Waste Paper Salvage Contest Among Schools Nov. 29th To Dec. 18th

America's paper mills producing for war are facing a shortage of waste paper. Some mills have already shut down, and others face the danger of having to close because they lack the necessary waste paper.

The Omaha World-Herald is sponsoring a three-weeks' waste paper collection contest among schools, to begin on Monday, November 29 and continue through Saturday, December 18th. The school in each county collecting the largest amount of waste paper per student will be awarded a beautiful 3x5-inch American flag. Although this contest is only three weeks in duration, the waste paper collection will continue for the duration of this war.

Salvage committees have been furnished with a list of price quotations on waste paper, and a list of companies who will receive their shipments of paper if they do not have a local buyer.

Pioneer Passes Away At Stuart Hospital

Burt Shearer, a pioneer of this city and of Stuart, passed away in the Stuart hospital on Thursday, November 11, 1943, at the age of 73 years, 11 months and 14 days. Funeral services were held in Stuart on Saturday, November 13, 1943, interment in the Stuart cemetery.

Bert Shearer came to O'Neill in the summer of 1888, coming here from Norfolk, and worked in a harness shop here for over a year. In 1900 he went to Stuart and worked at his trade in a harness shop there for a year and then purchased the shop and was the owner of a successful business there until 1921 when he sold his business and retired. He continued to make his home in Stuart until after the death of his wife in 1922, since which time he had made his home with his son, Mahlon, north of Stuart, until the past year or so when he made his home in Stuart in order to be able to receive medical treatment.

Burt Shearer was a splendid man and had a host of friends in various parts of the county. It had been the writer's privilege to have known Burt for fifty-five years and we always found him to be honest, square and upright and a man among men. His passing removes another of the real old-timers who had much to do with the upbuilding of this county of ours, but he, like those that preceded him, will ever be held in grateful remembrance.

Peter-Buckandahl

Monsignor McNamara officiated at a very pretty fall wedding which took place Monday, November 22, at 9:00 o'clock a. m., at St. Patrick's church in O'Neill, in the presence of a few of the relatives and close friends of Miss Anna Peter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peter of O'Neill, and Wm. H. Buckandahl of Stanton.

The bride was attired in a white satin floor length gown with a finger tip veil, and carried a bouquet of white roses with pink snapdragons. Her bridesmaid, Miss Thelie Peter, sister of the bride, wore an aqua blue gown with a matching blusher veil. Her bouquet consisted of red roses and miniature white chrysanthemums. The groom wore a navy blue suit with a white rose boutonniere. The best man, Frank Peter, brother of the bride, wore a navy blue suit with a red rose boutonniere.

The wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, to the clergy, immediate relatives and friends. A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, baked by the bride's sister Elsie, with a miniature bride and groom, was the centerpiece.

The young couple will make their future home on a farm southeast of Stanton, Neb.

Out of town relatives and friends who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. William H. Buckandahl, Misses Phyllis, Arlene and Bety Lou, and Ed Muhs, Stanton; Mr. and Mrs. Lummi Hartl and Francis Pilger; and Miss Mary Hartl, of Omaha.

The many friends of Miss Peter extend sincere congratulations and wish for her and the man of her choice many years of wedded happiness and bliss.

O'Neill Couple Joined In Holy Wedding Wednesday

Miss Dorothy Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Ryan of this city, became the bride of Second Lieutenant George Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hammond, also of this city, at a ceremony in St. Patrick's church at eight o'clock a. m. on November 24th. Msgr. J. G. McNamara performed the single ring ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor length gown of white satin. Her finger tip length veil fell from a white satin crown. She carried a corsage of white roses.

Her maid of honor and only attendant was her sister, Rosemary, who wore a floor length gown of flowered dimity and a blue finger tip length veil which fell from a wreath of flowers. Her bouquet was also of roses.

The groom, who wore his Army uniform, was attended by Robert Parkins, a friend of the young couple.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the M & M Cafe to relatives and immediate friends of the happy couple.

Mrs. Hammond graduated from St. Mary's Academy with the Class of 1940. For the past several months she has been employed with the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Lieutenant Hammond also graduated from St. Mary's Academy with the Class of 1941. He entered the armed forces in March, 1943, and received his commission on November 17 at Camp Barkley, Texas.

For her going away costume Mrs. Hammond wore a gray wool suit with black accessories.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Hammond left Wednesday for Alexandria, La., where the groom is stationed at Camp Livingston. The Frontier joins the many friends of the contracting parties in wishing them long life, happiness and prosperity.

Boys Appreciate The Cigarettes Sent Them

The following two letters were received by the local American Legion post from two O'Neill boys who are in the service and who had received their Christmas carton of cigarettes that were sent by the Legion Post, from the money donated by our citizens in the glass bottles that were in different business establishments the past four or five months. The letters show that the boys really appreciate their cigarettes.

