Japan thinks that she is the regularly appointed guardian of China. Mussolini is beginning to believe he is the guardian of East Africa. The question is whether they will let the League of Nations be even a step-mother.

It is the custom now to laugh at the bathing suits worn 30 years ago, but if the present trend keeps up, in thirty years there won't be any bathing suits to laugh at.

Nebraska Corn-Hog Committeemen Meet Held At Grand Island

Claude R. Wickard, in a meeting with corn-hog allotment committeemen from 82 of the 84 associations in Nebraska, at Grand Island last week, proved to everyone's satisfaction that he is a practical farmer with the interest of the farmers at heart. In his remarks on the program he gave his experiences in planting corn and raising hogs in a way which everyone understood. He used several homely examples in giving his reasons for sticking to certain rulings in the corn-hog program.

In order to plant a straight row of corn, Wickard said, a man must sight down the tongue of the planter toward some distant object and keep his eye on that object as he drives thru the field. If he expects the row to be straight, he cannot watch all the little crooks and turns of the marker which he is following. The same is true of the corn-hog program. There are certain important objectives set up and the corn-hog section, state organization, and county allotment committees must keep their eye on the final objective rather than pay too much attention to all of the individual cases that may come up thru the year.

Four or five years ago, Wickard said, he found himself in his Indiana farm with nothing to turn to which seemed to indicate a profit. In order to get enough money to pay the taxes and other farm expenses, he was obliged to increase his production to the maximum and then sell exactly the same crop at a lower price. Nebraska farmers assured him that they found themselves in exactly the same position a few years ago.

The present corn-hog program will probably not continue into the future in exactly the same form as it is now, but farmers should maintain an interest in the problems they have from year to year and insist that the government recognize them in its attempt to help people recover from the depression.

The Nebraska meeting, Wickard said, was the largest of its kind that he had ever attended. He said he was very favorably impressed with the interest and the attitude of the committeemen who met with him to talk over the present problems.

State House Shorts

The state highway department has just awarded 81 maintenance gravel contracts totaling $267,092.

As a result of the reevaluation of the estate of Former Senator Hitchcock, deceased, of Omaha, the State of Nebraska is the richer by $76,343. This additional inheritance tax brings the total tax paid to the state to $164,391, or the largest inheritance tax ever received by the state of Nebraska. The previous largest estate was that of Emil T. Leflang, of Omaha, which paid $18,013 four years ago.

On account of the high price of feed a good many Holt county farmers are purchasing tractors to take the place of the horses on the farms. They figure that on account of the present high prices of horses, grain and hay, that they can do their farm work more economically with tractors than they can with horses.

J. T. Pierce, who has edited the Chambers Sun for the past six months, is turning the plant back to the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Hammer at the end of this month and will return to his former home at Hastings. Mr. Pierce made a good lively paper of the Sun and he will be missed from the business ranks of our southern city.

A large men's meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church next Monday night, April 1. A fine program is being planned and men from Atkinson, Stuart and Chambers will be present. Dr. Hunter, of Lincoln, will be the guest speaker. Following the program, the local men will serve light refreshments. It is expected that over 100 men will attend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lundgren moved their household goods to O'Neill last Friday afternoon, and will hereafter make their home in that town, where Mr. Lundgren has an interest in the Miller Bros. Chevrolet company. A big furniture van from Omaha took all of their goods in one load. Mr. and Mrs. Lundgren will be missed by many friends in this city.—Valentine Republican.

The funeral services for Phillip Sheridan Simmons were held in the Presbyterian church last Friday morning, Rev. H. D. Johnson officiating. The funeral was a large one, the people of the city turning out very liberally for the last rites of this old time pioneer. A brother of "Sherd's" from Denver was present at the funeral, a sister living in South Dakota being unable to attend on account of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Plum and daughter, Charlotte, of Sheridan, Wyo., arrived last Monday for a short visit at the home of Mrs. Plum's parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Carter. How to tell one
Gasoline from another

You don't have to be a chemist to know whether you're getting what you pay for when you buy gasoline. On every Standard Red Crown pump there's a small, square metal sign. That sign, required by law, is your guarantee that Standard Red Crown, the Live Power gasoline, contains Tetraethyl, the most valuable anti-knock fluid known—the very same fluid which (in larger quantity) goes into premium-priced gasoline.

So look for that Tetraethyl sign! It will remind you that Standard is able to give you more for your money—and DOES!
