Cook Picking Beds
PICK CORN CLEAN!

... in all kinds of weather!

The Cook Picking Bed is designed for the Case "Model P" and General Implement single row cornpickers. Pays for itself many times over and gives you really clean corn that will dry faster and shell easier.

Shucks Both Damp And Dry Corn

The Cook Picking Bed permits you to run snapping rollers very close together, allowing them to snap more ears and thus save you around 80 per cent of the shell corn ordinarily lost in the field. Field tested successfully for 5 years throughout the entire corn belt. Easy to mount, nothing extra to buy, no special tools, shipped complete.

Mrs. Belle Barnhardt Feted on Departure

EWING—Mrs. Belle Barnhardt was the honored guest at a farewell party given by the members of the WSCS of the Ewing Methodist church at the church parlors on Thursday evening, October 26. At 6:30 the dinner was served. After a social hour, Mrs. R. G. Rockey presented several very interesting paper and pencil games. Prizes were awarded the winners. A gift from the society was presented to Mrs. Barnhardt by the president, Mrs. Earl Billings.

Mrs. Barnhardt has been a member of the Ewing Methodist church for many years. She served as president of the WSCS, as well as other offices in the society.

In Sunday-school, she taught the adult Bible class a number of years. Due to poor health the last few years, it was necessary for her to give up many of her activities in church work. Her home has been in Ewing or its vicinity all her life.

They will move to Tucson, Ariz., in the near future.

The sale of Ross Barnhardt's and Mrs. Barnhardt's property was held Saturday and was well attended. Everything brought a "good" price. Their residential property was purchased recently by Mr. and Mrs. Ebben Grafft and has been rented by Mr. and Mrs. Lorraine Montgomery.

Mrs. Billings Hostess

EWING—The Thursday bridge club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Earl Billings on November 2. There were eight members present for two tables of bridge. Mrs. Perry Saiser won the honor prize. Mrs. Everett Ruby received prize for high score and Mrs. W. H. Briggs, the all-cut. The hostess served refreshments at the close of the games. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Archer.

Thanksgiving Theme of WSCS Meet

EWING—Eighteen members of the WSCS of the Ewing Methodist church met at the church parlors on Wednesday afternoon, November 1.

The meeting was called to order and opened with the reading of a Thanksgiving poem "Gratitude" by the president, Mrs. Earl Billings, followed by devotionals in charge of Mrs. Ray Crellin.

At the business session, second quarter supplies were requested, of canned fruit, vegetables and jellies, which are to be collected within the next two weeks and then sent to Mother Jewell's home at York. Anyone wishing to make donations, please contact Mrs. Henry Fleming, the supply secretary.

On adjournment the lesson for the afternoon, "Health in a Rural Community," was presented by Mrs. Crellin.

This was followed by a social hour and refreshments. Mrs. Maden Funk and Mrs. William Spence were the hostesses. Mrs. William Conner was a guest.
