A Real Bargain

Livestock Receipts Light But Prices Steady

Receipts of livestock were somewhat lighter on Monday of this week. The market undertone was firm and prices ruled fully steady. Quality was good with some fine Angus cows comprising a part of the offering. Action was brisk and the day's supplies cleared readily.

Lightweight steer calves of good quality showed considerable strength, with the top Angus calves reaching $14.10. Others of the same breed cashed from $12.50 to $13.50. Bulk of the Herefords moved within a price range of $11.50 to $12.50. Heifer calves sold mostly from $10.00 to $11.25. Yearlings were not too plentiful and bulked mostly from $10.00 to $11.00.

The cow division showed an increase in receipts and a lot of good fat cows and breeding cows were here. One load of fancy bred Angus cows were sold by the head at a good price. Fat cows sold upwards to $8.50 with the long end of the offering ranging from $7.00 to $8.00 with many in the upper brackets. Bulls were fully steady.

Hog receipts were about normal and prices established at the central markets. Most of the choice butcher stuff sold at $12.00 with those of less finish bringing $11.85 and $11.95. Sows cashed from $11.00 to $11.25. Feeder pigs paid an extreme top of $13.60 tho the bulk ranged in price from $12.00 to $13.00. Small pigs sold by the head at very good prices. More lambs and sheep were here than have showed up in the past several weeks. One band of choice lambs sold by the head at strong prices. About 10 or 12 horses and mules finished off the day's auction.

Several articles were sold for the American Red Cross benefit among which were a shotgun donated by Johnson, 2 bushels of seed corn given by Wm. F. Grothe and a goat. Total receipts collected on the various articles is $6.85, which sum is being turned over to the local American Red Cross Chapter by the donors of the above mentioned articles.
