Good Business Cannot Thrive on Bad News

In Nebraska there are many hundreds of good citizens who are engaged in the business of selling beer at retail. They are citizens who appreciate, and have accepted, the responsibility as well as the privilege which their beer license conveys.

These beer retailers are striving to conduct places of which your community can be proud. They know that even one tavern where law and social decency are not respected, can cast a shadow on every beer retailer throughout the state.

That is why good beer retailers appreciate the work of the Nebraska Committee whose efforts are directed at helping eliminate those few who are making "bad news" for the many.

Rejoicing Over Flatless Trip, Inevitable Happens

CELIA — Alex Frickel and Edward Allbrecht were rejoicing October 14 when they returned from a 5,600-mile month's vacation on the West coast. They were happy because their extended trip had been devoid of such miserable things as flat tires.

Next morning, however, Alex didn't enjoy his breakfast. He discovered a flat tire!

Their trip took them to the Black Hills, Wind Cave, Billings, Mont., Yellowstone Park, Eugene, Ore., and Yoncalla, Ore., where they visited Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Spaulding. Mrs. Spaulding is the former Mollie Frickel. They also visited Edward Allbrecht's sisters, Dorothy and Minnie Allbrecht, at Portland, Ore., and his uncles and their families, John and Harold Bork. They paid a call on the Hynes family also, and attended the first horse races they had ever seen at Portland and then witnessed the Texas - Oregon football game.

ELECTRICITY ATTRACTS INDUSTRY

Scenes of new industrial activity are familiar in virtually every Nebraska community. New industries, engaged in processing or supplying commodities common to an agricultural area, are budding and thriving... bringing new progress and greater opportunities to Nebraskans.

Large amounts of low-cost electricity play a major role in this valuable progress, which, coupled with increased use of electricity in homes, and on farms, has created the largest demand for electricity in all time.

Electrical use throughout Consumers system has nearly doubled during the past ten years, as shown on the graph above.
