

BREEZES FROM THE SOUTHWEST

By Romaine Saunders
Atkinson, Nebr., Star Route No. 5.

Whoever gets the Solomon Islands don't get much—a fair size sand hills ranch.

Some of the democratic big-wigs are at their wits end to dispose of Mr. May. Leave it to Mr. Wherry.

If a bird fell at each crack of a gun a week ago there are many less pheasants in this part of the prairie land.

For better, for worse, or for neither we are coming more and more under the license and permit system of business and commissions. All these cost the taxpayers and the benefit derived is debatable.

A sudden blow as Tom Baker was atop a windmill jeopardized his footing when the mill wheeled into motion but he clung on in spite of getting a number of raps that cut three gashes in his head.

Should not any member of Congress be ashamed to give his support to drafting the youth of the country for military service while there are football squads, beefy wrestlers, strikers of the sports fraternity, striking factory workers, temperamental musicians and so-called entertainers that ought to be in the army.

Don't hurry. Don't worry. There's another day. If not, doesn't matter anyway. Tomorrow's coming on after set of sun. "A bit of patience," let us say as we labor day by day. Life is not a marathon—need our strength to carry on. Plow-horse still works at twenty-one—long ere this the race-horse is done. A bit of dog-gare!—not to be continued.

Marking the ballot on election day I like to favor the home product, especially a clean-cut young fellow who has the ambition and ability to do something. Ed Hancock for county treasurer appeals to me as such. My acquaintance with the family runs back to the grandparents, Holt county homesteaders in my parents' neighborhood, and Ed has the background of the sturdy pioneer and honored citizen.

Busy bodies are at work every election year to cumber the ballot with an amendment of some kind. Now they want to change our mode of county government. Great things are promised, nothing more could be desired, to follow the adoption of their schemes, but somehow we usually are worse off after an amendment becomes law than before. Under the guise of reform fantastic ideas bud and bloom like clover in June. All welcome an honest-to-goodness reform but most of the propositions put forward as amendments merely involve changes that have no particular merit.

A friend of the Breezes sends me a newspaper clipping that rather violently attacks our governor on the score of pensions for our retired citizens and asks my view. Opinions are sound or erroneous according to the light we have. I fear the brother who berates the governor is rather more prejudiced than informed. The governor does not have the say of how much money shall be paid into this fund and that fund. The citizens themselves do that. The pension fund suffers to the extent that gas purchases are curtailed, and other sources lag. Mr. Griswold, or Mr. Bryan, I feel sure would be glad to double the payments to those allotted pensions if funds were available. Some of our superannuated citizens wasted the years they might have acquired a competency; some were not endowed by nature for financial independence; others have lost life's accumulations, while still others devoted their talents to the noble but thankless task of the moral and spiritual uplift of their fellows. All have done their part in the complex development of community life. Enfeebled age is life's dark tragedy. Decent provision for subsistence and comfort at this period should by no means be a secondary consideration. As I view it, the remedy for our present inadequate pension set-up lies with the legislature.

Very Interesting Meeting O'Neill Commercial Club

The regular meeting and dinner of the O'Neill Commercial Club was held at the Golden Hotel Wednesday night. An excellent steak dinner was served by the M and M cafe. The attendance was exceptionally large.

Following the dinner Julius D. Cronin, who presided at the meeting, gave a short talk following the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, in which he stressed the importance of co-operation among the business men for the common good and future of the town. Concluding his talk he introduced Phil Sherman, president of the Tri-State Produce Company here and who also has a plant in Sioux City. This industry, according to Mr. Cronin, has one of the largest pay rolls in the city, a fact that is evident from the number of people in the city who are employed there.

According to Mr. Sherman this plant turned out more dressed poultry the past year than any other in the state, including those in Omaha and Lincoln. For a community of this population that is a record we are entitled to boast about. In addition they were second in the amount of eggs packed.

The Tri-State Hatchery has purchased a farm south of the river for the purpose of raising turkeys. According to Mr. Sherman, this county is an ideal location for turkeys and there is no reason why this community should not soon become the Turkey center. Their present flock is well worth a trip out to see.

