DO THEY REALLY?

Sons and Heirs of God

Remember Mr. Quain, that father who is so proud of his son, Jimmie, because the lad is a chip off the old block, and the "spitting" image of his dad? He loves that son of his, not as other fathers love their boys, but with a deeper, stronger feeling. For years he saved to give Jimmie his start. He has eyed every step the boy has taken as he grew, correcting, encouraging and praying for his success. Reward? Yes, he has a reward—in the love and confidence of his son. They are good buddies; one, a first-rate father; the other a manly, faithful son.

Mr. Quain and Jimmie give an impressive picture of a human father and his son. It is more difficult to visualize the relations between God and us—His sons and heirs. Since God created all men to His image, every one is in a general way His son; but thru Baptism, there is possible a closer comradeship than this. Let us show you how.

Nineteen hundred years ago the Son of God became one of us—a man. He made no secret of His divinity, once the time came to reveal it. He proved that He was God by the miracles that He performed. As the Son of God He founded a church and gave to its first leaders the elements of its doctrine, laws and worship. Among these elements were the means by which man could be saved, i.e., attain the eternal destiny for which God had created man. We believe that today, God, through the Mass and Sacraments provides men—His sons and heirs—with the supernatural aid to reach the goal of salvation. Thru Baptism He brings them into the life of grace, by which they are elevated to share in God's own life. He provides nourishment for their souls in the Holy Eucharist, which is the special way in which Christ chose to remain with us, hidden from mortal eyes under the appearance of bread and wine.

Our heavenly Father comforts His children when they are in trouble because of sin, and grants them forgiveness through His human representatives, His priests, in the Sacrament of Penance. To make His children loyal and strong He sends them the divine strength of the Holy Spirit in Confirmation. When they have grown up and wish to be married, He blesses their union in the Sacrament of Matrimony. The continuance of His priesthood is provided for in the conferring of Holy Orders. And finally, when His children are about to reach the end of their journey through this life, to attain the eternal union with Him, He supports their weary souls in the Sacrament of Extreme Unction. No wonder then that we thank God for His many gifts, and particularly for making us in a special way, His sons and heirs to eternal life.
