

Postoffice Candidates To Take Examinations

An open competitive examination to fill the vacancy in the position of postmaster in O'Neill has been announced by the United States civil service commission.

Receipt of application will close on February 13. The O'Neill post pays $4,270 per year.

Mrs. Agnes E. Sullivan, postmaster 15 years, retired January 1 and Thomas J. Sullivan (no relation) was appointed and installed as acting postmaster.

In order to be eligible for the examination, an applicant must be a citizen, must have actually resided within the delivery of the postoffice for which the examination is held or within the city or town where such office is situated, for at least one year immediately preceding the date fixed for the close of receipt of application, must be in good physical condition, and must be within the prescribed age limits. The competition is open to both men and women.

Under the terms of an act of congress, approved June 25, 1938, the civil service commission will certify the names of the highest three qualified eligibles to the postmaster general, who shall thereupon submit the name of the one selected to the president for nomination. Confirmation by the senate is the final action.

Applicants will be required to assemble in an examination room for written tests, and will also be rated on their education, business or professional experience, general qualifications and suitability. The civil service commission will make an impartial inquiry among representative patrons of the office, both men and women, concerning the experience, ability, and character of each applicant, and the evidence thus secured will be considered in determining the ratings to be assigned to the applicants.

Full information and application forms may be obtained at the postoffice here or from the United States civil service commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications must be on file in the office of the commission at Washington 25, D. C., not later than February 13.

COL. ED. THORIN, of Chambers Auctioneer
OSCAR THORIN, of Chambers Clerk

Your first eye-smacking look at the line of lovelies pictured here tells you that they've got what it takes in visual charm.

But the fellow who said a picture speaks louder than a thousand words wasn't talking about these superbly able 1951 Buicks.

Sure, they're smart to look at—smart in style and smart in dress.

But they're also smartly powered—smartly engineered—smartly priced. And it would take a book to describe in full their deep-down goodness.

What's been done for '51 is to take the best automobiles that ever bore the Buick name—and top them.

Come, look them over, and you'll see what we mean.

There's the SPECIAL which can accurately be titled "the newest car in the world"—new in structure, new in power, new in dimensions, new in thrift—and potent in price appeal.

There's the SUPER—that looks and is a smart new edition of its "best seller" forebear.

Then there's the ROADMASTER—that coddles your anatomy on luxurious new fabrics and cloud-soft cushions—pampers your pride with its lordly bearing—shoots a delicious tingle right up your spine by the exuberance of its power and action.

We could go on and on. This is the car that "breathes through its nose." This is the car that sports a brand-new front-end styling. This is the car with new high-visibility instrument dials, more easily read at night. This is the car with glare-and-heat-reducing glass† and a host of other news-making features you can't afford to miss.

So your No. 1 date this week end is with your Buick dealer. It won't take you long to conclude that he's offering the smartest buys of the year.
