

SOUTHEASTERN BREEZES

By Romaine Saunders

Isn't the Hon. Paul V. McNutt off his nut when he says any attempt to close ourselves in with a wall of isolation will result in an upheaval in the United States worse than war?

Maybe a special session of congress to keep out of war will be the first step toward getting in.

Criticisms of Nebraska's junior senator consist principally of senseless but nasty jibes from the blood-suckers of organized labor. Unless his equal in my own party ranks shows up I shall be for Senator Burke.

Someone has suggested that all the people will get out of this latest war is more taxes, widows, wooden legs and debt.

The Nebraska sandhills have a people of high quality as well as splendid livestock. A distinguished editor of Washington, D. C., comes all the way to Valentine for his bride, or rather on a bridal flight after securing the bride in Washington, a daughter of Judge Quigley of Cherry county. Editor Harrison of the Pathfinder is the gentleman concerned.

I don't know that I can say it is worth a half-dollar to go out to the fair grounds and mill around in the heat and dust and sweat among 50,000 of whom you know not a soul. There is no shade, no place to drop down for a moments rest nor a decent seat short of 75c additional. The race track is walled to heaven but should have roof so the bird's view is shut out. The view from the upper floor of the cattle barn has been shut off by canvas over the east opening to prevent the dairy cows from seeing the ponies run. Skin games of all kinds were on every hand and I understand that among the hundreds, a 9-year-old girl staked her little savings and lost. Notwithstanding there were fine exhibits from field and garden, cattle ranch and horse farms. And it looks like the horse is again on the way back.

The passing of William Nollkamper no doubt revives memories of many Frontier readers of the man as well as his mill on the Eagle. Perhaps not many of his time and place survive out there in that picturesque neighborhood. Among my early duties as a printer was getting out letterheads and other items of printing for the miller of the Eagle and I never heard a complaint about the work we turned out for him. The whole force was always glad to see him come in that little old shop back of the postoffice.

"He wandereth abroad for bread, saying where is it?" In a world of plenty bread has been the problem of the ages. There passed along O street recently, travel-stained and sun-browned, a man, a woman—yet in early life—followed by a very small child—a child that should have the privileges, the joy, the play of childhood. A family group apparently coming out of nowhere and pressing on, footsore, weary, heartsore, to nowhere in that search for bread—the bread that is a symbol of home, of security, of a place to rest at the end of the day. As the pink of early dawn faded in the full glow of sunrise, I passed up Nineteenth street on an errand just as three or four men were getting up in an open freight car where they had found a night's repose. Glancing down an alley yesterday as I passed along P street another of the indigent of earth was fishing a little nourishment out of a garbage can. These specimens, are they of the race the Lord God had made? Must some kings and queens? Must some portions of the race forever "wander abroad for bread, saying, where is it?"

Every time the situation in Europe gets more critical the Japs move nearer to the British concessions in China.

"Believe It or Not" Extracts Tooth From Leg

A "Believe It or Not" occurrence happened in O'Neill on Tuesday evening when a young man entered Dr. Carter's office in this city, complaining of a pain in his left leg just above the ankle. The leg was slightly swollen and there appeared to be a source of infection there, so Dr. Carter, probing the wound, took his forceps and extracted a tooth from the man's leg. It appears that just a week ago there was a bunch of dogs fighting and in attempting to separate them the young man kicked into the group, evidently hitting one of the dogs in the mouth and thereby embedding the tooth in his leg. He paid little attention to the leg, until Tuesday, when it became very sore, as the tooth was lying right against the shin bone. The tooth itself, is a dog's front tooth and is about three quarters of an inch long. Dr. Carter says that he has extracted many teeth, when necessary, but never before had he extracted one from a man's leg.

Want to Raise School Land Rentals

A representative of the Board of Educational Lands and Funds is in the city today holding hearings on the value of school lands in this county and a large number of school land lessees are in attendance at the meeting. Most of the lessees are of the opinion that in view of the fact that drought has practically ruined crops in this county for the past ten years, that the land is already appraised too high. What action the representatives of the board will take is not known as we go to press.

Scholastic Record Gives O'Neill Girl Scholarship

Five colleges in the state are sending eight former students to the graduate college of the University of Nebraska on tuition scholarships this fall, according to Dr. Jarold W. Stoke, graduate college dean.

