County Drive For Home Nursing Classes

In the present national emergency people all over the country are enrolling in Red Cross Home Nursing classes, and with proper preparation they form an important line of defense in safeguarding the health and happiness of their own homes and communities and hence the nation. Such classes admirably fit into the Civilian Defense programs now functioning in many towns and cities.

The Holt County Chapter of the American Red Cross is organizing the Home Nursing Program in the various branches of the county chapter, with Mrs. E. C. Weller of Atkinson serving as chairman. Classes are required to have a minimum of 24 hours of instruction covering a period of not less than six weeks, and are taught by graduate nurses who are authorized by the area headquarters of the Red Cross. The course covers such subjects as:

1. Individual health and personal hygiene.
2. Healthful home environment, care of the home, normal family life.
3. Home care of the sick, care of the chronic and the aged, common illnesses and emergencies.
4. Care of mothers and babies, small children, in health and in illness.
5. Community health, prevention and control of communicable diseases.

Due to the present war there is an acute shortage of nurses for home duty as the needs of the armed forces must be met, so civilians must shoulder the task of giving adequate care to those in the home who may be victims of illness or accidents.

A certificate is issued to each student who takes the Red Cross Home Nursing course and successfully passes the final examination. It is not a diploma in any sense of the word and must not be used as credential to secure paid employment as a nurse, nurse's aide or hospital attendant. The Chapter and instructors are especially charged with the responsibility of making the students understand that the purpose of the Red Cross Home Nursing course is to insure safer and more healthful homes and not to provide vocational training.

If a sufficient number of women in and around O'Neill are interested in taking the course, classes will be established here in the near future. Enrollment in each class is limited to 20.

Please call Mrs. J. P. Brown, phone 223, who is serving as local chairman and tell her whether you prefer an afternoon or evening class.

RESOLUTION

Whereas the newspapers of Holt County, organized as the Holt County Publishers Association, furnished to the satisfaction of the County officers and this board, the county printing and supplies purchased during the period January 1, 1941 to December 31, 1941, and made a considerable saving to the county without sacrifice of quality, and

WHEREAS, the Holt County Publishers Association makes request to this board for a continuation of the business of January 1, 1942.

THEREFORE, Be it Resolved, that the Holt County Board of Supervisors in regular session this 27th day of January, 1942, hereby awards the County supply business to the newspapers of Holt County for the year ending December 31, 1942, and that all printing, supplies, publications and all such other supplies and office equipment purchased by the county shall be ordered through the supply committee of the Holt County Publishers Association, it being understood that the association guarantees to furnish high quality products suitable to the various county officers, at prices in line with those that have proved a substantial saving over those paid previously to the association's handling of this business. It is further understood that the association will give ample notice of relinquishment to the board of supervisors in case it finds itself unable to finance the business.

Livestock Prices Fully Steady, Prices Active

Livestock receipts at the local market continue to hold up very well as the season advances and prices were fully steady to strong with a week ago. The demand remains active on all classes and the general market undertone was firm here last Monday. With good crops in prospect buyers are willing to pay high prices for livestock.

A good supply of calves was on hand but none were of fancy quality. The medium to good steers placed mostly from $12.50 to $13.50. Heifers paid as high as $12.15 with the bulk going at $11.00 to $12.00.

Yearling steers moved at prices ranging from $10.50 to $11.50 with a few lightweights reaching upwards to $12.00. Yearling heifers sold from $9.50 to $10.50.

Beef cows leaned to slightly stronger prices with many selling well above $9.00 and a few reaching $9.50. Plainer kinds sold from $7.50 to $8.50. Bulls weighing up to 1350 lbs. from $9.25 to $10.00.

Hog receipts were not quite as heavy as a week ago, but nevertheless, a good supply showed up. Top butchers averaging 255 lbs. cashed at $13.75 with the bulk of the offering selling at $13.65 to $13.70. Sows ranged in price from $13.15 to $13.50. Gilts averaging 170 pounds paid $14.00.

Feeders were rather scarce and the best 80 pounders reached $16.50. Others weighing around 125 pounds sold at $15.10 to $15.15. A few sheep completed the week's offering.

The next regular auction will be held on Monday, May 4, 1942.
