Transformers - and Why

THROUGHOUT NEBRASKA you have seen these large transformers—each bearing an ominous "WARNING" sign. Like many others, you may wonder just what part this technical equipment plays in your electric service.

If you can imagine 635,740 wild horses, you will have some idea of the "untamed" electrical horsepower Your Consumers Public Power District makes available through these transformers by utilizing the combined power facilities and water resources of Nebraska.

These transformers "harness" this electrical power to work for you. Just as wild horses are "broken" to work, these mysterious mechanisms tame and regulate the vast supply of electric power made available through Your Consumers state-wide, interconnected network of transmission lines.

You and thousands of other Nebraskans are thus assured an abundance of constantly reliable electricity at lowest possible cost—for the convenience and prosperity of Nebraska homes, farms and industries.

You Should Know These Facts

You and every other Nebraskan are the owners—the exclusive owners—of Consumers Public Power District. Here's the way of it:

This state-wide, non-profit organization is YOURS. By law Consumers is publicly owned.

You and other Nebraskans actually control YOUR Consumers. You elect the directors who manage all of the activities of the state-wide system. This is your assurance of maximum benefits and the best in service.

You and other electric users receive the benefits in the form of lower rates and the most efficient service possible.

Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Sanders Get Letter From Japan
Sasebo, Japan, Sept. 25, 1945.
Dear Mom and All:
Will write a little now as I have some time, but don't suppose this will get off for a couple of weeks or so, as yet there ain't no postoffice here. We landed, the Fifth Division Marines, here on the 22nd, that's of this month. Were the first bunch to land right in here and the Westmoreland was the second ship out of the convoy to tie up to the docks here. There was something close to sixty ships in the convoy. This is the Island called Kyoshue and the closest town is Sasebo' but there is not much left of it as our planes dropped fire bombs and I suppose other bombs on it and it is all burned and blown to pieces. As quick as our men and the Marines hit the beach most of the Japs went for the hills. We don't see hardly any around now. Most of them are in army uniform yet. When they meet us guys they bow way down and give us a snappy salute, just like we are officers. I haven't seen a Jap woman or girl yet. We can't take any souvenir's as we might set off some boobie trap or something. There is nothing but hills and mountains here, hardly any flat or low land at all. The Japs have little patches leveled off all around the sides and tops of the they raise their rice. mountains. Guess that is where they raise their rice. This place smells plenty Japie too, and that sure ain't no lie. The weather here is about like that you have back there. It's a lot cooler here than it was in Saipan. All we haul is troops and cargo. When we were at Maway we were on maneuvers for better than two weeks that got tiresome. I haven't got any mail for so long I won't know how to read when we do get it. Can't hardly write now as I haven't written for so long, guess I'm getting out of practice. Well, its about time for the movie to start so will close, hoping everyone is O. K. Write real soon. With lots of love, Wollis.

Discharge for Cpl. Winkler
Kelly Field, Texas: — After three years and nine months of service in the Army Air Forces as mechanic, Cpl. Leonard J. Winkler, Emmet, Nebr., was discharged today to return to civilian life. Cpl. Winkler last served at the huge AAF supply and maintenance installation of the San Antonio Air Technical Service Command, Kelly Field, Texas. Entering the army in December, 1941, Cpl. Winkler is one of the millions of Air Force men who personally contributed to the complete defeat of Germany, Japan, and their satellites. During his army career he served 24 months in the European theater of operations. Cpl. Winkler lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Winkler, of the above address. He wears the ETO ribbon, with three battle stars, and the good conduct medal. Prior to entering the army he was a mechanic with the Chevrolet garage in South Pasadena, Cal. October 13. The ceremony was performed at the county court house in O'Neill by Judge Reimer. Miss Mardell Butts served as bridesmaid, the other attendant was Asa Hubbard, of O'Neill. The Misses Ruby and Shirley Jones were also present for the ceremony. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Adeline Butts of Chambers. She is a graduate of the Chambers High School with the class of 1944. She was employed for some time in the Smith grocery store and later in the defense plant at Hastings. The bridegroom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones, also of Chambers. He recently returned from the army at Ft. Leavenworth, Kans., after five years in the armed service, two of which were spent overseas in the European area. Mrs. Jones wore a blue business suit and Mr. Jones his regulation army uniform. Immediately following the ceremony the young couple left for a short wedding trip to Grand Island. Upon their return they will make their home in the Manderson Jeffers house in the west part of town. T-5 Glen Taylor, who has been spending a fifteen day furlough at home, has just received a thirty day extension to his furlough.

THEN CHANGE TO THIS

New Fighting AVIATION OIL

If your car runs with fits and spurts... if the motor acts as if it were about to jump through the hood... here's sound advice. Let your favorite mechanic check it over and tune it up. Then change to Champlin HI-V-I... the new fighting aviation oil. And use it regularly. Champlin HI-V-I (High Viscosity Index) motor oil is refined by an entirely new dual solvent process... from 100% Paraffin base Mid-Continent crude... the finest obtainable. This new process gives Champlin HI-V-I greater resistance to sludging and oxidation... actually provides aircraft lubrication for your car. Close fitting, moving parts are bathed in a tough film of oil that stands up long after conventional oils break down. Your motor stays cleaner longer... has better compression... regains lost power, pep, and smooth operation. So drive into your friendly Champlin service station and drain and refill with Champlin HI-V-I. Available now in refinery sealed cans. CHAMPLIN REFINING CO. Producers, Refiners, and Distributors of Petroleum Products Since 1916. Enid, Oklahoma
