O'NEILL MERCHANT IS DEAD FOLLOWING A HEART ATTACK

Ben Grady Is Stricken Wednesday Morning. Funeral Will Be Held Here Friday.

Ben J. Grady died at his home in this city Wednesday morning about 5 o'clock, of a heart attack, at the age of 48 years, 8 months and 20 days. The funeral will be held from the Catholic church in this city Friday morning at 9 o'clock and interment in Calvary cemetery.

Ben Grady had been feeling bad most of the summer and a little over two months ago he went to Denver to be checked over in the Veterans hospital there. He had a brother and three sisters living in Denver, so he selected that city. After his arrival in the hospital in Denver he was informed that he was suffering from heart trouble. He entered the hospital for treatment and was there for seven weeks. He came home a couple of weeks ago and while he was very thin he said that he was feeling fine and felt that the bracing air of this section would do wonders toward his recovery as he was determined to take things easy for a time. He was down town Tuesday afternoon and we had quite a visit with him. He said that he was feeling good and thought he was getting much stronger. He did not try to get around very much, putting in most of his time at home, but figured that in a very short time he would be back on the job.

That evening he and Mrs. Grady visited the home of his sister, Mrs. H. J. Hammond and they were there until nearly midnight and he was feeling unusually good. Upon returning home he went to bed and was in fine spirits. Mrs. Grady was awakened by a short spell of coughing by her husband. She saw at once that he appeared to be in distress and she called a physician and her brother, P. C. Donohoe and her brother-in-law, H. J. Hammond. When they reached the home Ben had passed away.

Ben Grady was born in O'Neill on March 11, 1889. His entire life was spent in this city. He attended the O'Neill public schools and at an early age entered the employment of P. J. McManus and worked in the McManus grocery and dry goods departments for about six years, or until early in 1916. In that year he entered the shoe business with John C. Schmeler, in the building now occupied by Abe Saunto. They were in business there when the U. S. entered the World War and Ben went into the army and was sent to Camp Funston, Kansas. After he left Mr. Schmeler continued the business until he was called to the colors and then they sold out to Arthur Ryan who operated it for a few years. Mr. Grady's service in the army was spent at Camp Funston where he was one of the drill masters for the raw recruits. He was in the service about one year. At the conclusion of the war he came home.

In January, 1919, he purchased the grocery store of R. R. Morrison and has successfully operated the business up to the time of his death.

On October 17, 1921, he was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Donohoe who survives. He is also survived by three brothers and three sisters. They are Henry Grady of this city; John, on the west coast, and Thomas, of Denver, Colorado. The sisters are, Mayme, Rose and Catherine, of Denver. All of his sisters and his brother from Denver are coming for the funeral.

Ben Grady was a genial and companionable man and had a host of friends in this city and county. He was a good citizen and always willing to do his share to advance the interests of this city and its residents. His sudden death, in the very prime of life, was a shock to the residents of the city, many of whom he had visited with the afternoon before and brought to each one the thought that we know not when the call will come.

The Frontier desires to join the many friends of the family in this city and elsewhere in extending to the bereaved widow and the other relatives its sincere sympathy in their hour of sorrow.

LEO BAZELMAN IS KILLED INSTANTLY WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Struck By Car Last Friday Evening While Walking Toward Town On Highway No. 281.

Last Friday night about 9:30 while walking along the highway on his way to town Leo Bazelman was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Mildred Davis and instantly killed. The accident happened on Highway 281 between the two river bridges south of this city.

John Vandersnick, of Stafford, an uncle of Leo's, was in the city Friday and started home about 8 o'clock. The road was very slippery that evening and he skidded into the ditch near the south river bridge. He came back up town and wanted Leo to go down and start his car. Leo objected, saying it was too mean a night to be out and suggested that they wait until morning. But he persisted and finally Leo, accompanied by his cousin, Bernard Bazelman and his uncle they drove out the highway to see about his uncle's car. The road was very slippery and they skidded around and finally went off the grade and the boys left the car and started back town on foot. Bernard was ahead, running as he was without a coat and it was cold. They were moving along the highway rapidly, Bernard ahead and close behind Leo. His uncle said that he could not travel that fast and for him to wait, so Leo slowed up to permit him to catch up. Before he was able to do so, however, Mrs. Davis came along on her way to work in the telephone office and she turned out to pass Vandersnick and hit Leo who was a short distance ahead of him. He was struck with terrific force, having an arm and a leg broken and a back abrasion on the back of his head. Mrs. Davis stopped the car and attempted to get Leo into the car with the assistance of Vandersnick, but they were unable to do so, so she left them and came into town and notified Dr. J. P. Brown and the local officials. Dr. Brown went at once to the scene of the accident, being the first one there, but Leo had died, and it is his opinion that he was killed instantly. Chief Calkins arrived there a few moments after Dr. Brown and the ambulance was called and the body taken to Biglin's.

Driving on oil roads is always hazardous at night, as the visibility on such roads is very poor, it being especially so last Friday night on account of the icy condition of the road. The accident is deplorable as is always the snuffing out of the life of a young and ambitious young man. The shock too suffered by the driver of the one that will take some time to recover from. She went to pieces right after reporting the accident and had to be attended by a physician, being on the verge of a nervous collapse.

Leo Bazelman was born in this city on August 30, 1900, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bazelman. He was a resident of the city all his life and followed the vocation of an automobile mechanic and it is claimed for him that he was very thorough in his work and possibly better posted on the intricacies of a car than any other auto mechanic in the city. He never married and made his home with his parents.

