

The Frontier Woman

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

Hi there, all you nice people! Oh goodness! A week of April gone all ready! Where does the time go? Before we know it, it will be time to plant flowers and gardens and the kids will be counting the days until school's out. I must be getting old for sure, or else time wouldn't go by so fast.

Advice to the Cook-Worn —
Nope 'taint advice to the lovelorn we're giving, but advice to the cook-worn. One can get awfully tired of cooking and keeping house every now and then.

That's why it's a good idea to get out of the rut now and then. Try a new dish. Hang the curtains a different way, do things differently and life will take on a new zest.
For instance, I saw a kitchen the other day papered with sidewall pattern both sidewalls and ceiling and I LIKED it. One would have thought it would have made this kitchen seem smaller, but it didn't. The oil cloth tiling in this kitchen had been painted a bright blue, and the effect was good!

A friend of mine not wanting to spend money for wallpaper for a hallway but muchly desiring clean paper in the hall, hunted up all the odds and ends of wallpaper she had on hand, and wallpapered the room with the plain side out and the figured side in. Result: clean looking hallway. She cut border from a roll of wall paper that had a bright striped pattern. It did very well.

You might buy an extra roll of a striped wallpaper and neatly cut the stripes from one roll and use that as a border for windows and doors, neatly encircling the windows and doors with the border. It's different, too.

I know a gal who bought a hat which when she got it home she found out was more becoming to her when worn backwards than when worn as the designer had intended it. She happened to be a person who had the courage of her convictions so she wore it that way. And she got lots of compliments Nobody ever suspected.

We are getting so we are too easily all poured from the same mold. We are losing our individualism and with it goes part of an American heritage. Have the courage to be different! If you want to wear your hat backwards and have a house with a red roof, for heaven sake go ahead and do so. Phooey to the people who think everyone in the world ought to live by the same narrow yardstick.

If some people hadn't had the courage of their convictions, we would have no cars, or planes, or chiffon cakes.

Somewhere in your life you have been different. Tell us about it. We'll bet it will make interesting reading.

Lynch Reader Winner—
In the meantime, here's an interesting letter from Mrs. Rose Kalkowski, of Lynch:

Dear Blanche:
Did you say you hoped for 'chicken recipes. Here's one that serves many purposes. It's a delicious ever-ready sandwich spread, it helps do away with the star boarder in the henhouse, this saves feed for the thrifty layers. Then, too, it's a good way to utilize the small bits of meat stripped from the bony pieces of a chicken.

CHICKEN SANDWICH SPREAD

Eight cups cooked chicken, chopped or ground, 1 pound olives, chopped, 1 pound pimentoes, cut in small pieces, 1 quart chicken broth, 1/2 teaspoon curry powder, 1 teaspoon ground mace, 1 teaspoon ground mustard, salt and white pepper to taste.

Combine all ingredients, stir and heat. Pack hot in jars and process pint jars 90 minutes, 15 pounds pressure.

Another tasty sandwich spread I can is as follows: 10 medium sized carrots, 3 green peppers, 3 red sweet peppers, 2 tablespoons salt, 3 eggs beaten, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup sour cream, 1 cup vinegar, 10 sweet pickles, chopped. Run vegetables through food chopper. Sprinkle with salt and add water to cover and let stand overnight. Then drain, add fresh water and cook until tender. In the meantime, mix the dressing of the remaining ingredients (not the pickles) and cook until thickened, add the hot drained vegetables, and pickles. Stir well, pack in hot jars and seal. For variety, green tomatoes could be substituted for the carrots.

MRS. ROSE KALKOWSKI, Lynch, Nebraska

Mrs. Kalkowski, I'm so glad you wrote us that good letter and shared that good recipe with us. One of our readers has been asking for a good sour milk pancake recipe. If any one has a real good one, why don't they send it to us and send along with it some of their favorite hints and helps and such?

