Farley - Tuschla Post to Sponsor Armistice Celebration

ATKINSON—Farley-Tuschla post 86 of the American Legion is planning a big Armistice day celebration next Thursday, November 11. Net proceeds from the all-day affair will go toward the proposed Youth Memorial building in Lincoln, which is being sponsored by the state department of the Legion.

The Farley-Tuschla quota is $800, according to Commander E. V. Hickok.

The Atkinson - O'Neill football game (see SPORTS on page 1, section 2) will begin the festivities at 2 p. m., followed by a rooster drop from a low-flying airplane.

The auxiliary will serve supper, beginning at 5:30 p. m., in the Memorial hall basement. Games will be played during the evening and upstairs there will be dancing with a good orchestra.

The Youth Memorial building will be erected on the University of Nebraska college of agriculture campus. It will be dedicated to the youth of the state, according to Commander Hickok. "Come to our celebration, have a good time, and help a worthy cause," he urged.

NURSERY SCHOOL TERMED 'SUCCESS'

Frosh, Soph Homemaking Students Sponsor a 3-Day Course

EWING—A three-day nursery school ended recently at Ewing high school, sponsored by the freshman and sophomore homemaking classes under the supervision of Mrs. Wilda Carr, teacher.

Classes were held Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. The girls directed the play of the children, told them stories, served them a simple lunch, and took them to visit the kindergarten department of the public school.

Children who attended the school were: Kay Bergstrom, Mary Maude Huffman, Jackie Kropp, James Mueeting, Dixie Rickett, Butchie Rothman, Cathie Vogel, Bonnie Welke and Marcia Wilcox.

Miss Rose Wanek, state supervisor of homemaking education, was a visitor. Miss Wanek, who works out of the state department of vocational education, stated that in addition to sponsoring homemaking training for girls through the public school, the department sponsors a homemaking program for adults.

In the large cities this program often includes intensive study courses in a wide variety of interests to both men and women in the field of family relationships and in the field of skills to make home more "homelike."

In the rural areas, however, due to the lack of instructors, the courses are largely limited to training in skills for helping the women to be better homemakers, she explained.

Miss Wanek termed Ewing's course a "distinct success."

Spend Sunday Visiting At Plainview—

Mr. and Mrs. James Moran spent Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dolan, of Plainview. Mrs. Moran is a sister of Mr. Dolan.

At the business session it was learned that Mrs. Halsey, who had been elected president, had declined the office, so Mrs. Ernest Young was retained as president for another year.

It was decided to serve coffee, doughnuts and rolls after the installation services for Rev. Ralph Gerber on Thursday, November 4. Mrs. Glee Grimes was appointed to order the doughnuts and rolls and Mrs. Ed Eisenhauer was named to take charge of the coffee.

Several jars of canned goods were brought to be sent to the Nebraska Children's home. Any other contributions may be taken to the next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Eugene Halsey on Wednesday, November 10.

The meeting was adjourned by repeating the "Lord's Prayer."

Stroller Comments on Sad Incident

By A. STROLLER

Having been engaged in the publishing business for many years and having often thought about the influence of newspapers, the writer was especially impressed by a recent incident.

He refers to the publication on the front page of the Arizona Republic one day of the human interest story in regard to the little boy who was badly burned. The story was accompanied by a picture showing the boy with his face covered with burns and his anxious mother bending over him. The story went on to say that the lad's burns were of such a serious nature that constant blood transfusions were necessary and that the parents' funds had become exhausted.

No special appeal for donors was made, but the next day's issue of The Republic stated that ample offers of blood had been made to save the boy's life. There was also a picture of some of the donors.

National Newspaper Week has recently been observed and it occurred to the writer that this pathetic incident illustrated the influence of the press at its best.

The supercilious comment is sometimes made that the press has become "commercialized," whatever that may mean.

It is true that a newspaper is a business that has its financial side the same as any other business and why shouldn't it have? Newspaper people have to live and pay their bills the same as other people, but the press still leads in humanitarian effort. Convincing proof of that statement is afforded by the incident of the poor, little boy who was so terribly burned. (Next week: Winter Lawns in Phoenix.)

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Melena spent Sunday in Verdel visiting Mrs. C. Kreyck and son, Otto.
