

U. S. Scouts in Guiana's Jungles

Protected from hordes of ferocious mosquitoes by veil-trimmed helmets, a party of U. S. troops is shown (left) scouting in the tough jungle country of Surinam, better known as Dutch Guiana, one of the places where we now maintain forces to protect American interests. Right: A U. S. army lookout high in the trees of the Surinam brush. The keen eyes of the observers posted there spot any strange activity in the jungle.

Students Go A-Farming at Farmingdale, L. I.

There is a threatened shortage of farm labor this year. In upstate New York alone 25,000 men and boys are needed this summer, and some 7,000 boys from city high schools have enrolled for farm training. Many of these are being trained at the State Institute of Agriculture in Farmingdale, L. I. At the left you see students at work in the dairy section of the institute. Right: Some of the students who are taking a course in farming.

Herring Army to Satisfy Army Appetites | Skipped Lifeboat

Every year millions of herring have swarmed up the Taunton river to spawn at the headwaters near Middleboro, Mass., and have been caught by Indian traps and white men's nets. This year, the U. S. army has put in its order. Photo shows hundreds of herring being pulled in with a dagnet. In this spot the daily catch runs up to 1,000 barrels.

Salter Samenov, 27, of Riga, Latvia, was a handy crewman to have on the lifeboat of a torpedoed U. S. ship. He is showing how he rigged a sail of blankets. He steered the ship by the stars and made a camera record of their three-day experience.

Hold It, Goodfellows!

Aviation cadets at Goodfellow Field, San Angelo, Texas, grapple with a billowing parachute on a windy day. You'll appreciate the difficulty of their task if you have ever opened up an umbrella in a gale.

'Land of the Free'

Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the U. S., pays his first visit to the Statue of Liberty. Here he gazes at the symbol of freedom from the boat that took him to Bedloe's island.

'Abandon Ship' Drill on Atlantic Convoy

At Sea . . . You are somewhere on the broad Atlantic aboard a unit of the U. S. navy's Atlantic task force, currently doing a job of conveying. What you are now looking at is an "abandon ship" drill, in which the ship's personnel go through all the motions without actually going over-side. In the background are other ships of the convoy. (Approved by U. S. navy.)

Heroes of World Battle Front

At left is Dr. C. M. Wassell, through whose skill and courage 12 badly wounded men were gotten safely out of Java, in the face of invading Jap hordes, and safely to the Australian coast. Capt. H. T. Wheeler (right) went out to attack Jap transports off the Philippines. He was attacked by Zero planes but proceeded on his mission, emptied his bomb racks on six Jap transports, then fought off 18 Jap planes for 75 miles, bringing down 11, finally making a safe emergency landing with two engines and rear landing wheel gone.

Engineers Train at Fort Belvoir

War Makes Strange Friendships

The Australians have long been in the habit of calling the aborigines "black fellows." American officers somewhere in the bush region of northern Australia are being palsied walsy with a "black fellow" here.

Office on Wheels

This being a war of movement, Lieut. Gen. Neil Ritchie, general officer commanding Britain's Eighth army in Libya, believes in mobile quarters. He has fitted out a big caravan to serve in this capacity. Above he is shown working at his desk in his office on wheels. The whole outfit is mounted on a truck body.

Manpower Chief

Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the new war manpower commission, is shown (right) greeting Leo Krzycki, of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, at a victory rally in Detroit.

Hint to Workers

Above is shown the correct way to stand at a bench and do your bit for the war effort. The straight back, high chest and equal distribution of weight on the feet will keep this girl working long after others who assume wrong positions are tired.

J. Fuller Pep

By JERRY LINK

"Fuller," says Aunt Netty, the other day. "Folks are like wine. Some sour with age, and some, like you, get better!"
"Mebbe," says I, pickin' up that little compliment, "that's because I feel so good most of the time." For, you know, folks, when you feel good your disposition's apt to be good, too. But to do that, you got to eat right, which includes gettin' all your vitamins. And KELLOGG'S PEP is extra-rich in the two most often short in ordinary meals—vitamins B<sub>1</sub> and D. Mighty fine-tastin', too. Try it!

Kellogg's Pep

A delicious cereal that supplies per 1-ounce serving: 112 daily need of vitamin D; 45 to 115 minimum daily need of vitamin B<sub>1</sub>.
