

Get-Acquainted Party for Faculty

EWING — Parents and others interested in school activities gathered at the church parlors of the Ewing Methodist church Thursday evening, September 14, to get-acquainted with the new teachers, and also to welcome back the teachers who have returned for another year's work in the Ewing public school.

L. P. Dierks, president of the school board, introduced Supt. R. K. Whittemore, who in turn introduced Coach James Pennington, of Wayne. Other new instructors were presented to the parents by a teacher who has taught some time in Ewing. A short program had been prepared and was presented by Mrs. Frances Shaw. It consisted of the following numbers: "Welcome," by L. P. Dierks; "Response," by Supt. R. K. Whittemore, duet, "School Days," by Judy Jeffries and Dana Sisson, accompanied by Mrs. Kermit Jeffries at the piano; clarinet solo, "Clarinet Polka," by Marcia Gibson, accompanied by Mary Alys Dierks; vocal solo, "Mona Lisa," by Joellyn Eacker, accompanied by Mary Alys Dierks.

At the conclusion of the program, teachers, fathers, mothers and friends enjoyed a social hour.

The refreshment committee served light and dark cup cakes with coffee.

The new teachers are: Supt. Rodney K. Whittemore, who is a graduate of York college and comes from Elmwood, where he was superintendent the past 7 years; Mrs. Whittemore, who is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, is the teacher of grade 8; James Pennington, a graduate of the Wayne State Teachers' college, is the coach; Margaret McKinnon, who is the instructor in home economics and English, is a graduate of the state college of Brookings, S. D., her home being at Aberdeen, S. D.; Margaret Primrose is a graduate of Eastern Nazarene college, of Wollaston, Mass., teaches grades 2 and 3.

The teachers returning for another year are: Lens Baker, of Neligh, who has charge of the normal training and social sciences; Elsie Chase, of Ewing, who teaches commerce and English; Esther Schram, is director of music and English; Mayme Housh has grades 6 and 7; Genevieve Vandersnick, of Ewing, grades 4 and 5; Iva Sala, of Oakdale, kindergarten and grade 1.

The party for the teachers was sponsored by the churches of Ewing. Persons who assisted were: Mrs. Clyde Allen, Mrs. William Spence, Mrs. Lionel Gunter, Mrs. Leland Welke, Mrs. Alvin Gibson, Mrs. Frances Shaw, Mrs. L. P. Dierks and Mrs. Dewitt Hoke.
