SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPERS

(See Recipes Below)

Have you ever juggled a cup of coffee in one hand, a salad plate in the other, and at the same time attempted to eat the appetizing food the hostess has served you? It is a feat that even the most experienced cannot often manage.

To save a guest the embarrassment of having his suit ruined by a cup of coffee tipping over, or salad dressing trickling over the side of the plate which is being precariously balanced on the knees, serve your supper on individual trays.

Simplicity is the keynote of the Sunday night supper. That is why the "meal-on-the-tray" has become so popular.

Plan your Sunday supper around one central dish. It may be a salad, a creamed fish served on toast, or even a casserole dish.

Here is a favorite supper menu for warm fall evenings which easily adapts itself to buffet style of serving, or a tray supper.

- Cranberry Molded Salad
- Cottage Cheese with Chives
- Olives
- Potato Chips
- Butter
- Coffee
- Hot Rolls

As you glance through the menu you can see that nothing in the meal, with the exception of the hot rolls, requires last minute preparation in the kitchen.

The buffet should be as inviting as it is possible to make it. The cranberry molded salad with a mound of cottage cheese and chives in the center of the ring mold makes an especially attractive center piece for the serving table. The rolls may be placed in a cunning bread basket, covered with a napkin to keep them hot. The serving table must also have the necessary silverware, dishes, napkins and trays on it.

When the meal is ready each guest helps himself, and delights in the informality of the occasion.

Instead of using the buffet style of serving, you may want to prepare the trays in the kitchen. Then with the aid of the members of the family, the trays are served to the guests.

The following menu is an excellent one to serve when fall evenings are a little nippy, and a warm dish is appealing.

- Welsh Rabbit on Toast
- Cole Slaw
- Baked Apple
- Coffee
- Tea

- Molded Cranberry Salad. (Serves 8)
- 1 package lemon flavored gelatin dessert
- 1 1/2 cups boiling water
- 1 cup cranberry sauce
- 1/2 cup pineapple (diced)
- 1/4 cup nuts (chopped fine)

Pour boiling water over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Crush cranberry sauce with a fork and add to the gelatin mixture. Pour into a ring mold and let stand until partially set. Fold in pineapple and nuts. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Fill ring with chilled cottage cheese to which finely chopped chives have been added; or use any other salad mixture which may be desirable.

- Stuffed Tomato Salad. (Serves 5)
- 5 medium sized tomatoes
- Dash celery, onion or garlic salt
- 1 cup canned kidney beans
- 2 tablespoons celery (chopped)
- 2 tablespoons green onion (minced)
- 2 tablespoons ripe olives (chopped fine)
- 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
- 1 hard cooked egg (grated)

Select firm, medium sized tomatoes and peel. Hollow out the interiors and sprinkle with celery, garlic or onion salt. Mix together the kidney beans, celery, onion, olives and mayonnaise, and stuff the tomatoes with this mixture. Chill, and serve on lettuce leaves. Garnish with hard cooked egg, which has

NEW YORK.—Whether Benedict Crowell is a good prophet or not may yet be revealed. Mr. Crowell, assistant secretary of war in the World War, has been named special consultant on defense, by Secretary Stimson. Addressing the Institute of Public Affairs at the University of Virginia, July 11, 1931, Mr. Crowell said:

"Should a great war ever again engulf our country, American manufacturers, including the new industrialism of the South, as well as the older industrialisms of the North and East, without waste of time, material or priceless human lives, will perform their essential function of munitions supply . . . our national security is on a sound foundation."

Mr. Crowell, who was a consulting engineer before he became a Cleveland banker and industrialist, is a brigadier general in the ordnance reserve. His specialty, as assistant secretary of war, was in organizing our munitions industries for the war effort.

He was widely praised for his efficiency in this and gained fame as the most ruthless cutter of red-tape in the army high command. This may have something to do with his selection as defense consultant at this moment. Yale university, his alma mater, recognized the above service by giving him an honorary master of arts degree in 1918.

A native of Cleveland, 71 years old, Mr. Crowell began his business career as a chemist with the Otis Steel company. He rose in executive positions and at the same time gained technical qualifications which made him a metallurgist and consulting engineer.

