Many Women Still Make Their Own Soap; Don't Have to Be Farmers to Be Thrifty

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

There are still lots of women left with the pioneer spirit. Many homemakers still make their own soap, and they are not all farm women by any means. You don't have to live on a farm to be thrifty.

Mom used to make hominy and it was awfully good, too. Lots of homemakers still do that — and if the family likes hominy, they find it is not hard to do. With mounting food bills, it is still possible for homemakers to make their own soap, hominy, cheese and do their own baking if they want to.

The more a family lives on home raised — foods and other products, the more money they'll have for other things. Hominy can be prepared in several different ways and most folks like it. I like to use it for a substitute for potatoes.

To make hominy, dissolve 1 can of lye in 6½ gallons of water. Add 6 quarts of corn, heat the water, keeping it just below the boiling point until the corn hulls have started to loosen. Remove the hulls and scum from the water, adding fresh water occasionally during the heating. Finally stir up the corn well and transfer to clean cold water. Rub the corn, changing the water several times until the corn is thoroughly cleansed and free from hulls.

Place the corn with fresh water in a churn, if you have one. It is easier to remove the hulls by churning than by hand rubbing. Finally soak the corn in cold water over night. Then wash 3 or 4 times in hot water.

If you would like to can the hominy, cover with boiling salt water (1 teaspoon to 1 quart water), cook until almost tender. Pour into hot jars and process for 60 minutes at 10 lbs. or for 3½ hours in a hot water bath, then complete seal.

Anything made with lye as an ingredient should be made in an enamel vessel. Never put anything with lye in it in aluminum. It will eat holes in the container.

Remembers Picture of Timothy Joe—
Mrs. Claude Dailey, of O'Neill, wins.

Dear Mrs. Pease:
I've often planned write to you but just kept putting it off. Seems like we are getting a lot of bad weather.

I saw little Timothy Joe O'Connell's picture in The Frontier, and I guess miracles still happen.

I tried the cherry glaze dessert recipe sent in by Mrs. Alphonse Pritchett, of O'Neill, and it really is a wonderful dessert.

Mrs. Pritchett also asked for pressure cooking recipes. I'm sending one for Spanish rice. Hope it will help.

SPANISH RICE

(Pressure pan cooked)
One cup rice, uncooked, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 slices bacon (baked ham may be used), 2 cups tomatoes or juice, more if needed, 2 tablespoons onion, ½ cup water, 3 tablespoons minced green pepper. Fry bacon, onion and green pepper until brown in bottom of pressure pan. Add tomatoes or juice, well washed rice and spices, parsley and paprika as desired. Heat to boiling. Cook 10 minutes at 15 pounds pressure.

LEMON CAKES

Two cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ cup sugar. Sift together. Add ¼ cup shortening, cutting in well. Then add ½ cup milk and 1 egg well beaten. Stir until all flour is dampened. Knead 30 seconds, roll out ¼ inch thick, cut into rounds. Cut 5 gashes in each roll, cutting from outer edge almost to center. Bake 20 minutes at 375 F., moderate. Combine ¼ cup confectioner's sugar, 1½ tablespoons lemon juice, and brush on warm rolls. Very good.

Good—and Different!—

Ever eat peanut butter salad dressing? It's good and it's different. Just add ¼ cup peanut butter to a cup of salad dressing, combine and beat thoroughly to blend. Serve on apple, orange or pear salad.