November 10, 1943
American Legion:
Dear Friends: I received your very welcome carton of Chesterfields yesterday and I must say they will come in very handy. I want to commend your organization and every member of the American Legion for what they are doing.

I hope these few words find all the home people well, and tell them all Hello for me.

I am somewhere in the Aleutians Islands, but can't tell you which one. I have lots to tell when I return and I hope it won't be too long, until we are all back home with you all again.

Keep the old home town on top of the list and I know you will, so again I thank every member of the American Legion for the cigarettes and also the good work they are doing.

I will close these few lines by wishing you all a Very Merry Christmas.

Sincerely,
Walter P. Donohoe.

November 6, 1943.
Dear Friends: I received your most welcome Christmas gift, which is a carton of cigarettes. I do think that the folks back home can't send anything to us boys over here any better than cigarettes. I really appreciate them and thank you folks for thinking of me.

Just a word to let you know that I am well and happy, and I think the rest of the boys who are here with me would say the same. Uncle Sam is doing the best for all us boys. I like it here fine, although I'm just like the rest of the boys, would sure like to get back to good old O'Neill for a while. But, we all have a job to do first. And I'm sure with all the folks on the home front helping us boys we will all be home a lot sooner.

I'm signing this off with Merry Christmas and a Very Happy New Year.

A Worth While Donation To A Worthy Cause

O'Neill is fortunate in having two of the finest school systems in the state, the O'Neill Public School and St. Mary's Academy. These fine schools make this city a splendid educational center for this part of Nebraska.

The public school is supported by the taxpayers of O'Neill. St. Mary's Academy has functioned for many years without a cent of tax funds. Were it not for the Academy, the tax burden for school purposes in O'Neill would be almost doubled. Larger buildings would be needed, additional teachers would be required and the entire plant would, of necessity, be much larger and would require a greater amount of tax funds.

A group of appreciative citizens each year make a contribution to St. Mary's Academy, which fund is used to purchase coal. Anyone wishing to join in this donation will see members of the coal fund committee who are making a canvass to raise the necessary funds.

St. Mary's Cardinals Win Last Game

St. Mary's Cardinals got into motion again as they rolled over Lynch 48 to 14. Clark scored the first points in the first play after the kick-off. Two plays later, Kelly scored on an end run. Again in the first half Kelly scored. About two minutes before the half Campbell went 55 yards to score. That ran the score at the half to 28 to 6.

As the second half opened the Cards took possession of the ball and turned on the power. Two runs put the ball on the Lynch 30 yard line. A pass to Golden went to the Lynch 1-yard line. On the next play Clark scored on a plunge. From then on Lynch couldn't match St. Mary's power. Kelly and DeBacker each scored, running the total to 48, while Lynch scored to make the final score 48 to 14.

This was the last game of the season for the Cardinals, who started slow and finished in good stride. It was the last game the steller end, Jim Early, will play for St. Mary's. Next year, we look forward to a good season, as every one of the letter men but Jim will return.

This office received a letter from John Wrede, for years a prominent business man and resident of the county, but who went west a few months ago to make his home. "What shall we say of sorrow's hours,
Of hunger and denial,
Of tears and loneliness and loss,
Of long and bitter trial?
Oh, in the darkness have not we
Seen new, repented stars?
Have we not learned some song
Of faith
Within our prison bars?"

A little boy was crying with unrestrained abandon as a motherly matron in passing time home asked him what was the matter. "I lost my tin whistle." The boy had life, health, home, parents to be happy over, but he forgot all these in his grief over the loss of a penny whistle. The loss of a tin whistle often overshadows great values in our lives.

The human touch, the art and music, the material things, the fruit and wheat and corn—is that all our Thanksgiving means?

"Not only for the earth's rich gifts,
Strewn thick along our way,
Her looks of constant loveliness,
We thank our God today;
But for the spirit's subtle growth,
The higher, better part,
The treasures gathered in the soul—
The harvest of the heart."

BREEZES FROM THE SOUTHWEST

By Romaine Saunders
Atkinson, Nebr., Star Rt. No. 5

The lasting pleasures of life are found in loyalty to duty and in doing good.

Drinking water neither makes a man sick, nor in debt nor his wife a widow, observed a notable gentleman. He might have added that water is also good for dirty faces. And you will not know perfect ablution on the outside and refreshing within until you have used the water of southwest Holt.

Unionists continue to demand more pay, the alibi being "increased living costs." Whatever increases in living costs there are can be traced to increased costs of production, mostly accounted for in the higher wages. Many citizens are making the sacrifices the times call for with no thought of a "strike" for increased income and are doing very well at it.

A Kansas paper gives this out as a true story:
An Atchison woman will sue for divorce. She will allege terrible, terrible cruelty. The first time she consulted her attorney he asked: "Do you think your husband will fight the case?"
And she returned thusly: "Fight? Why, the little wart don't even dare come into a room where I am."

