Peterson to Address Basin Meet Here

A week-long tour to see Nebraska is being sponsored by the Nebraska Reclamation association September 16-22. The trip will start from Omaha at 10:30 p.m. September 16 over the Burlington railroad. From Lincoln the train will proceed to Broken Bow, where an auto caravan will take sightseers to the Halsey forest, then through the sandhills to Valentine, then east to Ainsworth and O'Neill.

The caravan plans to attend the 5th annual meeting of the Niobrara River Basin Development association at O'Neill Monday, September 17. Among those who plan to be with the caravan will be: Michael J. Strauss, commissioner of the bureau of reclamation; William E. Warne, assistant secretary of the interior and Chancellor R. G. Gustavson, of the University of Nebraska.

The association's meeting at O'Neill will start at 3 p.m. with the business session at which time progress reports on the proposed reclamation of the Niobrara basin will be made and Gov. Val Peterson has been asked to make the main address during the evening banquet. Both the business session and evening banquet will be held at the American Legion hall in O'Neill.

State Capitol News . . . Anderson Files For Governor

LINCOLN — The long-rumored announcement that Lincoln's Mayor Victor E. Anderson would go after the Republican nomination for governor materialized last week, making the race for the top of the GOP slate a 3-cornered one—at least temporarily.

Already filed are State Sen. Hugh Carson, of Ord, and former Lieut.-Gov. Robert B. Crosby, of North Platte. Oddsmakers at the capitol make Anderson and Crosby about even money, or 6 to 5 and take your choice. Carson isn't given much of a chance but nobody is overlooking him completely. For every professional politician who thinks Anderson is a slight favorite, you can find another who'll rate Crosby the same way.

For whatever it's worth, this department—at this moment—must give a slight edge to Crosby for 2 principal reasons: 1. This is a primary campaign and in a primary election, the voters are pretty solid party members. You don't get many casual voters in a primary, unless of course, there's a red-hot local issue. Crosby stands more solidly with the Republicans who work at it. He's considered more of a party worker himself with a long record of GOP activity.

2. Whatever magic there is in a Scandinavian name in a Nebraska election—and Anderson's supporters are counting heavily on it—it won't be as effective in a primary as in a general election. Again, the people who vote in primaries know who they're marking their ballots for.

Gov. Val Peterson found himself on both sides of an argument last week. The federal census bureau had reported that Nebraska was the only state in the nation which cuts its per capita state tax, from $42.11 to $36.65.

Save more corn

with this new Allis-Chalmers ONE-ROW CORN HARVESTER

While the stalks are still standing straight . . . before weather, birds and insects damage your crop — that's when you need a power picker of your own.

The new Allis-Chalmers one-row Corn Harvester picks or snaps five times faster than a good man working by hand. Rubber rolls and spring-steel pegs pick clean without shelling. Moving parts are well away from the operation and shielded for safety.

Any make of tractor with standard power take-off will operate the A-C one-row Corn Harvester. Here's a picker you can afford for your own corn.
