 15.

Wallace estimated that not more than two cents a bushel would be required to meet all administrative costs. Wallace and Brand both expressed confidence that the allotment plan could be successfully policed by farmers themselves and through their own county organizations which will be set up under the direction of Prof. M. L. Wilson of Montana, an author of the allotment plan, and the chief of wheat production under Wallace.

Brand said lists of wheat allotments for every farmer would be published in county newspapers, and that "anyone varying widely from their averages in the past in the amount they will be authorized to grow under their contract, will certainly be crucified."

After the plan has been in use during the next two years, Wallace said, it would either be abandoned or a new plan put into effect. The plan will not be employed in counties with production of less than about 150,000 bushels annually. There are about 1,200,000 wheat farmers in the nation, most of whom will be eligible to participate in the program.

LINCOLN CITY COUNCIL VOTES 3 TO 2 FOR BEER

The Lincoln city council backed up on the beer question and on Wednesday voted three to two to legalize the sale of beer in that city on and after August 10th.

Beer does not become legal in Nebraska until Aug. 10, and the councilmen previously had called a special election for July 25 to let the people in the old home of William Jennings Bryan and other apostles of prohibition, make the decision. But Wednesday Mayor Fleming broke a deadlock on a vote which called for the election and authorized the council to license the sale of 3.2 beer.

Prohibitionists had joined beer advocates in opposing the referendum, admitting they preferred to "save their fire" for defense of the Eighteenth amendment, which will be put to a vote in Nebraska in November, 1934, along with constitutional state prohibition.

The council has been the center of a controversy over beer for nearly two months. Prohibitionists urged it be kept out of Lincoln on account of the state university and other educational institutions while others argued it would be better to sell it under supervision in the city than on the borders of the capital city.

The city's beer troubles are not over. Councilmen now face a dispute over regulations with a ban on Sunday sales and other limitations advocated by part of the council.

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES ARE BEING RELEASED

More than 7,000 workers have been told they will get no more pay from the federal government, but the expense-cutting goes on.

There will be further dismissals. When all have been made the administration expects that around half a billion dollars will have been lopped off payrolls alone in the attempt to reduce expenditures on ordinary operations a billion dollars a year. Reductions in veterans' costs and incidentals will provide the balance of the billion.

New jobs are being given under the emergency programs—farm relief, public works and the like. But many of these new employees will work in the field, possibly most of them, and not in Washington.

So far the toll has been about this: Treasury department, including 1,650 from the coast guard, 2,950; justice, including 1,300 from the prohibition bureau, 1,635; agriculture 656; commerce 626; navy 600; state; 395 and interior, 97.

Hundreds have been put on payless furloughs, while dismissal plans of the commerce, agriculture and postoffice departments are not complete.

BOOTLEGGERS LOSE STOCK

The grapevine telegraph line reports that a man outside the boundaries of this county took a load of 3.2 to Atkins the day before the Fourth, intending to peddle it there that day and clean up a little "Mazuma" to lay aside for a rainy day. He stored the beverage in an enclosed yard there and went to bed dreaming of the many shining "Bucks" that would roll into his pocket from this forbidden beverage the next day. But he had a rude awakening the next morning. When he went to the place where he had stored the fifty cases the truck was there, but like Mother Hubbard's cupboard, it was empty. The beverage had disappeared and he was left to mourn on "man's inhumanity to man."

BRIEFLY STATED

Edward Adams was up from Chambers Wednesday.

Merlyn Hough came up from Norfolk last Friday for a days visit with relatives here.

Attorney Pat Barrett, of Spaulding, was visiting relatives in this vicinity the first of the week.

Most Americans Following a Sport of Some Kind At This Time of Year

Is Golf Taking The Place of Baseball as America's National Sport?

THIS is the time when the week-end, and days during the week as well, sees millions of golfers on links all over the country, hundreds of thousands of tennis players on clay and turf courts, hundreds of thousands of boys and young men playing baseball, millions at beaches, at mountain resorts and at summer places on lakes and rivers.

No other nationality delights in sports more than does the American. He has been taught that moderate exercise is helpful in keeping fit and then, too, he plays his golf, or tennis or baseball, because he gets a lot of fun out of it.

Every American who plays golf or tennis is ambitious to play well. To play well he must feel fit. Millions of Americans have learned that the eating of three cakes of fresh yeast a day is genuinely helpful in keeping at top form.

