FREEZE DANGER ISN'T OVER

Holt countyans kept their fingers crossed Monday night as the mercury tumbled downward and threatened a freeze, which would have been disastrous to the fruit crop and tender vegetation.

But a cloud cover moved in to the region and stopped short the mercury's descent. The lowest reading during the night was 35 degrees — 3 degrees above freezing.

Having weathered the scare, folks were beginning to breathe easier, but the weatherman promptly warned that the frost danger isn't over. Fresh in the minds of most folks is the combination snow and sleet storm of May 28, 1947.

Precipitation during the past 7-day period has netted .55 of an inch — .36 of which fell last Thursday. Slight precipitation has been recorded on 3 days since.

Meanwhile, the corn planting season is getting into full swing. Most farmers report the top of the ground is rather dry due to a moisture deficiency.

The week's weather summary, based on 24-hour periods ending at 8 a. m. daily, follows:

	Hi	Lo	Moist.
May 6	52	35	.36
May 7	62	46

May 9	65	42	.03

'SNEAKERS' SEE DEMONSTRATION

Ewing Class Sits on Sidelines During U of N Traffic Protest

EWING—The Ewing senior class picked an exciting day to stage their annual "sneak day." They arrived in Lincoln Friday, May 7, in time to see the "show" put on by the University of Nebraska students who staged a mass protest against the police who were attempting to check double-parking in the campus area. However, Ewing visitors did not stay until the end of the demonstration, but used part of their morning to look around the campus and enjoy some of its milder aspects.

In the afternoon and evening they covered the city, visiting the Capitol building, radio station KFOR, the newspaper plant of the Lincoln Star and other buildings of popular interest.

A few went to the ball game between Nebraska and Oklahoma. The group left Lincoln at 10 p. m. Supt. A. S. Evans accompanied the 29 students who went on the trip. The group travelled by bus.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Gilligan, of Omaha, spent the weekend here visiting friends and relatives.
