Ever take a good look at a telephone truck?

You can see at a glance it carries dozens of tools and necessary equipment to build lines and to make major repairs. Busy most of the time on construction, our 250 heavy duty trucks—each with its six-man crew of trained specialists—are also on instant call to repair damage from storm, fire or flood.

This is our way of being ready for both the expected and the unexpected. While we can't tell exactly what will happen, or when, we know that any day—or night—a truck with its crew may have to roll into action fast.

The cost? Nearly a million dollars is invested in these 250 trucks—only a part of the total for motor equipment. In addition, there are 1,400 other light trucks and cars required to provide you service.

Constant research, precision equipment, skilled workers, far-sighted planning— all to bring you the best telephone service in the world at the lowest cost.
