Young-Huston Nuptials Sunday

The Methodist church was the scene Sunday of the wedding of Miss Dorothy Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Young, and Walter Huston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Huston, of Middlebranch.

Rev. V. R. Bell, church pastor, officiated at the 2 p. m. ceremony before an altar decorated with mixed late fall flowers.

Mrs. Grant Peacock, of Emmet, accompanied by Miss Phyllis Seger, sang "Oh, Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Stanley, appeared in a grey faille street-length dress. It had a full skirt and puffed sleeves. She wore a single circled of pearls which encircled the round neckline of her dress. Her accessories were black. She wore a corsage of red roses.

Mr. Huston was attired in a brown striped business suit. He wore a carnation boutonniere.

The bride had her cousin, Miss Thelma Young, as her maid-of-honor. Miss Young wore a light grey-pinkish glow street-length dress, which had a jacket affect. She, also, had black accessories and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Pvt. Fred Summer, of Middlebranch, a friend, who was bestman for Mr. Huston, was in his army uniform. He is stationed at Topeka, Kans.

A reception was held at the home of her bride's parents for relatives. There were 55 guests present. The three-tiered wedding cake, which was sent from Omaha, was topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. The guest book was in charge of a cousin of the bride, Miss Marjorie Rouse, of Stuart.

Mrs. Huston, who was graduated from O'Neill high school in 1942, was active in rural youth work. She, also, taught in rural schools before taking a position in Omaha.

Mr. Huston, who is a great-grandson of the late Rev. Bartley Blaine, who was a pioneer Methodist preacher and founder of the O'Neill Methodist church, was a student at the Mitchell Bible school, at Mitchell, S. D., when he entered the armed services. He served 3½ years in the South Pacific.

After a week's trip through the Black Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Huston will reside at 630 South 17 Avenue, Omaha, where Mr. Huston is employed.

AND THOUSANDS CHEERED THE NEW QUEEN . . . This old world scene was photographed in Amsterdam, Holland, while the enormous throng that packed into the square in front of the Dutch royal palace was shouting, "Long live the queen," or its equivalent in Dutch. The queen was Juliana. She had just assumed the mantle of sovereignty after the abdication of her mother, Queen Wilhelmina.

The formal investiture of Queen Juliana, which also called for a lot of pageantry, was held two days after the formal abdication of Wilhelmina. (Thus, life sometimes becomes complicated even for royalty.) In this picture, Queen Juliana, Wilhelmina, and Juliana's consort, Prince Bernhard, are standing on the balcony of the royal palace.

O'Neillites Attend Presbyterian Parleys

The Synod of Nebraska of the Presbyterian church opened its 75th annual meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church in Wayne. The meeting is to be concluded today (Thursday).

The session was attended by the Rev. Ralph Gerber, pastor of the O'Neill church, and by Roy Sauer, the lay commissioner. Presiding over the sessions was the Rev. Thomas Barton, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, of Lincoln, and moderator of the synod.

T. S. Hook, of Wayne, was elected as the new moderator—the first time in Synod history a layman has been elevated to the post.

In connection with the annual session of the Nebraska Synodical society, which is the ladies' organization. The meeting was held at Wakefield. Mrs. Ralph Rickly and Mrs. Roy Sauer attended.

On Wednesday evening the two groups had a joint session at which time Dr. Herrick B. Young, of the board of foreign missions of New York City, gave an address.

Ernest Endsworth New Scout Field Executive

Robert Rispler, field executive for the Boy Scouts of America, serving the north-central and sandhills districts, has resigned, effective October 1.

Ernest Endsworth, of Omaha has been appointed as successor. Mr. Endsworth has a scouting background as a volunteer. He was a scout for five years in Omaha; he attended both Cornell and Omaha universities; he is married and has two children. Mr. Endsworth is an ex-GI of World War II with a record of considerable action in the Pacific as a sergeant in the Marine corps.

He entered the national training school for scout executives at Mendham, N. J., on September 21, and will be in school until November, when he will be available for scouting in these districts.

Baton Twirlers to Meet At Neligh

Entries have already begun to come in for the baton twirling clinic to be held on the high school football field at Neligh on Monday, October 11. The event will feature George Rhodes, national champion baton twirler, who will conduct a clinic of all high school twirlers during the afternoon and then present his "pupils" for an evening show set for 8 o'clock.

Last year's clinic drew more than 50 twirlers from visiting high schools, and this year's show will probably double that number.

Mr. Rhodes will be featured in the evening performance with his toss of a baton 90 feet into the air and his fire baton routine. Three visiting marching bands will be on hand to furnish music for the show.

VITAL POWER LINE NEARS FINISH

ed by Consumers Public Power district in a joint program with the Nebraska Public Power system to provide additional power in the area and will be leased for operation and maintenance to the system after it is completed, since it actually forms a part of the high voltage transmission grid.

In addition to supplying additional power for the area, the new line, being constructed over a different route than present line, will complete a triangular network which will provide two-way service for many communities in the area, thus assuring more dependable service.

Present plans call for an additional high voltage line from Ft. Randall direct to Columbus over which Ft. Randall power will be delivered to Nebraska. However, the O'Neill-Neligh-Norfolk line will remain as a second point of delivery for power from the project.

According to present estimates, it may be possible to obtain power from the Ft. Randall project by 1954. However, this possibility depends upon progress of construction which involves many factors.
