Miss Barbara Mlinar, Atkinson leader, gave a short talk on Girl Scouting and each Scout troop present provided some entertainment.

The tables were decorated with colored tulips and crepe paper dolls in tulip colors made by the Scouts, who also designed and made the shell trimmed place cards and the green and yellow nut cups. — By Sandra Harper, Girl Scout scribe.

When You and I Were Young —

Half-Century Ago an Outbreak of Smallpox Upset Routine Living

50 Years Ago
 May 30, 1901

The report of smallpox at O'Neill has undoubtedly spread like a prairie fire in October and perhaps been magnified 10, 20 or a hundred fold. Jack O'Donnell found out the first of the week that he had smallpox and is now under the care of a physician in a lonesome place some 3 or 4 miles southwest of town. The O'Donnell family and home, among whom and where Jack had been before taken sick, is under quarantine as a matter of precaution.

Where there is no case in the city, it has been deemed wise and proper on the part of the authorities to not allow public gatherings at present, and therefore the Decoration day services for today will be suspended, churches throughout the city will be closed the coming Sunday, and the opera house closed and shows or theaters are not allowed. The people themselves apparently are taking the proper precautions. The doctors have been kept busy vaccinating and the public arm is pretty thoroughly scarred.

"A Chevrolet dealer from O'Neill, while driving a new car to that place Tuesday, dropped his gas tank north of Ewing, and he went 16 miles before he ran out of gas and discovered that he had lost his tank."

The above article appeared in the Ewing Advocate of last week. Fred McNally is the gentleman who lost the gas tank. Fred, however, is not a Chevrolet dealer but a dispenser of gas and oil at the Corner filling station. Fred started on a business trip to the central part of the state on Tuesday morning of last week in George Uraub's Chevvie. A few miles east of O'Neill the gas tank, spare tire and tire-carrier dropped off his car. A fellow driving a short distance behind Fred saw the accident and hastened to gather up the lost articles but was unable to catch up with Fred
