Prairieland Talk

Hundreds of oldtimers and lots of young readers turn first to "Prairieland Talk." Its author, Romaine Saunders (now residing in Lincoln) is a veteran Holt county newspaperman and a seasoned observer of the passing scene. He mingles sentiment with a lot of good common sense and "Prairieland Talk" emerges as one of the best personal columns in the state's press.

The Frontier Woman

From the little white house out on the windswept Holt countryside come the lines for The Frontier's newest feature, "The Frontier Woman." Each week this column is filled with homespun, everyday household and human interest news and chit-chat. In 1938 Mrs. Pease was chosen as the outstanding country correspondent in the United States by her writing in National publications.

The Frontier Photos

John H. McCarville, a newcomer in O'Neill during the past 18 months, is an old-hand in the picture-taking business. He started by making aerial photographs for the Navy during World War II. As a staff photographer, he covers everything from bubble-gum contests to floods. The Frontier during 1947 published more "homeprint" pictures than all other Holt county newspapers combined!