For several years the University has granted tuition scholarships to graduates of Nebraska institutions of higher learning whose scholastic records place them in the upper ten per cent of their class. Among the winners this year of a scholarship is Miss Ruth Leach, of this city, who graduated from Wesleyan University last June with high distinction. She will register for graduate work in the department of geography.

AN EDITOR'S PRAYER

Blessed are the merchants who advertise for they have faith in their business, and their prosperity shall increase many fold. Blessed is the woman who sends in a written account of a party or a wedding for she shall see the details and the names of her guests reported. Blessed are they who do not expect the editor to know everything by telling him whenever an interesting event occurs in which they are interested, for they shall have a better newspaper in the town. Blessed are they who get their copy in early for they shall occupy a warm spot in the heart of the editor. Blessed are they who do not think that they could run a paper better than the editor runs it—yea, thrice blessed are they, because there are so few of them in the community. —Times-Record, Spencer, W. Va.

O'Neill Boy Married In Omaha Last Thursday

At a quiet ceremony in St. John's church in Omaha, with only immediate relatives present, Miss Eileen Duffy became the bride of James A. Arbutnot on the morning of September 14.

Reverend William Schulte director of music for Columbia College, a close friend of the young couple came from Dubuque, Iowa, to perform the ceremony.

The attendants of the bridal couple were Miss Roberta Arbutnot, sister of the groom, and John Duffy, brother of the bride.

Joseph P. Cole, of Creighton University, was soloist, giving a beautiful rendition of Schubert's "Ave Maria."

The bride was gowned in ivory brocade and tulle veil held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. Talisman roses were used throughout for decorations.

Following the service breakfast for the bridal group and relatives was served at the Blackstone, after which the couple left for a motor trip to Yellowstone and Idaho Falls returning via Salt Lake City and Denver.

Miss Duffy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Duffy, of Petersburg, Nebr., and niece of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Donohoe, of this city, and in 1932 was selected by the World-Herald as one of the ten outstanding young citizens of Nebraska. She is a graduate of Clarke College, Dubuque, Iowa, and a post graduate student of Northwestern University and Christianson Choral School.

She has been vocal music instructor in the O'Neill schools the past two years.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Arbutnot of this city. After completing his high school education in O'Neill, he attended Creighton University, Regis College in Denver and Georgetown University in Washington, D. C. He has held various positions of trust in this city since his school days and is at present in partnership with his father in the Arbutnot Oil Company of this city.

The young couple will be at home to their many friends in O'Neill after October 15th at their home at 524 East Douglas street.

ROYAL THEATRE TO BE REMODELED WORK COMMENCES NEXT TUESDAY

Entirely New Front and Interior Only Three Walls To Be Retained; New Mezzanine and And More New Upholstered Seats

Jonathon — Jonathan — Jonathan — Johnathan Well! Which Is It?

Work on the remodeling of the Royal Theatre will start next Tuesday. When the remodeling is completed it will be practically a new building, the only part of the old building that will be left will be the sides and the end wall. The front will be taken out and a new modern theatre front will be installed.

The new theatre will have new comfortable rest rooms and lounges with a mezzanine floor, all of the seats in which will be fully upholstered. Toilet rooms will be installed in the basement. The remodeling will add 108 seats to the seating capacity of the theatre.

The cost of the remodeling and the new furnishings have been estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000 and is expected to have the same completed about November 1.

The plans for the remodeling were drawn by Edward I. Sessinghaus, of Omaha, who with R. S. Ballentyne, of the Scott Ballentyne company, of Omaha, were in the city the first of the week. These gentlemen said that all of the material for the remodeling would be purchased in this city, that is, all that could be purchased here, and that local labor would do the work. These gentlemen said that O'Neill would have one of the nicest moving picture theatres in the state, outside of Lincoln and Omaha, when the remodeling was completed.

Well here's one the printer wants some help on. Copy has it like this "JONATHON," the printer's copy of Webster's Unabridged didn't even give a thought to such a thing as Mr. Jon-----n's apples. So out of curiosity decided to see what the exchanges had about it in their advertisements and found the Plainview News spelled it Jonathon, the Brown County Democrat felt the same way, so the printer decided that must be right, but takes another look and finds the Orchard News in favor of Jonathan, with the Albion Argus, Bloomfield Monitor and the Clearwater Record in accord. Well what would you do? While still undecided, found that the Tilden Citizen favored Jonathon and we are wondering what all these papers will do when they get their regular copy from one of their more consistent grocery advertisers with it spelled "Jonathon." While still worrying over this alarming proposition, lo and behold, we find the Sheridan County Star has decided the whole thing is wrong and spells it JOHNATHAN.

