Mary Lou Rayburn Weds Donald Heiss

PAGE — Miss Mary Lou Rayburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Rayburn, of Burke, S. D., formerly of Page, became the bride of Donald Heiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Heiss, of Page, last Thursday evening, July 22. The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock in the Methodist church. The single-ring ceremony was performed by the bride's father before an altar banked with baskets of peach and white gladioli, ferns and seven-branch candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, Rev. J. B. Rayburn, of Edgar, wore a gown of blush pink taffeta, fashioned with a high neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt, which ended in a short train. Small self-covered buttons extended from the neckline to the pointed front and the long full sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. Her fingertip veil of blush net was held by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried an orchid tied with white ribbons on a white prayer book. She wore a triple strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Shirley Sorensen and Miss Patricia Banta were bridesmaids.

Miss Helen Rayburn, of Burke, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. She wore a gown of pale green sheer over matching satin. The dress was styled with a sweetheart neckline and a three-tiered ruffle trim extending from the waistline to the hem. Her arm bouquet of white asters was tied with white satin streamers.

The bride's mother wore a dress of blue crepe and the bridegroom's mother wore a gown of blue mesh. They both wore corsages of pink baby carnations, tied with pink and silver ribbon.

The bridegroom was attended by Kenneth Heiss, his brother, as bestman. Darrel Heiss brother of the bridegroom, and Neven Ickes, jr., were ushers. Nancy Heiss, cousin of the bridegroom and Diana Fusselman, were candlelighters. Miss Heiss wore a white gown and Miss Fusselman wore a pink dress, both of floor-length.

Mrs. W. W. Johnston, Lincoln, sister of the bridegroom, played a piano prelude and the wedding marches. She also accompanied Mrs. John Lamason, soloist, who sang, "Yours Is My Heart Alone" and "Because."

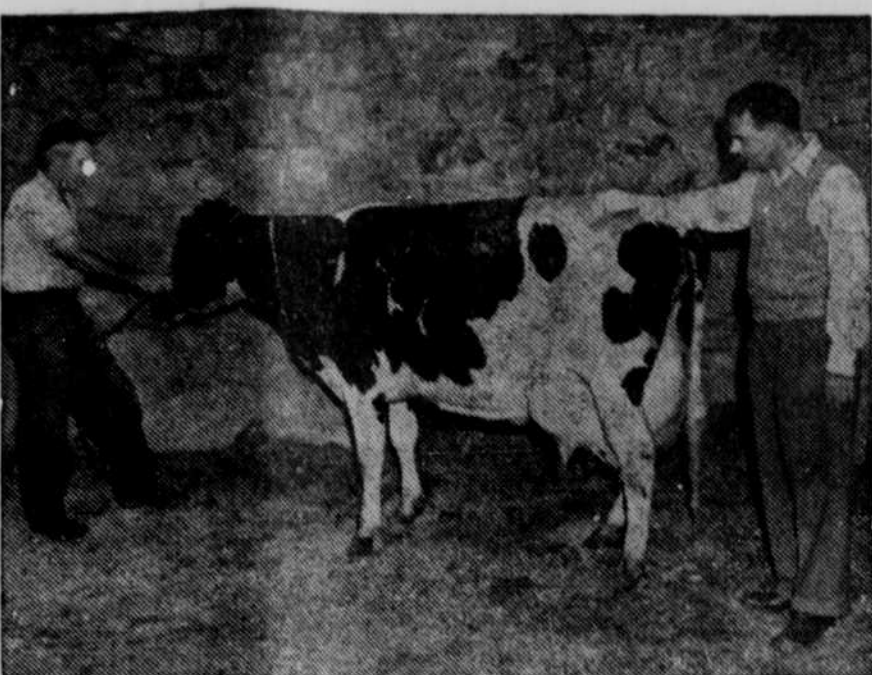

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for the wedding party and members of the immediate family. Mrs. Harold Barta was in charge. She was assisted by Mrs. Alton Bradlock, who was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Lloyd Fusselman and Mrs. A. L. Dorr, who were in charge of the gifts.

Mrs. John Lamason presided at the table. Mrs. W. W. Johnston served the cake and Miss Patricia Banta assisted.

The couple left on a wedding trip to the Black Hills after the reception. They will make their home on a farm north of Page upon their return.

The bride moved to Page 2 years ago with her parents, when her father served in the First Methodist church as minister. She was employed at the Farmers' Union store in Page.

The bridegroom was born in the Page community and was graduated from Page high school. He assisted his father on the farm before entering the service. He has farmed in partnership with his father since his discharge.

DOWN ON THE FARM . . . Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, relaxes at his Pawling, N. Y., farm before opening his campaign for the presidency. The GOP aspirant is seen looking over one of his grade Holsteins with his partner and farm manager. Not all his attention is centered on the farm, however, as Pawling has become the mecca for GOP politicians intent on mapping a winning campaign strategy.
