Roses Provide Atmosphere for St. Mary's Prom

Clusters of delicately tinted roses and blue, white and American beauty crepe paper streamers transformed the gymnasium at St. Mary's academy Thursday evening, April 26, into a proper setting for the annual junior-senior prom.

At the banquet preceding the prom, Bernard Mohr served as toastmaster. Donald Donohoe gave the address of welcome to the seniors and Jack Carney gave the senior response. James DeBacker presented a toast to the athletic directors; Shirley Jardine, to the faculty; Mary Agnes Boyle, Joan Cash and Mary Frances Vitt presented an individual toast to each senior in verse.

Shirley Leahy addressed the clergy and Very Rev. Timothy O'Sullivan replied with a short talk, in which he made a formal farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Ira George, who will be leaving the school faculty.