Thanksgiving. It finds Yankee-land with a lot to complain about, real and fancied—a people of freedom's heritage unconquered to life under the restrictions of a multitude of high behests, brought upon them because of the tragedy and ruin abroad in the world. The silent suffering in desolated homes to which a brief message concerning a son, lost in action has come.

"What shall we say of sorrow's hours,

Of long and bitter trial?

One of the best Negro farmers of Hale county came to the owner of the plantation to get his "advances" agreed on for the next year. The owner said: "Why, Charlie, we just had our settlement for this year two weeks ago. You paid your account in full and had $700 left, which you said you were going to put back in the bank. Why borrow money to run on next year when you have your home, mules, cows, chickens, meat and everything else you need, and more money already than you could possibly need to finance your operations? Where is your money?" Charlie replied: "It's still in the bank, Cap'n, and that's where it's goin' to stay. You think I'm fool enough to risk my own money on next year's crops?"

Gallagher, Holt county chairman of the War Fund Drive.

office ever worth it? One county treasurer thought it wasn't and quit the job. In that hectic period, if a member of one faction was seen with a member of the other faction they were considered subjects for discipline. That there is today those affiliated with opposing political groups working side by side in the same office indeed marks a change in Holt county. It has taken a long time for men to come to their senses to the extent of recognizing the human worth in others.

An appeal for producers, packers and other marketing interests to cooperate in the orderly marketing and handling of this year's record hog production was made late last week by the War Food Administration. The statement follows:

"The seasonal increase in hog marketing has resulted in a temporary glut in some markets and packing centers. In view of this situation, all producers are warned to get in touch with their marketing agency before shipping their hogs, and to make sure they can be handled.

The War Food Administration is supporting hog prices at $13.75 Chicago basis for good and choice 200-270-pound hogs by providing a market for all of the pork and pork products packers produced in excess of the quantity needed for the civilian rationing program and at a price which will enable them to pay producers not less than the support price. Furthermore, as civilian demand for pork continues to exceed the civilian prices, a seasonal decline in pork prices is in prospect. Packers, therefore, have indicated a willingness to buy at the support level all the hogs they can handle. Steps are being taken to assist packers in securing additional labor so that more hogs may be handled.

"While the support level is expressed in terms of Chicago, war agencies are buying pork that is offered by all federally-inspected plants regardless of their location as a means of supporting the general level of hog prices throughout the country at not less than the support basis. The support program, therefore, should result in the maintenance of hog prices at points other than Chicago in normal seasonable relationship with the stated support level at Chicago.

"The hog marketing and price support situation was recently discussed with producers, packers, and marketing interests at a series of conferences in the corn belt. All of the interested agencies expressed the opinion that through concerted action and cooperation, orderly marketing can be accomplished and the record hog supply marketed at the price level support or higher."

National Collection Of Discarded Clothing And Rags Nov. 22 To Dec. 4

Herbert M. Faust, director of the salvage division of the War Production Board, in announcing the drive for the collection of discarded clothing and rags, said: "The need for clothing to aid in the rehabilitation of people in the liberated countries abroad and for relief purposes here at home had made this drive necessary. In addition rags are desperately needed by our armed forces and industry for wiping purposes and other essential use.

"Many of our textile mills that would normally produce new clothing materials are now engaged in weaving cloth for war. While there is no shortage here at home, our manufacturing facilities are not great enough to make all the new clothing needed this winter in the occupied and liberated countries, therefore, we are attempting in this two-week period to get enough discarded clothing to do the job.

"A number of American associations for domestic and foreign relief, charities, churches, and others have collected and prepared for reuse all types of discarded clothing. Waste collectors and old clothes dealers have bought rags and old clothes for a number of years.

"This collection is not an attempt to ignore the normal and permanent business of these dealers and associations. It simply means a more intensified effort to get old clothes and rags than would be collected through normal activities.

"Any clothing which the owner knows will be used now or in the immediate future is not wanted. Discarded clothing only is wanted — clothing the owner no longer intends to wear.

"All types are needed for men, women, boys, girls, and infants. And any unwearable clothing which can be reduced to rags is wanted. Donors are requested to see that woolen garments are brushed and cotton garments and rags are clean. Mending is not required.

"Shoes are not wanted, nor rubbers, rubber boots, overshoes, galoshes, slippers, leather leggings, leather gloves, hats, caps, neckties, collars, garters, garter belts, suspenders, belts, girdles, corsets, brassieres, veils, spats, rubber coats, diapers and masculine costumes.

"Churches of all denominations will assist in the drive. Many of them will open their doors as collection depots, others will aid established groups. Complete details of collections for your area will be announced by your local salvage committee, who is in charge of the program.

"Ten per cent of the amount collected, if needed, will be held for relief work in that area.

"This is another opportunity for America to do this humanitarian work necessary for relief and rehabilitation purposes at home and abroad."
