Northwestern Bell Has Plans For The Future

It has always been the policy of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company to provide the best possible service to its rural customers. For some time prior to the outbreak of World War II, the company had under way an extensive program for improving and expanding telephone service in rural areas. As materials became scarce due to the production of implements of war, this program had to be discontinued.

The rural telephone development in the states of Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska and North and South Dakota where the Northwestern Bell Company operates is the 2nd highest in the country. In the territory served by the company in Nebraska, for example, 46.8 per cent of the farms have telephones.

There has been some relaxing of restrictions in providing telephone service to farmers and during the past year the Northwestern Bell Company has gained 3,740 rural telephones. As restrictions are entirely removed and materials become available generally, it is the company's intention to carry out a rural development program designed to make good dependable telephone service available to every farm in the territory it serves and the company will undertake every reasonable and practicable step to accomplish this.

The company now provides rural service to a total of 125,500 Company-owned and service station telephones. In addition to the pole lines required to serve these telephones, a vast amount of central office equipment and buildings to house it are necessary.

Know Your State Traffic Laws And Save Accidents

A common cause of many accidents is that of improper passing. The following hints, taken from our traffic laws, should help you in improving your passing. When you have overtaken another car and wish to pass it, but sure there is sufficient space ahead. Give a left turn signal to notify the driver behind you that you are changing lanes. Then sound your horn so that the driver ahead of you will know that you intend to pass. Always pass other cars on the left. A good way to judge when you are safely past a car is when you can see it in your rearview mirror. Then you can return to the right hand side of the road.

Passing cars on hills and curves, at intersections and other dangerous places is not only dangerous but is forbidden by law.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 28TH LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT:

It certainly warms the "cockles of a man's heart" to know he has so many tried and true friends and to my many loyal supporters who made my election possible, I desire to express my heartfelt thanks.

DENNIS H. CRONIN.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Froelich returned today from a two weeks stay in New York.

Distinguished Flying Cross Awarded O'Neillite

Air Transport Command Base, India—Lt. Robert J. Earley, pilot, O'Neill, Nebraska, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, it was announced by Brig. Gen. William H. Tunner, commanding general of the India China Division, Air Transport Command.

The award was made upon completion of 300 hours of operational flight in transport over the dangerous and difficult India-China air routes, where enemy interception and attack was probable and expected.

The air trail over the Hump, famed route through the towering peaks of the Himalaya Mountains blazed by the Air Transport Command, is recognized by air men as the world's toughest. Today the Hump route is the only lifeline of vital military supplies for the Allied forces fighting the Japanese in China.

The citation accompanying the award reads: "Flying at night as well as by day, at high altitudes over impassable, mountainous terrain through areas characterized by extremely treacherous weather conditions necessitating long periods of operation on instruments. . . requiring courageous and superior performance of his duties to overcome. . . he accomplished his mission with distinction."

The award was made for the period of service November 1, 1943, to May 10, 1944.

With the 25th Infantry Division in the South Pacific, Private First Class James E. Carney, cannoner with the 89th Field Artillery Battalion and son of John C. Carney, of O'Neill, is a veteran of two campaigns in the Solomon Islands.

Before his induction in March, 1942, Carney was employed by the State Highway department. In June, 1942, he was shipped to the Hawaiian Islands.

Northwestern Railroad Assists In Bond Drive

Holt county will be credited with $20,000 in war bonds by the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company as the result of its purchase of $20,000,000 in Sixth War Loan bonds.

This was announced today by R. L. Williams, president of the railway company, who pointed out that as in previous purchases by the railway company, credit will be allocated to more than 200 counties in eight of the states in which the railway operates.

"Since the First War Loan drive the Northwestern has purchased more than $150,000,000 in war securities," Mr. Williams declared. "This does not include war bonds purchased by company officers and employees who have been making and will continue to make substantial purchases on the payroll allotment plan."

"In recent weeks our armed forces have intensified their activities to a greater degree than at any other time since the beginning of the war," Williams said. "It is very important, therefore, that we at home add to the pressure being brought on the enemy by making the Sixth War Loan Drive a success."

The Nebraska Scene

Comment, Political and Otherwise From the State Capitol, by the Lowell Service, Edited by G. W. Kline.

Lincoln, Nebr., Nov. 27, 1944—Fundamental data designed to play an important part in the struggle to develop Nebraska's water and power resources is now in the files of the legislative council. The survey made by Chairman C. Petrus Peterson and the subcommittee on water diversion clearly shows that a regional authority must be set up to cope adequately with the conditions in the Missouri Valley.

The summary referred to by the council last week calls for no immediate legislation. Diversion from one watershed to another is discouraged, unless the needs of the residents are fully met. The divergent views of the various districts are set forth. The report emphatically blasts any form of "peonage" or excessive charges for water for irrigation. The report declares that federal authority should undertake the development on a regional scale, with charges to irrigators reduced to a minimum: no liens; no revenue bonds.

