Murray Mellor Grateful for Experiences During Club Week in Lincoln, Omaha

(Editor's note: Murray Mellor below describes his experience during 4-H club week, which began Memorial day and closed Saturday, June 4.)

By MURRAY MELLOR

On Sunday, May 29, five 4-H members and one leader left O'Neill to attend club week in Lincoln. This is one of the most prized trips to be won in 4-H work and we who have won such trips feel very fortunate indeed.

My trip was won through soil conservation and was sponsored by Radio Station WOW. I enjoyed it all very much.

We registered Monday morning and the various groups were served uncheons or banquets by their sponsors. Then, on Tuesday began our regular schedule—breakfast, flag raising, discussion groups, singing led by Mrs. Tullis, talks by various speakers.

This time the speaker was Harriot Ellicott and she spoke on "Recreation for Youth," followed by a recreation period and other speakers, then dinner.

After dinner we visited the agricultural college campus and had a group picture taken of over 300 4-H'ers. Then to the agricultural college banquet at the student union after which we trekked to our quarters for the night.

Wednesday and Thursday were similar, with different speakers and different places of interest to tour.

Sixteen of us missed out on the discussion groups but were privileged to assist Miss Ellicott as leader for recreation.

Guy Davi spoke on "Training to Live," and Mal Hansen told of the "Youth in Europe." We visited the city fire department and several college buildings, including the museum, the Varsity theater, the state capitol and the First Plymouth were played by the bells for mouth church. Several songs us. This was beautiful and interesting. The largest bell weighs two and one-half tons and the smallest one less than one hundred pounds. We also toured Antelope park and the zoo.

On Friday we left by train for Omaha where we visited the packing plants of Armour, Cudahy and Swift, then walked to the exchange building where we were glad to rest and enjoy a good luncheon and entertainment as guests of the Omaha Live Stock Market.

After luncheon the girls toured some large stores and attended a style show. The boys toured Omaha industries and Joslyn memorial. Then we were together for a banquet by the Omaha Chamber of Commerce and back again to Lincoln where busses were waiting to take us back to a college—a tired group.

Our week ended with a breakfast Saturday morning—and we were soon homeward bound.

I'm sure we all enjoyed our week very much and hope many more 4-H'ers may be privileged to enjoy similar trips in the years to come.
