SENATOR ASIMUS REPORTS ON LEGISLATIVE BILL 129

The Frontier received a letter from Senator Tony Asimus the first of the week in which he gives an account of Legislative Bill No. 129, the bill which provides a new way of dividing the counties share of the gasoline tax money, which was introduced by him and successfully pushed thru the legislature. Following is the Senator's letter:

"Legislative Bill 129, a new plan of dividing the counties' share of gas tax money, and introduced and sponsored by myself, finally passed the Nebraska Legislature and has been signed by Governor Griswold. This bill passed with the emergency clause attached, and goes into effect at once.

"This bill caused one of the bitterest fights in the Legislature in years. The only reason it received 35 votes on final vote was that we were lucky enough to place it on general file about five days ahead of Omaha's power bill, L. B. 204. We were entitled to 23 votes. Douglas and Lancaster counties used every means possible, fair and unfair, to defeat the bill up to final vote. After this bill was raised to the top of general file, six of our 23 voters agreed to a compromise with the other side. This bill in its present form is this compromise, which only gives us one-half of what my original bill would have brought our counties. I hope we get the other half when the next Legislature meets.

"The bill as passed, however, gives our district a good gain. Figured on the average of gas tax collections of 1939 to 1943, it gives:

- "Holt county, approximate gain of $10,000 to $10,500 per year.
- "Boyd county, approximate gain of $4,000 to $4,400 per year.
- "Rock county, approximate gain of $3,300 to $3,500 per year.
- "Keya Paha county, approximate gain of $2,900 to $3,100 per year.

"This same principle of division on rural population will also work on vehicle registration fees. If a bill is introduced in the next legislature on road registration fees, it will almost double the money left in our counties for this purpose."

F. F. A. Agriculture Teacher To Leave

The O'Neill chapter of the Future Farmers of America held their monthly meeting on Tuesday night, May 10. They went through their regular business and then decided to have a picnic at Emmett Revell's. The picnic will be in honor of their advisor, Mr. Mathis, who will teach in Wisner in a similar position the following year. Mr. Mathis has taught Vocational Agriculture in the O'Neill Public Schools for the past four years. He organized the local F.F.A. chapter and worked very hard to make it a success.

While here, in addition to teaching his day classes, he had conducted one young farmers' class, two adult farmers' classes and supervised two mechanics courses at the Ford garage. He also helped coach football and basketball the past school year.

Livestock Prices Steady At Local Sale Monday

Supplies of livestock were moderate at the local livestock auction last Monday. Prices held about steady on most classes and the general market undertone looked firm. The hog market showed strength under pressure of urgent demand.

Lightweight steer calves topped at $17.20 with the bulk ranging from $15.50 to $16.50. Heifers in this class made $15.55 with the long end cashing from $14.25 to $15.00. Yearling steers priced from $13.00 to $14.50 with a few lightweights reaching a little higher. Supplies were limited in the yearling division.

Good beef cows with weight paid upwards to $12.50 for an extreme top. Bulk moved at $10.50 to $11.75. Thin cows made $9.00 to $10.00. Bulls scaling 1350 lbs. reached $12.50.

Hog receipts were fairly heavy and prices were extra good. An extreme top of $14.15 was paid on choice 250 pound butchers. Bulk of supplies moved at $14.00 to $14.10. A few sows averaging around 300 pounds brought $14.00. Bulk cashed from $13.85 to $13.95. Pigs scaling 70 pounds topped at $16.10. Next regular auction on Monday, May 31.

Nels Barbour, of Fullerton, Neb., left for his home Wednesday after visiting his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rieckley and family for a few days. He will leave the first of June for Hollywood, Cal., where he will make his home.

Miss Kathryn McCarthy, of Grand Island, spent the week-end here visiting relatives and friends.

Saturday Poppy Day

Men who served in the first World War were urged to be first to put on a poppy, next Saturday, in a message issued today by Paul Beha, commander of Simonson Post of the American Legion. Recalling the service and sacrifice of the men who fought for America twenty-five years ago, Commander Beha said:

"Men are again being called upon to give their lives for America, as did our comrades in 1917 and 1918. Our own boys and our neighbors are among them. Our hearts are heavy at the thought that these young men must meet the same fate as those other young men we left beneath the poppies of France twenty-five years ago.