Slick Tricks —

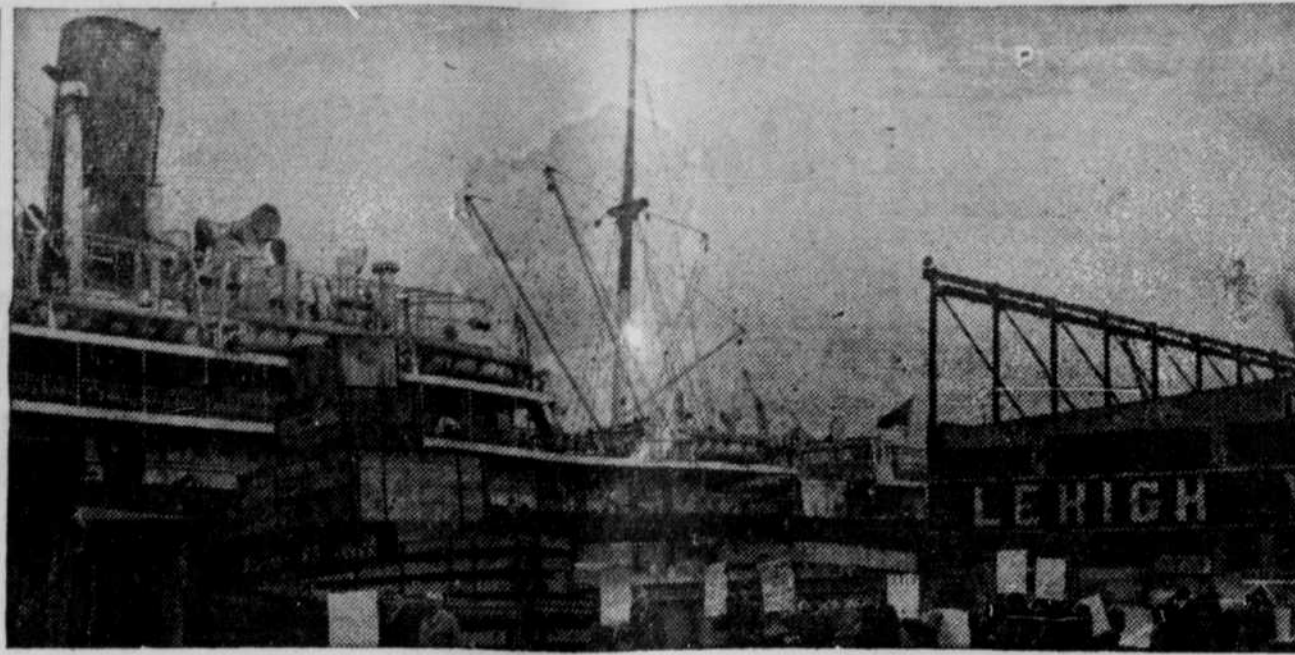

Speaking of chickens, a good way to singe a chicken is over the burner of your oilstove or gas burner. It does it quickly and neatly and there are no black fragments as from a newspaper or sack.

Going further in speaking of chickens, chicken feet make an excellent chicken soup yet many people seemingly do not know that they are edible. Heme economists will always tell you that they have a gelatin content which makes the best kind of soup, so save them when you dress one, or save a number when dressing chickens for the freezer locker.

Before roasting a fowl, remove the neck and simmer it with the giblets for gravy, soup or basis for making dressing. It makes a neater roast fowl, neatly sew the neck, shut after filling the neck cavity with dressing.

Want an extra special glaze on a roast fowl—then spread it with part of a glass of your apple jelly. Yep, that's what I said — apple jelly. Remember what I said about daring to be different!

VETERANS PICKET RUSSIAN SHIPMENTS . . . It seemed to the Catholic war veterans of Jersey City, N. J., that there was little or no moral parity in a situation where the U. S. was, on the one hand, going all out in the fight to stop communism and, on the other hand, continuing to ship materials and machinery to Russia. So they protested. Picture shows the Catholic war veterans of Hudson county, N. J., as they picketed the Russian freighter Chukotka at the Lehigh Valley docks at Claremont terminal in Jersey City. One sign says: "Supply today, draft tomorrow."

APRIL SHOWERS BRING MAY FLOWERS

● There is an old saying: "Plant potatoes when most farmers don't." That is true of chicks. Raise your usual flock or whatever your own facilities will handle without crowding. You should make some real money this fall from high egg prices and lower feed cost.

● It takes sturdy chicks with inherited vigor and size and from pullorum tested parents to resist disease and grow fast and uniformly. TRI STATE chicks are bred and hatched for results.

COME IN, CALL OR WRITE US FOR OUR APRIL AND MAY PRICES.