He is the author of several books, including a six-volume series called "America Went to War," of which Robert Forrest Wilson was co-author. One of these volumes is entitled "The Armies of Industry," singularly pertinent to problems and backgrounds of our present national endeavor.

Reporters, interviewing Mr. Crowell in the old days, frequently used to note his resemblance to ruby Bob Fitzsimmons, and deduce, from this his capacity for hitting and staying-power.

IN HIS novel, "Le Couple," published in 1925, Victor Margueritte, the French writer, foresaw the disaster which was to overtake France. He described the French Prophet Of Doom Accepts debacle quite accurately, but put the date at 1943 instead of 1940. Today, the author accepts the conquest, which he tragically described and makes common cause with the conquerors. He denounces General De Gaulle and his followers as the hirelings of England.

In present and future clinical research into the fall of France and its causes, M. Margueritte's lament and prophecy, as of 1925, will be interesting. After describing the alliance of French politicians with "Prussian and Bavarian junkers," and the subsequent collapse and conquest, he says:

"And then we shall be reaping what we have sown. It will be the result of our policy of attempting the semblance of grandeur—stupid because it is not warranted by our power, nor by our national wealth, nor by our trickling birth-rates, nor by our exhausted finances."

Years of self-indulgence, mad pleasure-seeking, the softening of moral fiber and the ebbing of national vitality, he said, would precede the final destruction of the French nation. The League of Nations, he predicted, would be a ghastly failure.

M. Margueritte is the son of a famous French general of the Franco-Prussian war. In his study were medals and memorials of his father's war service. He is a stalwart man, tall and straight with abundant pompadour hair and a Van Dyke beard.

He was a member of the Legion of Honor and honorary president of the French Society of Men of Letters. Poincare, no defeatist, had urged his Legion of Honor decoration. This and all his other honors were stripped from him when he published an offending book, "La Garconne."

He had been for 10 years an officer in the French army. In his books, which he continued to write during his army service, he championed virile French nationalism. Now, at 73, he watched France "reap what she has sown."

Strange Facts

- Sun, Moon Eclipses
- Luminous Frog
- Foreign Invasion

Although there are fewer lunar than solar eclipses, more people have observed the former, for an eclipse of the sun lasts only a few minutes and is visible from only a narrow path on the earth's surface. An eclipse of the moon is longer in duration and may be observed from more than half the world.

A certain species of frog, after a heavy meal of fireflies, may be seen in the dark by the light of these insects shining through the walls of its stomach.

In England no stage play may be presented until its dialogue has been read and approved by the lord chamberlain and no public address may be made by the king until it has been read and approved by the British home office.

Custom officers on the American-Canadian border insist upon cattle staying on their own side of the frontier, even when their owner's pasture lies in both countries. When cattle are suspected of having strayed into the "foreign" part of the farm, their tails are doused in a solution of washing soda. If they are Canadian animals, the tails, having been treated with a chemical, turn a bright red.—Collier's.

Cost of War

America's generosity toward its veterans may be gauged by a recent analysis of the costs of the Revolution, War of 1812, Mexican, Civil and Spanish-American wars. It shows that for every $100 spent during these wars, $160 was later expended for pensions and medical care. The study excludes the World war, the final cost of which cannot be estimated for years.—Collier's.

PRINCE ALBERT

THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

"SCORES EVERY TIME FOR MILD, RICH-TASTING ROLL-YOUR-OWN SMOKES!"

Carl Rinker and Tracy Powell talk Prince Albert Smoking Tobacco

Rollin' along with P. A. I Juanita Sikes knows what the boys are talking about—she, too, has a nose for good tobacco—the kind the boys are smoking and praising. "Prince Albert's goodness," says Carl Rinker (right), "comes through without harshness. It's prime, fully aged tobacco." "Yes, sir, there's no other tobacco like Prince Albert," adds Tracy Powell (center). "It's the National Joy Smoke!" (So say pipe-smokers, too!)

In recent laboratory "smoking bowl" tests, Prince Albert burned 86 DEGREES COOLER than the average of the 30 other of the largest-selling brands tested... coolest of all!