"To show that we honor and remember the dead of both wars we have our memorial poppy. By wearing this little flower on Poppy Day, we express feelings we cannot put into words. We signify that we are carrying on in their spirit for the final triumph of the cause for which they laid down their lives.

Former O'Neill Boy Passes Away In Iowa

Clayton Messner was called to East Pleasant Plains, Iowa, on May 4, by a message announcing the serious illness of his brother, Clyde Messner. According to word received by relatives here from Clayton, Clyde died on May 22, at the Jefferson County Hospital at Fairfield, Iowa, and he was buried at East Pleasant Plains, Iowa, on May 24th.

Clyde Messner was born at Mineola, Neb., on December 1, 1884, and would have been 59 years of age next December. A paralytic stroke suffered eighteen days prior to his death was given as the cause of his death.

O.C.C. Will Have An Interesting Program

Already it is assured that the O'Neill Country Club will have a large membership for the present year. Gas and tire rationing will cause people to seek recreation near their homes this season.

At the Ladies Tea last week it was decided to hold frequent children's parties and dances. Mrs. Clark Wilson and Mrs. H. J. Birmingham were designated as a committee in charge of these enjoyable affairs for the younger set. It is assured there will be weekly or bi-weekly dinners at the club house. The one-day tournament to be held Sunday, June 20th will be in charge of Allan Jaskowiak and Max Golden. A bridge party for the ladies will be held the day of the tournament and golf players from surrounding towns will certainly bring their wives and lady friends to this affair. Mr. Jaskowiak and Mr. Golden will also be in charge of a dancing party for club members to be held early in June.

The O'Neill Country Club has usually been the center of social activities in O'Neill during the summer months. Government officials have been encouraged to seek recreation near their homes, and it is hoped that all old members and many newcomers will join the club during 1943.

The first of the week Mr. and Mrs. John Melvin closed a deal for the purchase of the Norton residence on the corner of Fifth and Clay streets. This is one of the nice residences in the city and is surrounded by a nice grove of trees and will make a splendid home for these O'Neill pioneers.

Mrs. H. J. Hammond returned Sunday from Paris and Aboliene, Texas, where she had visited relatives for the past few weeks. She visited her daughter and son-in-law, Pvt. and Mrs. Charles E. Chase at Paris, Texas, and her son, Pvt. George Hammond, who is stationed at Camp Barkley, Aboliene, Texas.

Neighbors planned early in the week to go to the Fredrich's home on Wednesday, the ladies laying hold on soap and mops and water to clean house and their men folks going to the fields with planters to put in corn. Mr. Fredrichs has been in an Omaha hospital for several weeks, the burden of much ranch work falling on Mrs. Fredrichs and the children, the oldest a boy under draft age, besides the anxiety of sickness and several trips of one or more of the family to Omaha.

I read of the death of Frank Barrett with regret. Frank and I spent an afternoon in visiting during the fair at Chambers last summer. I recall but little of what went on that afternoon on the fair grounds but the warm, friendly contact of an old friend remains a fragrant memory. "It is appointed unto man once to die." As we gave our parting salutations that day I entertaining no thought that the appointment was near at hand for my friend. Mr. Barrett was a steady, substantial citizen with a calm outlook on life that developed a strong and worthy character. He estimated men for what they were worth and placed an unerring finger on sham and make believe.

Stock tanks and windmills are now not freely available, making the water supply for stock a problem with some citizens. The first citizens of the county solved the water problem by taking a spade and excavating a sizeable hole, boarded the sides, fastened to the sides two upright timbers with a cross piece, to which was attached a wheel with a grooved rim and through this a rope was run and a wooden bucket attached to each end of the rope. Out there on the prairie we knew when Mike Carroll a mile north of us and Jim McTaggart to the east were drawing water by the screaming of those unrolled wheels. Vinegar or kerosene barrels sawed in two served as stock tanks to supplement the water holes elsewhere.

BREEZES FROM THE SOUTHWEST

By Romaine Saunders
Atkinson, Nebr., Star Route No. 5.

Cattle were brought in last week from Colfax county and put on pasture at Henry Knudzen's.

Not so long ago Yankees sneared at the "Chinks." Now comes along China's First Lady and steals the whole show away from our own First Lady.

Holt county has been favored with better weather than allotted to us this spring. Cloudy, cold and but little rain. All this is preferable to death, wreckage and ruined farms by flood and tornados experienced elsewhere.

