HOLT COUNTY FARM BUREAU NOTES

Office—County Court House
Office Days—Wednesday and Saturday Afternoons

Trench Silos.

A trench silo is well adapted to emergency use because it can be quickly constructed when a corn crop is drying up or has been frosted before maturity. The tools and equipment necessary to construct one may be found on most every farm. One man with a plow, slip scraper and a spade could do the job if the time element were not important. Two men and two teams can work to good advantage, one plowing while the other runs the scraper. A crew of three men, using four horses on a Fresno and two on the plow also make a good working unit. The four horses on a Fresno will move big loads of dirt. The extra man holds the plow or scraper or trim up the side walls with a spade during spare moments.

Where several neighbors contemplate digging silos it will pay to pool equipment and operate on a larger scale. For speed and ease of operation a crew of three men operating two light tractors, two 5 or 6 foot Fresnos, one two-bottom plow and a 6 foot wheel road grader will usually make excellent headway unless the ground is too hard. For extremely hard ground it may be necessary to use a road plow or even resort to explosives.

Summer Drinks.

Cold drinks are some of the most popular "coolers" in hot weather, and for this type of refreshment the extension service suggests the recipe for chocolate malted milk. Boil together 1 cup sugar, ½ cup water and 1 square chocolate to make a heavy syrup. Put 3 tablespoons malted milk in a glass. Add enough hot water to dissolve the malted milk. Add 2 tablespoons chocolate syrup and beat well with an egg beater. Fill glass with cold milk and beat again. If fresh milk is not available cold water may be used, but, of course, it is not as good as milk nor as nutritious. Ice cream beaten into the drink improves it.

Three times he had to get the doctor after midnight

"It took only a few days without a telephone to awaken us to the necessity of having one," said the father of three small children.

"Three times I had to go for a doctor after midnight . . . each trip meant a loss of vital minutes. We just could not get along without a telephone."

Then he had a Telephone installed

A single call may be worth more than telephone service costs in many years.
