THE PLEDGE OF EASTER

Men of all ages have searched for pledges of immortality, for proofs of a life beyond the grave. In our day it has become the fashion to point, for instance, to the dying leaves of autumn and to the tender shoots of springtime as pictures of death and resurrection and as pledges of life beyond the grave.

But when the cold fingers of icy death come tapping at our shoulder, there will be no comfort in the fact that October is the time of falling leaves and that springtime is the season when the lilacs and the lilies bloom.

At that moment only one comfort will avail, and that is the pledge of Easter: "I am the resurrection and the Life; he that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die." John 11:25-26.

That is the pledge and promise of Jesus Christ to all who put their trust in Him. By His own resurrection from the dead on Easter morning He placed the seal of heaven's approval on this solemn word of promise.

The message of the resurrected Christ to all believers of all ages is the immovable assurance: "Because I live, ye shall live also. Where I am, there shall also My servant be."

The Bible tells us: "Christ is the first fruits of them that sleep." Just as the first fruits are the first harvest, or the forepledge, of a later and more general harvest, so Christ's resurrection is the guarantee of the resurrection of all believers to a life of glory in the later, greater harvest on the day of Judgement.

That is the pledge of Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Layh, jr., have moved from Ainsworth to Burlington, Colo.