Suggestion is made as to possible reconciliation of the differences between Tri-County and Mid-State, without detriment to the patrons of either district. There is a hint of "diagonal diversion," the transfer of water between watersheds. Modern engineering to bring about flood control, navigation, control of soil erosion, and the utilization of subsurface waters is endorsed.

At Washington, the battle rages over the Missouri Valley authority. In the senate, an effort was made to pass flood control and Missouri River routine appropriations without foregoing regional improvements. A powerful bloc spearheaded by the private power and railway interests, wish to defeat Great Plains rehabilitation in the lame-duck congress, while the friends of the MVA wish to try out a carefully prepared bill in the 79th congress.

One of the unique features of the proposed bill is the "patron control" idea. Originally suggested by the late George W. Norris for TVA, the plan has been greatly refined by Senator C. Petrus Peterson. By means of a delegate system, the patrons choose the governing board of the authority.

The fight in the legislature will be to establish an agency to cooperate with the MVA, if and when it is to be set up by congress. It is estimated that the initial outlay in Nebraska would be $500,000,000. More than half of this sum is earmarked for the Niobrara, the Elkhorn basin, and the flood-devastated areas of eastern Nebraska. The appropriation is in addition to the routine rivers and harbors funds.

The power fight in the 1945 unicameral probably will rage with undiminished fury. A clever attempt will be made to scrap the condemnation statute under the guise of a bill to compel Consumers to deed to each town the distribution system on payment of $1 when the bonds are amortized.

The PWA at Washington is closely watching developments. A bill may be presented to set up a utility commission, and to divorce power and irrigation from the office of the state engineer. This commission would exercise the functions of the Nebraska Public Power System in marketing the power generated by the hydros. This measure would also dissolve Consumers and place all local distributing systems under the management of the mayors and city councils. Thus it would be assumed that the municipalities had purchased the systems under an instalment contract; must operate the plants under rate schedules set up by the utility commission; become owners when the bonds are paid off. This is the plan followed by TVA.

Special reports by the SEC and other agencies are expected to place private power companies on the defensive. These disclosures may come early in January. There is some nervousness among the members of Chairman C. Raacke's power investigation committee. There is a desire to attach a stout string to the committee report, so that it can be yanked back if the federals turn up hot stuff.

Members of the legislative council seemed worried about the industrial situation in Nebraska. Post-war planning from a state standpoint is practically non-existent. Senator Cliff Ogden and his colleagues are considering facts concerning the educational system, a need for progress in bringing the state university up to a standard that can meet post-war demands, and improvements in the taxation system.

The council will not sponsor any bills next session. John Wilson, of Lincoln, has been recommended as bill-drafter, with (Continued on page four)

No New License Plates Issued Until After Jan. 1

The State Motor Vehicle Division has, this week, forwarded to the various county treasurers of the State instructions as to the issuance of 1945 license plates.

Such instructions provide that 1945 license plates are not to be issued until after January 1, 1945. It is also requested that owners of commercial vehicles, at the time application is made for re-registration and 1945 license plates, kindly show on their old Registration Certificate, under the body type, whether the truck is a tanker, stock rack, etc., in order that the treasurer may carry on the 1945 Registration Certificate the proper description of the motor vehicle.

All motor vehicles, except commercial trucks, will be issued one license plate and this is to be attached to the rear of the vehicle. Two plates will be issued on commercial vehicles and will be carried in the usual places.

Commercial licenses will not, in any event, be issued to passenger cars unless the motor vehicle has physically been converted and a Certificate of Title issued showing the vehicle has been changed from a passenger vehicle to a pickup or panel, whichever the case may be.

AAA NOTES

Rationing of Corn Pickers Terminated

The War Food Administration has announced, effective November 21, the termination of rationing and distribution control over corn pickers, the last item remaining on the farm machinery ration list.

Dairy Feed Payments

Dairy Feed payments for the months of September and October are now being made. The deadline for these payments is December 31, 1944. Please don't wait—send in your receipts now if you have not already received payment.

1945 AAA Election

A second election, this one without parties, speeches and torchlight parades and limited to the farmers of the nation, will be held in the 10 States of the North Central Region during December. Some time during the month every farmer taking part in the AAA program will have an opportunity to vote for community committee-men.

The farmers elected at these meetings will be responsible for insuring maximum benefits to farms of their communities for the many programs and activities of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency.

More important than anything else, the organized effort made possible by the elected farmer committee-men puts American agriculture in a position to act quickly and untidily in the reconversion to peace, just as it made agriculture the first in effectively adjusting to the needs of war.

These elections, much the same as local school elections and like the town meetings of other days, constitute real democracy in action. With the approach of peace, AAA elections take on a new significance. The solving of farm problems at this stage of the war, and those that face the nation from here on out will require the best possible leadership and the full participation of farmers.

Watch your mail and county paper for the election date in your precinct—and plan to attend.

Harry E. Ressel, Chairman
Holt County AAA Committee.

