Miss Froelich an 'Ak' Countess

Miss Nancy Catherine Froelich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Froelich, was a countess in the mythical Realm of Quivera coronation at the Ak-Sar-Ben coliseum in Omaha Friday night.

Miss Froelich is a junior at Duchesne college in Omaha.

Miss Froelich entered the Quivera court side-by-side with her cousin, Miss Sandra Riddell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ted Riddell, of Scottsbluff.

Countesses' gowns of American beauty rose had Alencon lace bodices decked with gold and silver sequins in a floral motif. Skirts with six-inch trains were of lame under four layers of net, one gold sequin embroidered layer sandwiched between three plain layers.

They wore long white gloves of imported French kid and drop rinstone earrings. French-heeled opera pumps were dyed to match the gowns.

Miss Froelich's parents, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stout; her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Birmingham; her cousin, Edward Campbell, jr., and J. D. Cronin, all of O'Neill, were among those from here witnessing the coronation.

Miss Froelich, a St. Mary's academy graduate, is an economics major at Duchesne working for her bachelor of arts degree.
