THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

Fifty-Five Years Ago

The Frontier, August 27, 1887
 Schram Bros. stock is being closed out at auction.
 Grant Sanders, late proprietor of the Dustin Dispatch, came down last Saturday morning and will remain in O'Neill. He will manipulate the leaden messengers on The Frontier.
 The institute closed last week and the 160 teachers in attendance departed for their homes.
 The Frontier, Sept. 1, 1887.
 The cool weather seems to be pretty general throughout the western states.
 D. M. Roberts, of the Emmet Echo, was hustling about in a business like manner "on our streets" Wednesday.
 The rainfall last night was the heaviest ever known in this section of the country. The rain poured down in torrents for three hours steady. Water came thru the hole which is being dug in front of the First National bank building and burst open the door of the Tribune office, filling the entire room to a depth of two feet. An army of willing hands were soon at work piling up bags of sand and making a levy around the excavation and turning the water's course.

Fifty Years Ago

The Frontier, August 25, 1892
 During the thunder storm Sunday night the residence of James Schoonmeyer at Scottville was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The flames were communicated from the house to the barn and that was also destroyed.
 The Independent senatorial convention was held this afternoon and James P. Mullen was nominated for state senator by acclamation for the position.
 The Republican senatorial convention for this district was held in O'Neill last Saturday and Doc W. D. Mathews, editor of The Frontier, was nominated for state senator, receiving 16 of 21 votes in the convention.

tion announced it is planning a price ceiling for live hogs and similar action is contemplated soon for cattle prices. The ceiling would be worked out in conjunction with representatives of livestock producers. The Office said "vigorous steps" are being taken to enforce quality grading provisions of its beef regulations to prevent upgrading as an evasion of price levels. The Agriculture Department reported a 9-point advance in farm prices from July 15 to August 15, raising the general level to 163 percent of the pre-World War I figure, 32 points higher than a year ago.

Rationing
 The OPA ordered re-examination by local boards of all supplemental gasoline ration books, particularly C books for motorists in 14 designated occupations and S books for operators of commercial vehicles. New books will be issued for the amount the operator is fairly entitled to, if present coupons are found in excess, and deliberate violation of regulations will be prosecuted, the Office said. The OPA announced 35,500 new passenger cars will be available for rationing in September, compared with 13,250 in August, but all unused quotas were recalled and no carryovers will be permitted in the future. The quota of 90,000 bicycles for September is the same as for August.

All rented standard model typewriters manufactured since January 1, 1935, were ordered returned to rental agencies by September 15 to make them available for purchase and use by the armed forces and Government departments. Persons eligible to purchase machines under existing OPA regulations are not affected.

Transportation
 The Office of Defense Transportation issued an order effective immediately, governing the operations of at least 50,000 automobiles used as taxicabs. The order (1) banned use of taxicabs for "social or recreational purpose of the driver or operators;" (2) established a national taxicab speed limit of 40 miles per hour "or any speed above that prescribed by competent public authority;" (3) prohibited use of taxis for making "commercial deliveries of property;" (4) limited to 10 miles the distance a taxi may be operated beyond the corporate limits of the municipality in which the trip originate;

(5) banned seeking cab passengers by "cruising;" (6) limited to 25 miles the distance which may be traveled on anyone trip; (7) prohibited vehicles not marked distinctly as taxicabs from being operated as such.

The Armed Forces
 The War Department raised from 45 to 50 the maximum age at which men "who have character, skills or aptitudes which make their enlistment desirable and who are otherwise qualified" and who have draft board permission may enlist in the army. They will be assigned to overhead units or installations where they will release younger men for general military service, and if fit, they will be used for combat duty, War Secretary Stimson said.

Marine Corps enlisted men, as well as Navy enlistees, may now apply for flight training to become Naval aviation glider pilots, who act as co-pilots for large transport gliders. During the week, the 45,000-ton battleship Iowa—the heaviest vessel ever launched in the U. S.—the Aircraft Carrier Independence, the Cruiser Boston, and two destroyers, the Glennon and Jeffers, were launched. The Red Cross and the Navy jointly announced a new rescue project under which buoyant waterproof bags containing emergency food, water and medicinal supplies, cigarettes, etc., will be dropped by Navy patrol blimps to seamen awaiting rescue, before they are actually picked up by rescue vessels.

Strategic Materials
 War Production Chairman Nelson said 2,000,000 cars from automobile graveyards have been converted into 400,000 tons of steel scrap a month during the last four months, but the steel industry is now consuming approximately 4,800,000 tons of scrap metal a month, about four times as much as it took in 1938. The Office of Petroleum Coordinator reported New Englanders and other east coast consumers will obtain only 75% of their fuel oil requirements under normal weather conditions this winter.

BANKS AND THE WAR

Food for Freedom

YOU'LL hear more and more about the government's "Food for Freedom" program as the war progresses. It is a plan for assuring ample supplies of food to meet the needs of America and its allies in the war, and a large part of the world after the war. It is an undertaking of tremendous proportions, a challenge to American agriculture, and an opportunity of service for America's banks. Later in this series we will discuss this program and deal specifically with the ways that banks are helping make it a success.