NOTE: Editor messes up printer's story by finding that the newer Webster has it Jonathon.

Son of the Founder of This City Dies in California

John H. O'Neill, 68, son of the late General John O'Neill who was the founder of this city, died at San Diego, California, recently. John O'Neill was a resident of this city for many years in the early eighties and after leaving here went to Spaulding where he operated a drug store for a few years. He also operated a drug store at Fullerton and Cedar Rapids, moving to California in 1903 where he had since made his home.

O'NEILL PUBLIC SCHOOL OPENED HERE MONDAY WITH 419 ENROLLED

C. F. Grill, Former Principal, Elected Superintendent; Kenneth Martyn Elected Principal New Ag Class Proves Popular With County Boys

The faculty of the O'Neill Public School held its first meeting of the year last Saturday. Plans and arrangements were made for the opening of school on September 18. On Monday the work of the school year was started in an orderly and very satisfying manner. The Kindergarten has an enrollment of 34 pupils, which we believe is the largest number in the history of the department. The enrollment in high school is 198 students. This is an increase of about 20 in comparison with last year. This increase is probably due to the desire of boys in the surrounding community to take the new Vocational Agriculture course. Three students, Ethel Bennett, Mary Welsh and Beatrice Jones are taking postgraduate work.

The members of the faculty this year are Kindergarten—Miss Mildred Miller, First Grade—Miss

Henry, Second Grade—Miss Enright, Third Grade—Miss Gallagher, Fourth Grade—Miss Margaret Miller, Fifth Grade—Miss Kvam, Sixth Grade—Miss Jones, Seventh Grade—Miss Engelhaupt, Eighth Grade—Mr. Lockman. The high school instructors are: Mr. Anderson—coach and mathematics, Mr. Connors—commercial and assistant coach, Mr. George—band and social science, Miss Giles—home economics and English, Miss Graybill—vocal music and history, Miss Johnston—English and dramatics, Miss Mildred Miller—normal training, Mr. Martin—Principal, and Mr. Grill—Superintendent.

The superintendent is confident that our pupils have a very profitable year ahead of them. Each teacher possesses outstanding ability in her or his field of teaching. Each is sincerely interested in providing educational experiences for the pupils that will develop them to successfully meet the responsibilities of life and perpetuate our democratic society.

Patrons are urged to visit classes throughout the entire year. Mutual understanding and cooperation between the home and school is highly desirable in order to permit the maximum educational growth of the pupil.

The enrollment in the grades is as follows: First 26, second 27, third 26, fourth 26, fifth 31, sixth 25, seventh 28, eighth 32.

Carl F. Grill, principal of the O'Neill high school for the past two years, has been promoted to superintendent of the school. He received his undergraduate training in Teachers College at the University of Nebraska and graduate training in Teachers College at Columbia University, New York City.

Mr. Grill is well acquainted with the school and its program and work is progressing very desirably. A few of the high school classes are under a slight handicap until the classrooms in the new building can be used. Some of the new rooms will probably be available within the next week.

Kenneth L. Martyn, has been elected to the principalship of the O'Neill High School, a position made vacant by the election of Carl F. Grill, former principal, to the superintendent.

For the past ten years Mr. Martyn has been in charge of the science department in the Beatrice Havlock and Crete high schools.

After graduation from the University in 1925, he continued his education by attending summer sessions at Columbia University in New York City, receiving a Masters Degree and Principal's certificate in 1934.

In addition to the principalship, Mr. Martyn will teach classes in physics and general science. Mrs. Martyn, son, Lee, and daughter, Marilyn, will join Mr. Martin in O'Neill in the near future.

The Vocational Agriculture Department of the O'Neill high school has an enrollment of forty-six boys. This number is equal to the largest of the new departments installed in Nebraska last year. Mr. Mathis, the instructor, is pleased to have such a large group of boys who are eager to receive this type of training.

The work in this course is intended for boys living in the country. Boys who are interested in this course may still enroll any time during the next week.

The instructor believes that each boy in the agriculture course now is here for business. We are fortunate in having a splendid shop with the best in equipment and an excellent classroom.

The public is welcome to visit this department or any of the classes in school at any time.

That Russian-Nazi agreement may be another of those cases where you marry in haste and repent at leisure.
