Eagles Break Ainsworth Jinx

Halfback Don Godel's second touchdown of the night in the last 25 seconds gave O'Neill a 26-19 win over Ainsworth Friday

O'Neill's tally in the final moments was unrehearsed performance. Junior Quarterback Bob Carroll surprised the O'Neill coaches as well as the enemy.

O'Neill's power had been directed to the left. Carroll concocted a play in the huddle sending Halfback Don Godel around the weak side of the Ainsworth line. The play worked and Godel lumbered across standing up.

Fullback Ed Tomlinson took the opening kickoff 75 yards and Don Godel place-kicked the conversion to give O'Neill a 7-0 lead. O'Neil moved to the Ainsworth 10 to be halted by a penalty and rugged defense.

Ainsworth roared back with an 84-yard scoring drive which closed with Jim Anderson, sophomore, going 34 to score. A Sales-McAndrew pass knotted the count at 7-7.

Ainsworth took a 13-7 lead in the second quarter, Wheeler taking a lateral and scoring from the 3 to climax a 72-yard march. Don Calkins' 15-yard sweep for O'Neill made it 13-13. Ainsworth marched 80 with Ben Crook rambling off tackle for the last 18.

O'Neill evened the score at 19-19 in the third period when the Blues pirated a Sales pass and drove downfield with Godel scoring from the 5.

A fumble recovered on the Ainsworth 40 set up the winning touchdown.

In the final period an Ains-worth Sales - McAndrew scoring pass was nullified by a penalty.

Gene Seger, tackle, played a standout defensive game for O'-

Friday's win gave the Eagles their first win over Ainsworth in several years.

Only a handful of O'Neill par-isans made the junket. The game originally was scheduled for Frilay night, October 12, but was et up a day at the last minute.

Improved Huskers Bow to Penn State

The Bob Reynolds-less University of Nebraska Cornhuskers made their second appearance of the season Saturday in Memorial stadium, Lincoln, and showed marked imrovement over their dismal opener against Texas Christian university.

Penn State won Saturday's fray, 15-7, but the Lions were pressed. Huskers need lots of improvement but Holt county fans were generally pleased with the showing against the heavier, more experienced Penn Staters, who were defeated at Lincoln a year ago. Coach Bill Glassford paraded about 30 frosh and sophomores into Saturday's game. Among Holt countyans in the stands were:

From O'Neill: P. B. Harty, M. J. Golden, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Cronin, Cal Stewart, Leonard Bazelman, A. W. Carroll and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Lohaus, Mr. and Mrs. John Harbottle, Misses Dorothy and Barbara Bennett, Shirley Tietsort, Mrs. Donald McKamy, D. E. Nelson, Marvin Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bosn.

From Ewing: Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Dierks and family, Mrs. Maud Brion, Mrs. M. B. Huffman. From Stuart: Mr. and Mrs. J.

G. Brewster. From Chambers: Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Grossnicklaus.

Cardinals Smothered by Indians, 33-6

The St. Mary's academy Cardianls ventured out - of - state Tuesday afternoon and were sorely punished by the Marty (S.D.) Mission Indians, 33-6. The Indians unleashed a warlike aerial and running attack with which the Cards couldn't cope. Most of the surface play was around the O'Neill ends; the aerials started from a spread for-

Little Gus DeBacker suffered He was carrying the ball around end, got hit hard, knocked off his feet and his own leg fractured the other in the meelee. He was taken to a Wagner, S.D., hospital and removed Wednesday to O'Neill.

Coach Shorty Miles's Cards were playing nothing like they did several days earlier in spilling North Loup. They simply couldn't function against the Redskins.

Score at halftime was 20-0. Don Donohoe sparkled in 90-yard sprint. He took an Indian kick 10 yards behind his own goal line and raced the length of the abbreviated 6-man field to score.

Picker-Husker No. 5

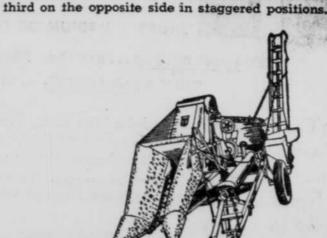

Saves More Corn in Every Operation ... Gathering, Snapping Husking!

- * The No. 5 is ideal for the farmer who grows up to 120 acres of corn, and who must husk it alone or with little help. Husks 6 to 12 acres a day, depending on number of working hours, ground and weather conditions, yield and tractor power. Any 1- or 2-plow tractor in good mechanical condition will operate the picker and pull a load of corn under average field conditions without difficulty. Approximate field weight, 2169 pounds.
- * Oliver's eight active husking rolls have plenty of capacity to handle all the material delivered to them. Husking unit consists of four cast iron and four rubber rolls, a combination that assures fast, clean husking without scuffing or damaging the ears. The cast rolls are precision machined, and the rubber rolls consist of assembled rubber discs. Metal and rubber rolls work as a unit under spring tension.

* Tapered "live" roll extension points get close to the ground, reduce the danger of crushed and lost ears, assure clean picking, furnish free passage of stalks, and save the ears. Lower bearings on rolls are located high - away upper and lower ends to provide correct spacing between rolls for handling large, wet, dry, or frosted stalks. ★ Three pressed steel gathering chains with special lug links can reach down to the ground to catch "down" stalks and ears. Two chains operate on one side of the row, and the