Mr. Sorenson, who has the contract for the erection of the new building, gave a short talk. He told of the difficulty they had in obtaining material. It was necessary to send trucks in all directions within a radius of four to five hundred miles to find the necessary lumber and brick. The intention, according to Mr. Sorenson, was to build a fire proof building, but present conditions make it impossible to get the steel necessary for that type of construction.

The O'Neill Fire Department received a surprise. In appreciation for the effort they put forth to save the Hatchery, which was only a short distance from the plant, Mr. Sherman presented Chief Miles with a $50 check for the department. This gesture is appreciated not only by the Fire Department, but by all the members of the Commercial Club.

Clark Willson, manager of Tri-State, was also called upon and made a short talk.

C. G. Carver, manager of the Hatchery Department and supervisor of the Turkey farm, was introduced and made a talk on its operation, that was very interesting.

George Mellor, one of the old-time settlers of Holt county, was in from his home in the north-eastern part of the county last Monday and favored this office with a pleasant call, extending his subscription to The Frontier. George has been a resident of this county for fifty-seven years, arriving in Holt county in November, 1885, just after having reached manhood's estate. By strict attention to business and hard work, George has been very successful and he is now taking things easy at his splendid farm home near Redbird.

Mammoth Truck Hauls Mammoth Load

Glen Eager, a U. S. Army engineer, was in the city the fore part of the week, doing some work northeast of the city. Mr. Eager was in charge of one of the largest trucks that ever was seen in this section of the state. The truck empty weighs 22 tons and can carry a maximum load of 55 tons. It is 47 feet and 4 inches long and rides on eighteen large tires. It requires a gallon of gas for every three miles the truck travels, empty.

Local scrap collectors discovered that there was an old boiler buried in the ground back of the old McGinnis Creamery building, on Douglas and Third streets, but on account of its size there was some fear that they could not get it out for the purpose of salvaging it. On being approached and asked if he could help, the engineer replied that he could, and after completing his work he drove down, hitched onto the boiler and in a few seconds it was retrieved. It weighed three and a half tons.

Mrs. Mary Emily Dusatko died at her home south of Emmet at 12:50 o'clock Wednesday morning, October 21, 1942, after an illness of about five weeks, at the age of 61 years and twenty days. The funeral will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the Church of the Epiphany at Emmet, Rev. Father O'Brien officiating, and burial in Calvary cemetery in this city.

Mary Emily Anderson was born in Weston, Nebr., on October 1, 1881. She grew to womanhood in that section of the state and on April 12, 1912, she was united in marriage to Jerrold Dusatko, the ceremony being performed at Lincoln, Nebr. Four children were born of this union, two sons and two daughters. For several years they lived on a farm north of Emmet, but a few years ago they built a modern and commodious home on their place south of Emmet, where they have resided for the past couple of years.

Mrs. Dusatko had always enjoyed good health until about five weeks ago when she was taken ill with a severe case of the grip, which did not respond to treatment as was expected, but none realized the end was so near. She was a charming lady and had a host of friends in the central section of the county, who will regret to learn of her sudden passing.

Scrap Collections Are Coming Along Nicely

Holt county is now making real progress on their second scrap drive. Scrap Chairman Ressel reported this morning that Holt county, up to this time, had collected 1,937,061 pounds, which raises the average for the county to near 130 pounds per capita, which is not a bad showing and it will be much larger when the drive is concluded this coming Saturday. If you have surplus scrap in your farm yard, bring it in, sell it to the junk man so that it can be sent on its way to help make guns and bombs to smite the Japs, as well as our other enemies.

HOLT COUNTY U. S. D. A. WAR BOARD NOTES

To meet increasing demands for meat and avoid transportation and processing bottlenecks, it is more and more essential that farmers avoid delays in marketing heavy hogs, Nebraska USDA War Board Chairman Abner K. Chestem said today. Chestem suggested that hog producers continually cull hogs of marketable weights from their herds for shipment rather than waiting until all reach a mark of 250 pounds or better. At the same time he called attention to the need for conservation of transportation facilities and asked that neighbors pool shipments whenever necessary to provide full truckloads.

