

Secret Information Sources Are Drying Up; Soviet Shakeup Details Are Not Known

By DREW PEARSON

Reds May Hit Iran

The iron curtain around the real truth about the Soviet cabinet shakeup is that no British or American observer really knows what's going on inside the Kremlin—and this includes our super-secret military intelligence men as well. Kremlin is almost impenetrable, and all the speculation as to what the Molotov-Vishinsky shift means was nothing more than that—mere speculation.

There was a time when the United States was able to get reasonably accurate inside-Kremlin information from the Czechs and the Poles but since the Czech Communist purge and the tightening up in Poland, those sources have dried up.

However, if past precedents are any criterion, the Russians will not take the North Atlantic pact lying down. They are more than likely to move—and may move in the opposite direction.

That is behind feverish American plans to fortify Iran, also behind U. S. Ambassador John Wiley's frantic cables from Tehran. He seems convinced the Russians will move there next.

"S. O. B." User Rebuker

The vice-president of the United States isn't advertising it, but he once participated in a severe note of censure of a congressman who used the same S. O. B. initials recently used by the President of the United States.

The vote of censure was taken against Rep. Thomas L. Blanton, Democrat of Texas. Passed unanimously by the house of representatives when Alben Barkley was a member, the resolution stated:

"Whereas Thomas L. Blanton inserted in the Congressional Record, a letter which was indecent, obscene, vulgar and vile;

"Whereas the said Thomas L. Blanton . . . has offered an indignity to the house and to the people represented by the membership in congress . . . for which he deserves the severest rebuke and drastic censure, therefore be it

"Resolved that the speaker of the house is hereby directed to summon him to the bar of the house and deliver to him its reprimand and censure."

The obscene matter which Blanton had inserted in the Record on Oct. 22, 1921, was a letter written by Millard French, an employee in the government printing office, addressed to George H. Carter, public printer. The letter contained the abbreviation S. O. B.

Narrowly Escaped Ouster

Nevertheless, Blanton escaped being expelled from congress by only an eight-vote margin. A total of 293 congressmen voted to expel him.

Among those in congress at the time were such close friends of President Truman as James F. Byrnes, later Truman's secretary of state; Tom Conally of Texas, now chairman of the senate foreign relations committee; Speaker Sam Rayburn and Vice President Barkley.

All the above voted to expunge Blanton's S. O. B. abbreviation from the record, but none of the above opposed the resolution of censure, though they did not vote to expel.

The attack against Blanton was led by the late Rep. Frank Mondell, of Wyoming, and Nicholas Longworth, late speaker of the house, also now deceased. Mondell, urging that Blanton be expelled said: "Anyone uttering in public anywhere the words placed in the Congressional Record by the member from Texas should be subject to fine and imprisonment. While we cannot repeat the words which form the basis of this charge, it can be said that they are unspeakably foul, vile, profane, filthy, blasphemous, and obscene."

After the resolution of censure was voted, Blanton was called before the speaker's rostrum, where Speaker Fred Gillett stated:

"I have been directed to censure you because, when you had been allowed by the courtesy of the house to print a speech, you inserted in it foul and obscene matter . . . and that disgusting matter was transmitted as part of the