He is survived by his parents, two brothers and three sisters, who are left to mourn the tragic death of an affectionate son and brother. His brothers are, Joseph and Francis of this city. The sisters, Mrs. Marie Kallhoff, of Ewing; Mrs. Mira Psotta of Pilger; Mrs. Frank Clements, of O'Neill.

The funeral was held last Sunday morning at 11:30 from St. Patrick's Catholic church, Rev. Walter Flynn officiating and burial in Calvary cemetery.

The Frontier joins the many friends of the family in extending condolence to the bereaved relatives in their hour of sorrow.

O'Neill High Football Squad Beats Atkinson In Turkey Day Game

Closing a season marred by only one defeat, the O'Neill high school football team smothered Atkinson with a 33 to 0 defeat on the home sod before a good crowd here Thanksgiving day. O'Neill scored almost at will, and when they approached pay dirt it was not so much a question of will they make it as how many downs will it take.

Hunt and Lewis crashed the line time and again for gains of 10 to 20 yards on a single play. The Atkinson defensive seeming powerless to stop the charges. Most of O'Neill's rushes were stopped by the Atkinson secondary.

The orange jerseyed boys from the west made no attempt at an offensive until late in the second quarter when they were able to make a first down on the O'Neill forty-five yard line by a five yard plunge and a completed pass. Each time before that they chose to punt as soon as they received possession of the ball.

O'Neill scored late in the first quarter after a 90 yard march down the field. The extra point was added by running the ball over. They scored again in the second after Smith got away for a 40 yard gain and Hunt and Lewis made the remaining 30 yards in two line smashes. Lewis kicked the extra point making it 14 to 0 at the half.

In the second quarter Atkinson tightened up a bit and took the ball on downs deep in their own territory. They were able to make two first downs before their offensive broke and O'Neill was on the way to its second touchdown.

In the third period with the aid of completed passes and two 15 yard penalties against O'Neill the Bearcats were able to advance to the two yard stripe, but the threat was stopped cold and O'Neill took the ball on downs. From their they began another march down the field that netted another touchdown. The kick for extra point was short.

Atkinson's second bid in the third quarter came when their left end sneaked to the side of the field alone and was in the clear for a pass. The pass was perfect but it bounced off the receiver's chest and the game went into the final quarter O'Neill 20, Atkinson 0.

Weakening under the terrific pressure the Bearcats permitted two touchdowns in the final period. On the first touchdown the try for point was good but O'Neill was off-side and the play was called back. At the longer distance an attempted place kick failed.

O'Neill's final touchdown came late in the game after a series of line plunges that made first downs rapidly. The extra point was added when Smith ran the ball over making it 33 for O'Neill, and Atkinson 0.

Judge Dickson and Reporter McElhanev drove down to Neligh last Monday morning to hold a term of district court, on account of the illness of one of the Judges of that district. The term did not amount to much and they transacted all the business and returned home that night.

ELECTRIC LANTERN WITH TWO LIGHTS IS FREE TO READERS

All Paid In Advance Subscribers Are Offered This Good Will Gift Absolutely Free.

Readers are invited to turn to page 3 of this issue where will be found our large ad explaining the new plan for Frontier subscribers. A feature of this new plan is that all paid-in-advance subscribers are offered a valuable goodwill gift without being required to pay an additional year's subscription to get it. This is something new in the relations of this newspaper with its subscribers, and in fact, is a radically new departure from the conventional policy of newspapers generally.

As will be seen in our ad, any person who is at the present time a paid-in-advance subscriber to The Frontier may obtain a fine Kwik Lite all-purpose electric lantern, merely by coming in and asking for it. There are no "ifs" or "ands" to the offer. No subscriptions to buy or sell or any contest to win or numbers to draw. As a token of goodwill to our paid subscribers whose loyalty we deeply appreciate, we are presenting the gift with the hope that it will prove useful and serve to remind its owner of our appreciation of his patronage.

The lantern which each paid subscriber may thus obtain is the regular one dollar Kwik Lite Two-Way model. It has never been sold at retail at a price of less than one dollar, less batteries and bulbs. The Frontier does not furnish free batteries and bulbs with this offer. Each paid subscriber who wishes to receive a free lantern is required to pay for his own batteries and bulbs.

At the same time The Frontier is making an additional offer as a premium deal and is open to any person, subscriber or non-subscriber, who wishes to take advantage of it. According to the terms of our premium offer we will give away one complete set of Kwik Lite batteries and bulbs with each subscription payment of $2.00 that we receive. This set of accessories has a retail value of 40 cents per set.

It makes no difference whether the subscription received is a new or renewal subscription, nor indeed, whether one or more year's subscription is paid. With each year's subscription, the person paying it will receive one set of free accessories.

Thus it will be seen that any one who is not now a subscriber to The Frontier will, if he pays a one year's subscription to our newspaper, receives a free lantern as all paid subscribers receive and will receive in addition a set of free accessories for his lantern.

The Frontier wishes to emphasize the fact that the New plan is a permanent policy with the newspaper. While we will appreciate having our subscribers come in and get their lantern as soon as convenient, it is our intention to have lanterns in stock at all times so that whether you come now or months from now, you may still obtain your lantern.

Readers will be interested in learning that many newspapers whose subscription price is several times that of The Frontier are using the Kwik Lite lantern as a premium, believing it to be the finest gift obtainable for their subscribers. It is undoubtedly a fact that until the Kwik Lite plan was made available, weekly newspapers never found it possible to offer a gift of its value to their readers. The Frontier believes that this new policy will meet with the approval of all its subscribers.