The present farm machinery rationing order will be ready about November 1. New equipment will be allocated to areas and farmers strictly on a wartime need basis. Purchases of foods to meet winter needs of the allied forces are being increased steadily by the Department of Agriculture. September purchases were 38 percent over those of August.

OPA has adopted AAA's ever-normal granary idea in its plan to take over all tires exceeding five per car. This will create a reserve of rubber for essential purposes, just as farmers have built up reserves of grain for wartime use through AAA storage programs.

Attention—Truck Owners

Due to the fact that the forms for truck registration have not been received in sufficient numbers by truck operators, there will be NO REGISTRATION at this time. Notice of registration will appear in next week's issue.

Harry E. Ressel, Chairman, Holt Co. USDA War Board.

O'Neill Schools Improve Last Week's Scrap Record

By Wednesday, October 21, the students in the O'Neill schools had been instrumental in a total collection of 273,999 pounds of scrap or the equivalent of 137 tons. Records kept by the schools show that the scrap brought in by the classes is as follows:

St. Mary's Academy
Seniors	22,565 lbs.
Juniors	13,000 lbs.
Sophomores	16,422 lbs.
Freshmen	10,506 lbs.
Seventh and Eighth	25,000 lbs.
Fifth and Sixth	11,421 lbs.
Third and Fourth	10,914 lbs.
Second	3,153 lbs.
First	1,500 lbs.

Public School
Seniors	23,544 lbs.
Juniors	29,305 lbs.
Sophomores	37,923 lbs.
Freshmen	21,275 lbs.
Eighth	6,485 lbs.
Seventh	5,313 lbs.
Sixth	5,574 lbs.
Fifth	5,867 lbs.
Fourth	2,636 lbs.
Third	12,312 lbs.
Second	4,024 lbs.
First	3,626 lbs.
Miscellaneous	7,659 lbs.

Mayor Kersenbrock is awarding $20.00 in cash prizes to the individuals or classes bringing in the most scrap. The prize money will be divided equally between the two schools and a set sum will go to the grades and to the high schools.

Plans are to have a convocation for the two schools in the first week of November with an appropriate program and at that time announce the contest winners and present the awards.

In the Public School the upper classes in high school are competing against the two lower classes and to date the lower classes are in the lead by 6,349 pounds. In the grades the Third grade is out in front with almost a two to one lead.

It is unbelievable what young people can achieve when they set their heart as a group to do a certain job. Their achievement in this scrap drive again illustrates what can be done when there is united effort.

Nebraska State Teachers Convention will be held on October 29 and 30th in the six districts of the state. The teachers in this part of the state will attend the convention at Norfolk. Therefore, the O'Neill Public School will not be in session next Thursday and Friday.

The programs at Norfolk promises to be a very interesting one with outstanding speakers and valuable sectional meetings. Mr. Ira George and Miss McCullough from O'Neill have been selected to appear on the ballot for officers for this district for the coming year. Miss McCullough is running for treasurer and Mr. George for the State Executive Committee.

CONTRIBUTIONS ASKED FOR WORTHY CAUSE

Appreciative citizens of O'Neill have for many years made up a purse for St. Mary's Academy to be used for the purchase of fuel. The donation is purely voluntary on the part of each contributor.

For many years the sisters of St. Francis have conducted St. Mary's Academy, accepting children of all religious denominations for enrollment. Admittedly, the Academy is a fine school and coupled with the splendid O'Neill Public School system, it makes O'Neill stand out in this section of the state as having great advantages for the education of children.

During all the time St. Mary's Academy has been operated, not one cent of tax money has gone to support the school. When considered that the greatest amount of taxes is spent for school purposes, it can easily be understood that the tax burden would be almost doubled if the Academy were not here. Citizens of all religious denominations, contribute to this worthy fund.

Lawrence Rouse returned from Stockton, Calif., last Saturday on a fifteen day furlough which he will spend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rouse, near Meek. Lawrence has been in the Army since last winter, and since last March he has been stationed at Stockton, Calif., where he is chief of a ground crew of air mechanics.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Thomas of Hastings spent from Friday until Sunday here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Protivinsky, and sister, Mrs. John Grutsch, and other relatives.
