St. Mary's Graduates First Boys—
 On Sunday evening, June 2, the graduating class of 1929 welcomed their friends to the class day exercises held in St. Mary's auditorium. The school is justly proud of the class which numbers among its members 6 boys, the first to graduate from the high school.
 Program: "Grand March," Thelma Riley; salutatory, John McCarthy; class history, Frank Gallagher, Ivan Pruss, Ben Clifford and Harlan Agnes; piano duet, Winifred Starlin and Mabel Classen; class will, Gertrude Connolly; piano solo, Sara O'Donnell; class prophecy, M. An-

McGreevy; vocal solo, Miss Margaret Donohoe; reading, Miss Mae Hammond.
 Just before the close of the evening's entertainment, a tiny little girl, Miss Louise O'Donnell, dressed as a fairy, carried the $3,000 alumnae gift to mother Justine. Miss Anna O'Donnell, a member of the first graduating class, delivered the presentation address.
 The Alumnae association numbers 302 members, four of the numbers have gone to their eternal reward, and twenty-seven, have embraced religious life. Many are holding prominent positions in education work. Many more are splendid wives and mothers, possessed of every quality of head and heart to mould the thoughts, guide the steps, and control the passions of those upon whom will devolve, as citizens of the nation, the duty of upholding freedom.

 formed into a regular fairyland of butterflies and flowers. We were here entertained at cards and enjoyed a delightful luncheon.

At 4 o'clock we were escorted to the Royal theater, where a splendid picture, "Goose Hangs High," was shown. We then went home to dress for the evening. Upon our return, butterflies conducted us to the beautifully decorated dining room. After dinner we met in the assembly room where the future was revealed to us. The remainder of the evening was spent in the gym dancing.

1925

Prepare to Celebrate Silver Jubilee—
 On Sunday, June 7, St. Mary's alumnae gave the first of a series of social affairs to help raise $2,500 which is to be the gift of our alumnae to our alma mater on her silver jubilee.
 The affair was successfully carried out by the following committee: Mrs. Lottie Grady Hammond, Miss Anna O'Donnell, Mrs. Bea McCafferty Gallagher and Mrs. Anna Dwyer Coyne, who proved to be very gracious hostesses.
 The afternoon was spent at Monte Carlo whist at which Mrs. McDonough won high score and Miss Pauline Wirer won the all-cut, both receiving very clever prizes.

In the midst of the games an intermission was called and the following program was presented: Vocal solos, Miss Genevieve Biglin, Miss Eileen Enright; musical selection, John Robert and Gene Gallagher; violin solo, Miss Helen Wirer; a reading, Arlene Kettel and Theresa Bazelman; minuet, Helen Reardon, Grace Quilty, Jimmy Brown, and Jimmy Hart.
 After the game a delightful lunch was served and all left having enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon.

(Clipping from the silver jubilee edition, "Prairie Star")
 Theodore Piekenbrock, of Alliance, also spent the week here. He had spent the time renewing old acquaintances. St. Mary's is deeply indebted to Mr. Piekenbrock for his devoted self-sacrifice during the first years of her establishment, for it was he who laid the floors and put windows in many of the rooms after the carpenters had gone. This was done outside his regular working hours. Mr. Piekenbrock said his visit would not seem complete without a meal served on a packing box with a crackerbox for a chair.
 Mid Steamers of white and Lady blue, the long tables gleamed in their dainty pale blue and silver decoration, while soft candle light made brighter still the smiling happy faces. The dainty place cards evoked murmurs of admiration. They were the work of Sister Maxine and her talented art class. The O'Neill orchestra furnished fine music during the dinner. Between the first and second course, to the amusement of all, a representative of each of the graduating classes from 1903 to 1925, clad in her respective gown, entered the room to the well-known commencement march, made her gracious bow, and passed on amid much hearty applause.

Toastmaster: Miss Mary Gallagher; toasts: Very Rev. M. F. Cassidy, Sister M. Antoinette, Miss Mame Mullen, Miss Bernadette Brennan, Miss Margaret

400 Baby Chicks Die in Blaze
 ATKINSON — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the brooder house and 400 1-month-old chicks at the Beryl Beck home southwest of Atkinson on Friday morning, April 14.
 Mrs. Beck said it was the first time she had not gone to the brooder house the first thing in the morning.
 That morning she decided the chicks were old enough that she would wait until after breakfast to tend to them. When the fire was discovered it was too late to save them.
 It is believed that the chickens died of suffocation as they all appeared to be dead when the door to the brooder house was opened.
 Neighbors arrived almost immediately to help fight the blaze.

 Doctor Sturdevant was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Brantly Sturdevant, early Atkinson pioneers. Besides his sister, he leaves one brother, Dr. La Zelle Sturdevant, of Seattle, Wash.

 ATKINSON — Funeral services were held Monday morning, April 17, at 9:30 o'clock in St. Joseph's Catholic church in Atkinson for Mrs. Fred Jansen, 75, who died at her home here late Friday, April 14.
 Mrs. Jansen took seriously ill about 5 weeks ago and was rushed to Our Lady of Lourdes hospital in Norfolk. She remained in a critical condition for several days, but later seemed to recover sufficiently to return to her home.
 Rosalie Becker was born in Wisconsin and came to Holt county with her parents when she was 7. She was married to Fred Jansen on February 5, 1894. Most of their married life was spent in Holt county but they did reside at Casper, Wyo., from 1921 to 1933.
 The Jansens had 10 children, 5 sons and 5 daughters. All but one of them was here to attend the services. Mrs. Stewart Vail, of Anchorage, Alaska, was unable to come. However, she had visited her mother during her stay at the hospital in Norfolk.
