Annual Meeting Holt County Farm Bureau

The annual business meeting of the Holt County Farm Bureau, which is scheduled for Friday, November 24, at 10:00 A. M. in the M. E. Church in O'Neill, is expected to attract a large group of Holt county residents who have been interested in education along agricultural and home economics lines.

Those in charge are particularly interested in a large attendance because a fine program is being prepared in honor of the twentyfifth anniversary of Agricultural Extension work which is sponsored by the Farm Bureau.

Local leaders from the county will review the beginning and progress of such splendid activities as 4-H club work, womens project club work and agricultural organization of farmers in this county.

Members of the Farm Bureau boards of twenty years ago, who were so active in planning and starting Extension work in this county, will receive recognition for their efforts in encouraging the development of rural leadership in Holt county communities.
