Will You Help Relieve

the Pressure?

THE vital bank functions of protecting, col-I lecting, paying and transferring funds have been intensified greatly by the war. At the same time such patriotic activities as selling war bonds have increased the pressure on bank personnel. You can help relieve this pressure by banking in "off" hours, such as the morning, and if possible on non-rush days. You can help by making out your own deposit slips, by endorsing all items carefully and correctly before depositing and by banking by mail. We shall be glad to discuss any of these points with you.