St. Mary's Academy Note Achievements Make Since Start Of School

As two-thirds of the semester has faded into history, St. Mary's gives a backward glance to make note of past achievements. Scholastic activity has been lively, but extra-curricular events are worthy of special note. One scrap paper drive, held in cooperation with the O'Neill Public School, netted a sixty dollar profit. Another waste paper drive, under the leadership of Mr. R. C. Andersen, is in progress. Four high school dances have been held, the latest a Plaid Dance, under the auspices of the sophomore class. Proceeds are intended for the repair and redecoration of the classrooms.

The elementary division had sectional parties at Halloween, and a food sale before Thanksgiving. Leaders in this latest project were Jo Ann Simonson and Lu Ann Fritton.

Picture study, an art exhibit sponsored by the public school, and the purchase of copies of the masters gave a stimulus to the aesthetic. Patriotism expressed itself in the part St. Mary's students took in the Armistice Day parade and the program which followed.

An operetta, "Her Royal Highness Miss Jones," presented by the music department on November 23, in honor of St. Cecilia, was a social and musical success. Leading roles were taken by Thelma Reece, Patricia Scott, William Froelich, Robert Wallace, Edward Campbell, Joe Bigin, Shiela Taffe, Phyllis Chapman, Lou Iler, Leah Iler, Clopes Frederickson, George Janousek, and James Merriam. Marita Vanderheide was accompanist.

An undefeated football season is one of the glorious memories that will accompany the seniors out of school. Those who played their last high school football were: Dick Clark, Ed Campbell, James Golding, Bill Kelly, George Bohn, Ray Sullivan, and Tom DeBacker.

A nineteen-game basketball schedule has been prepared for the athletic-minded fans, as well as players. The game will sound for the first time on Friday, Dec. 8th when St. Mary's Cardinals will meet Chambers in the high school auditorium.

Students who rated on honor standing in the past six weeks were: Patricia Scott, Marita Vanderheide, John Bohn, Roseline Bohn, John O'Neill, Patricia White, Bernadette Hynes, Mary Catherine Turner, Mary Ann Winchell, Sharlene Shoemaker, and John Davidson.

Thousands Of Women Are Needed By Air Corps; Join The Air WACS Now

B-29 superfortresses now coming off assembly lines in a steady stream and being used in many theatres of operation have placed a heavy strain on Air Forces personnel, Army officials declare. The solution they point out is the enlistment of thousands of additional women to serve with the Air Corps.

"Many men are tied down by tasks that might better be done by women," an Army spokesman said. "The need for these men, mostly in ground crews and for heavy duty, is urgent. Therefore, the need for women is likewise vital. Women joining the Women's Army Corps now may select their branch of service, and we cannot urge them too strongly to consider the advantages of service with the Air Forces."

The Air Corps points out that Wacs help train the men who fly the nation's fighting planes, help keep the planes in battle trim and do administrative and technical work in the operation of Army airfields. They are radio operators, Link trainer instructors and parachute packers. They make and record weather observations, dispatch planes, repair bombsights, make aerial maps and direct air traffic from radio control towers at the busy Army airports throughout the world.

"Yes," the Army spokesman continued, "the Air Forces have a place for every woman who can qualify. Now when time is such an important element, women can do much to hasten the day of victory. They are needed now, today—not tomorrow or next week. Every day that passes prolongs the war by just that much. The Air Corps is calling upon American women to act without delay."

A short recreation recess was enjoyed by playing group games, after which they departed to the Sanctuary for devotional services. The booths were very well filled, O'Neill having the most quarts of fruit, Page ranking second. It is estimated about 500 quarts of fruit will be sent to the Crowell home.

PAGE PROJECT CLUB

The Page Project Club met with Mrs. H. S. Harper on Friday, November 24. Mrs. Harper and Mrs. Edgar Stauffer gave a demonstration on "Potatoes in Popular Ways." Four dishes were demonstrated and served during the lunch hour. Potatoes are a cheap energy food, having more energy growing value than any other vegetable, and fit into any meal because of their bland flavor. They supply a large amount of the daily vitamin C requirement, beside other vitamins and minerals. Potatoes need not be fattening, since one medium sized potato has only about 100 calories more than an apple or a banana.

Mrs. Harper prepared scalloped potatoes, using unpeeled, raw potatoes and potato soup, adding oat meal as a potato stretcher. Mrs. Stauffer prep red potato puff, using riced potatoes that had been cooked with jackets. Potatoes retain more vitamin and minerals if not peeled before cooking. She also prepared dumplings over chicken stew, which may be served as a potato alternative.

Mrs. Harry Snyder led the singing, "We Plough the Fields and Scatter." Mr. Raymond Heiss discussed "Alaska, Seward's Folly." Mrs. Snyder reviewed "Guatemala's Hard Headed Ubcio." Mrs. Harold Kelly discussed hot school lunches. The next lesson will be, "Sewing Made Easy."

Tec. 5th-c Lee Fink spent the week-end at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Fink.
