Cattle Brucellosis Checking Possible

Testing of Cattle Eradicates Disease

There was a further increase in brucellosis last year, according to the American Foundation for Animal Health, and the increase in the incidence of the disease practically doubled in the last five years.

Continued testing and retesting of our cattle herds is the mainstay of the nation's fight to eradicate this costly problem, as shown by the sharp increase it has made during the time when there were not sufficient veterinarians available to carry on with the testing program. Altogether too many farmers, in recent years, have come to look upon vaccination as an easy answer to brucellosis control. Vaccination is highly desirable, but it should always be looked upon as an important adjunct, not a replacement of the testing program.

With the recent return of thousands of veterinarians from military service, livestock health authorities have expressed hope that the sharp wartime upswing in cattle brucellosis may be checked in the early future.

Know Your Breed Holstein

By W. J. DRYDEN

The first importation of Holstein to be established permanently in the United States was made by Winthrop W. Cheney at Belmont, Mass. in 1857.

The breed traces back before the beginning of the Christian era.

Carnation Ormsby Butter King, champion butterfat of the U. S. on official tests.

The breed known as the Holstein-Friesian had its beginning in the Netherlands.

There are now in the United States nearly as many purebred Holsteins as all other dairy breeds combined. Many world champion milk and butter producers are to be found among the breed.

Guard Rail for Pigs

To decrease the large number of litter pigs killed by the sow stepping or rolling over on them, the guard rail arrangement in farrowing house taken at Texas station has proven satisfactory.

Easy to construct from lumber found around the farm, it will aid in preventing the heavy toll in the farrowing house.

Horn Medicine Funnel

Administering liquid medicine to livestock is dangerous when a glass bottle is used. The accompanying drawing shows a funnel which can be made out of a cow horn. First boil and clean out, then saw off about an inch from the tip and drill into the natural cavity.

Ladino Clover Proven Valuable for Pasture

Ladino clover, the giant form of common white clover, is showing considerable value as a pasture crop. High in protein, minerals and vitamins and low in fiber it is much valued as a feed. Ladino is aggressive under favorable conditions and retards most weeds and many undesirable grasses. Being a perennial of medium long life and of value in soil improvement it will prove valuable on many farms.

BUCK BEEF MAKES THEM BEEF . . . "Meat, all you want," says the enticing sign painted onto the window of the grocery company window on Olive street, St. Louis, but the irate housewives are not having any—not at $1 a pound. They form a picket line, complete with home-made signs before the shop to protest the price. This was one of several stores in St. Louis which were picketed in similar manner. Other cities also reported organized boycott, demanding return of OPA prices.

ONLY TEEN-AGERS VOTE . . . Georgia is the only state in the Union which permits teen-agers to vote. This photo shows two young voters at the portable voting booths set up in the Bartow county courthouse, Cartersville, Ga. Left to right are Bette Winterbottom, student at University of Georgia and Doroth Sanderfer, student at Shorter college, Rome, Ga. Red-gallused Gene Talmadge, 61, took an early lead over James V. Carmichael, 36, in indicated unite votes for the gubernatorial nomination, although Carmichael had a larger popular vote.

OUR DOG IS BETTER THAN YOURS . . . This is the claim made by these three dog fanciers. "Who ever heard of a girl having a real dog? It is a known fact that all good dogs are owned by little boys!" The New York lassie does not agree and looks with pride upon her "champion." Photo was by Irving B. Ellis in Popular Photography contest.

SON OF "SMOKEY JOE" . . . Robert Wood, son of the famous Boston Red Sox pitcher, "Smokey Joe" Wood, is shown in the uniform of Colgate university's baseball team, where he is one of the diamond stars at Hamilton, N. Y. Young Wood says that he intends to follow professional baseball as soon as he finishes college.

HUSBAND AND WIFE DECORATED . . . Believed to be the first ceremony in which a husband and wife received military awards simultaneously, Col. Robert M. Love, center, and his wife, Nancy Harkness Love were awarded the Distinguished Service Medal and Air Medal, respectively. Lt. Gen. Harold L. George, made the presentation. Love served with the ferrying division, ATC and AAF. Mrs. Love was originator of the WASP.

ONE OF GREATEST . . . Whether or not Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger, is as great as Babe Ruth, is still open to debate, but his three smashing homers into right field stand against Colgate proves that he is good.
