

What Camera's Eye Registered on Tunisian Front

Learning a Trade That Will Help Lick Japs and Nazis

Today it is possible for almost any enlisted man to become a skilled mechanic or technician for Uncle Sam. These pictures, made at Chanute Field, Ill., show some of the phases of training to qualify as hydraulic experts. Left: A hydraulic "mock up." This is a B-18A pilot seat with all the controls which operate the hydraulic system of the plane. Center: One of the important functions of hydraulics in a bomber is the opening and closing of bomb bays. Here Pvt. Willis Nord checks the operations. Right: Those huge wheels used on the powerful planes are retracted by hydraulic power. Here a wheel is being lifted.

Take-Off for Land of Rising Sun

This photo was made as a B-25 (Mitchell) bomber took to the air from the pitching deck of the U. S. carrier Hornet, to give the people of the rising sun a taste of war on their own islands. It shows the bomber climbing into a gray sky. The raid, made from low altitude by Gen. Jimmy Doolittle's men, caused large fires and great damage. Americans everywhere were aroused to overwhelming anger at the announcement that the Japs executed some of the eight fliers captured after the bombing.

They Captured Jap Position on Guadalcanal

Five U. S. men in Guadalcanal went out into glory when they captured a hill, silenced a machine gun thus destroying a mortar point that held up the American advance for two days. Their reward was a recommendation for the Congressional Medal of Honor for Captain Davis, left, (now a major) and the DSC for the accompanying men.

15 Years for Fire

Barnett Welansky, who was convicted for criminal neglect in the Coconut Grove (Boston) fire trial, was sentenced to serve from 12 to 15 years in the state prison at Charlestown, Mass., on each of the 19 counts in the indictment, the sentences to be served concurrently. Welansky is shown, left, with deputy sheriff, entering prison.

Back to Old Job

Vernet Witham, 19, of Elizabeth, N. J., is back at the factory making shirts. Wanting work with more action, Vernet applied for a job at a pretzel factory where the work would be more intricate. Said the U. S., "You are an essential worker in this factory; back you go."

At British-American Refugee Conference

Rescue of the oppressed peoples from German-occupied lands was the main topic of discussion at the British-American conference held in Bermuda. The principal figures at this conference are shown above. They are, left to right, George Hall, British delegate; Dr. Harold W. Dobbs, chairman of the United States group; Richard K. Law, British undersecretary of state for foreign affairs; Rep. Sol Bloom of New York, U. S. delegate; Albert Peake, British undersecretary for the home office.

Hands Across Mexican Border

No More Washday Blues for This Yank

When the Aleutian winds blow we may or may not have snow, but at least Pvt. Early Krech of St. Paul, Minn., will have snow white laundry. He rigged up this windmill washing machine in which a chain and sprocket connected to the blades of the windmill delivers power to the wooden paddlewheels in the wash bucket.

Fought All Three Axis Partners

Not every bunch of fighting men can make the proud boast of having fought both the oriental and occidental members of the Axis. Since Pearl Harbor this Flying Fortress crew, shown in front of the "Geechee" in North Africa, has blasted at the Japs, the Germans and the Italians. Commanding officer is Capt. Joseph J. Kramp, New Britain, Conn., shown at left.

'Landing' Vets

Two men who have led actual landing boat activities under fire in combat zones cast critical eyes during coast guard landing barge maneuvers at a U. S. training center. At left is Lieut. Douglas Fairbanks, U.S.N., who has been in action leading landing boat operations. At right is Ensign Stephen McNichols, U. S. coast guard, who took part in landing troops at Fedala, Morocco.

Kangaroo Victim

Maj. Kenneth McCullar, 27, above, of Courtland, Miss., outstanding master of heavy bombardment tactics, was killed in a freak accident. He was taking off on a night bombing mission in New Guinea when a brush kangaroo sped directly in the path of his bomber, causing it to explode most of its bomb load.

On to Tokyo

"Here we come, Tokyo," says a sign somewhere in New Guinea, leaving no doubt whatever about the sentiments of those who erected it. Since the execution of the American fliers captured after the bombing of Tokyo the "coming" is likely to be speeded up considerably.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Chewing gum and rubber tires have something in common. They both are the products of latex-bearing trees. The chicle latex, from which chewing gum is made, has a high resin and low rubber content. Rubber latex has the reverse characteristics. Chicle and Castilla rubber trees are found in much the same areas in Central America.

Synthetic rubber tires or tires have been under tests by B. F. Goodrich engineers for close to a year. When synthetic rubber becomes available in sufficient quantities, farmers may expect such tires on their tractors.

A Russian rubber-bearing plant is now being successfully grown in the United States. Its value in the American rubber program, however, is still undetermined.

Tire recapping has proved its worth-time value, but the recapping should be done before the tread rubber of the tire is completely worn.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

Wins Hun Fund

Each flier in one U. S. outfit in Tunisia contributes to a fund before each mission. The first to run down a German flier wins the bundle. Here is Lieut. J. D. Collingsworth of Boerger, Texas, collecting.