Golf is played in every state in the Union, in some states all the year round. Tennis is played in every state, in some states during the entire twelve months. Tennis is becoming increasingly popular. Baseball, of course, is still the national game but in urban centers lack of places where the game can be played, plus the cost of equipment, is turning many youngsters to other sports.

Only a limited number of states enjoy ocean swimming but every state has a lake or a river or an old swimmin' hole of some kind. The use of row-boats and canoes is common everywhere. Outdoor handball is becoming more popular. Badminton, the shuttlecock game which originated in India and was taken to England, is finding more and more followers. It can be played out-of-doors as well as indoors.

Games once known to steamer decks only are finding their way ashore. Shuffle-board and deck tennis are two games becoming increasingly popular in various parts of the country.

The American must have his sports, and this is the time of year to enjoy them with a healthy body.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Curtis and Robert Britell and daughter, Marjorie, drove over to Swan Lake last Friday. They were met at Swan Lake by relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis from Burwell and she accompanied them back home for a visit of a couple of weeks, the others returning home that evening.

It was very quiet in O'Neill last Tuesday. The only excitement here was at the Country Club where a genuine celebration was put on by the members for their benefit and that of their families. Large delegations from this city attended the celebrations at Atkinson, Chambers, Lynch and Oak View Park and all claimed to have had a splendid time and good crowds at every one of the celebrations.

Last Saturday Mrs. A. E. McCauley paid into the office of the clerk of the district court the fine that was imposed on Arthur E. McCauley, who was convicted of Jury bribing a little over a year ago and who for the past six months has been serving his sentence in the Holt county jail, when he was not in custody elsewhere. The fine was $250 and the costs amounted to $102.55 so she paid into court the sum of $352.65.

July started in as if it was going to try and beat the record for the month of June in the heat line. Last Saturday, the first day of the month, the mercury reached 100 degrees. It was a little cooler Sunday, the mercury touching 97 that day. On Monday it dropped to 93 degrees and on Tuesday it climbed again to 96 degrees, which is very hot weather in any man's country. Wednesday it climbed back to 98.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kersbrook drove to Osmond Tuesday morning and spent the Fourth with relatives in that city. They had a family reunion at the Kratovil home that day that was attended by 59 people, all relatives. John says they had a real Fourth of July celebration, including all kinds of games and fireworks in the evening, and was one of the most enjoyable reunions he ever attended, and that they had food enough there to feed an army.

Mrs. L. G. Gillespie leaves Sunday for Grand Island where she will board a Union Pacific train for Portland, Oregon, where she will spend a couple of weeks visiting her brother and sisters who live in that vicinity. From Portland she will go to Cottage Grove, Oregon, where she will visit an aunt of Mr. Gillespie. From Cottage Grove she will go to Ponomo, Calif., where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Eldon Wood, and with other relatives in that vicinity. She expects to be gone about four months.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Moss and Miss Grace Hamond returned last Sunday evening from a ten day fishing trip in Northern Minnesota. They say they had a delightful time and lots of good fishing. Miss Hammond returned to Omaha Tuesday, and Thursday's Omaha Bee contained the following notice of her first fishing trip:

"Miss Mae Hammond, secretary to Federal Judge J. A. Donohoe, got the thrill of her life during her Fourth of July vacation when a huge—take her word for it—fish which she hooked at Park Rapids, Minn., got away, taking her pole, reel and line along. It was her first fishing trip, she said, but not he last."

"FATHERS" FATHERS

A NEW ONE
Bindery Talk: A recent invention by Wendall Fathers, famed for motor car attachments, is the Oral Speedometer which operates with a phonographic attachment.

At 25 miles it remarks:
"The City speed limit has been passed. Is there a motor cycle policeman behind you?"

At 35 miles:
"Too fast for city driving. We hope you are now in the country."

At 45 miles:
"Your car is still under control but watch the car behind the car ahead of you."

At 50 miles:
"Your responsibility is increasing. Keep your eyes on the road."

At 60 miles:
"Are your insurance premiums paid to date?"

At 70 miles:
"You drive—this attachment will do the praying."

At 80 miles:
"Probably someone will have this car repaired. If so, we thank you for the sale of another speedometer to replace this one which in a few moments is going to hell along with you."

Bindery Talk: Talkative Lady—A big man like you might be better occupied than in cruelly catching little fish.

Angler—Perhaps you're right. But if this fish had kept his mouth shut he wouldn't be here.