A south wind worked on us Saturday and part of Sunday, when the sky became overcast with dense clouds and rain followed. Mists hung a soggy blanket across the prairie that rekindled the hope and verified the faith of gardener and rancher alike. Pasture lands are green and sustain the usual run of cattle but moisture is not yet ample to reward us with a normal hay crop.

The tragic fruitage of one-man rule is seen in ghastly outline across Europe, surging in the backwaters of Asia and overwhelming islands of the seven seas. Herr Hitler was not a bad guy at the start, but no man can be placed upon a pedestal with safety to his generation. As I view it, no man however great or how lofty his purposes should for the third time be placed at the head of the nation and a fourth term is unthinkable.

"During the past week or so Americans have learned the reason why it is no longer possible for a person to accumulate great wealth. The income tax has doomed fortunes of the future. It is not probable that this generation will experience lower income taxes. The nation will slave for a century to pay the cost of this war. There will probably be few fears at the passing of great fortunes but the masses of the people might well pay attention to whether the same proposal will impoverish everybody. Doubtless some of these emotional observations by an editorial writer will be found all too realistic all too soon if there is to be no release of the government stranglehold on the intelligence, the initiative, the executive and the creative ability that has not only built great fortunes but has rewarded thrift and industry in a less spectacular way.

O.P.A. DIRECTOR WARNS OF POSSIBLE GAS SHORTAGE

Harry J. Gleason, district director of the Sioux City district office of price administration, advised today that while the miles driven per car on national average has been reduced some 2,400 miles per year, and this district's miles has been reduced approximately 3,000 miles per year, it is still necessary that further mileage curtailment be effected.

The national office estimates that it will be necessary to reduce mileage an additional 400 miles per year, in order that we can make our present crude and reclaimed rubber supply tide us over until such time as synthetic rubber becomes available in quantities large enough to divert substantial amounts to assist the needs of the civilian population.

Mr. Gleason also stated that there is a definite possibility that we may experience a gasoline shortage in this area. If this becomes true, it will be necessary that this part of the country be included in the gasoline shortage area, and consequently, be regulated as they are in areas where they are experiencing this type of shortage. It is only natural that with summer coming on, many of the motorists will be looking toward the highway for their pleasure and amusement. Mr. Gleason urges all motorists of this area to think twice before making any trip, in order that every possible mile might be conserved, until such time as we can be certain of just where we stand as far as rubber and gasoline are concerned.

Motorists are also urged not to make applications at local war price and rationing boards for additional gasoline for unnecessary purposes, as this only places additional work load on rationing boards, and there is no way possible that this gasoline can be issued.

Mr. Gleason stated further that even though contradictory remarks concerning the availability of crude rubber and gasoline have been made, there is a definite shortage, as most people of this area have experienced, especially so in trying to secure tires. While it is impossible to make any definite statements just when synthetic rubber will be available, it is believed by late fall additional supplies of synthetic rubber will be available, and consequently, it will be possible to liberalize rationing as far as rationing of tires is concerned.

There are, at the present time, large numbers of vehicles in this district laid up, because local war price and rationing boards are unable to act on the pending applications. Tire quotas for all boards have been insufficient, and the Sioux City office has been trying to secure additional quota from the national reserve. We find, however, there is no national reserve available. Consequently, except in most critical situations, the tires on your car have to do until this present emergency is over. It is, however, anticipated that some relief will be given to the Grade III tire demands in the near future, in that many used tires are now being released from used tire suppliers and junk dealers.

In co-operation with our effort to reduce the national average of miles driven each year, all law enforcement officials have expressed their willingness to cooperate in this enforcement drive. Law enforcement officials will report to the proper rationing board any violation in the use of the motorist's gasoline ration. Persons holding a "B" or "C" book will also be reported if found more than 45 miles from their home, inasmuch as an "A" book holder only is allowed 90 miles per month of personal driving.

Amusement centers, race tracks, etc., will also be periodically checked during the summer months, and if it is found that persons are driving beyond the mileage issued to them in their "A" book, they will be reported to their local rationing board, who will take proper measures.

Mr. Gleason urges the co-operation of every motorist in this area to eliminate the driving of unnecessary miles.

He is retiring from school duties for the present and will leave O'Neill about June 1 for Denver, Colo., where he has accepted a good position in an essential war industry. The best wishes of a host of O'Neill friends will accompany him and Mrs. Grill and children for a happy and prosperous future in the Mile High City.
