Ranch in White Prepares for Opening 1948 Season

SPECIAL TO THE FRONTIER
NAPER—The 10th annual national albino horse show will be held at the famous White Horse ranch near here on Saturday and Sunday, June 5 and 6. Horses from many points in Canada and the U. S. will participate.

The exhibition will mark the opening of the 1948 season for the White Horse show, which in the past has been featured at many of the leading fairs and festivals in the land.

The White Horse ranch is located 6 miles south of Napier or 20 miles north of Stuart.

This unusual collection of white horses has a background dating to 1913. All of them, now registered and known as American Albinos, have been bred and raised on the White Horse ranch. The herd today consists of more than 100 of these beautiful horses.

The Ranch in White as it is known, is the headquarters for the largest collection of white animals in existence, and many new species are being added each year. This ranch is also the home of the Ranch in White training and riding school where many children come to learn to ride and train horses.

The Ranch in White has been featured in some of the leading national magazines, such as Life, American Magazine, and others, and plans are underway for Paramount Pictures, Inc. to make a series of "Unusual Occupations" pictures for exhibition throughout the world. Warner Bros. picture, "Ranch
