PRESBYTERIAN YOUTHS ON TRIP

Ewing Group Inspects Boys' Town; Meet 'Neighbors'

EWING — Members of the youth group of the Ewing United Presbyterian church made a trip to Omaha on Friday to attend a youth rally at the Central United Presbyterian church. Young people from Omaha, Murray, North Bend and Ewing attended the rally.

Speakers were the Rev. St. Paul Epps, of Los Angeles, Calif., who is in charge of the new mission in Bel Vue Village, of Los Angeles, and the Rev. Chester Yeates, director of youth work of the United Presbyterian church.

Young people who attended from Ewing were: Sally Christon, Phyllis Fry, Alton and Verl Gunter, Beverly and Robert Montgomery, Doris Henderson, Betty and Louise Shrader. At the meeting, Phyllis Fry was elected treasurer of the Nebraska Youth Group of the United Presbyterian church.

The group stopped at Boys' Town and had an inspection of that famous institution. In the souvenir shop they discovered a neighbor. They made themselves known to Miss Mammie Cullen, who used to live at O'Neill.

One girl, Louise Shrader, added "color" to the journey by contracting a mild case of pink eye.

The group was accompanied by the pastor, Rev. C. Donald Vogel. They returned to Ewing Saturday evening.

Dorsey, called at Redbird Saturday. Kenneth Berglund autoed to Oakview park Saturday.
