Storybook and comic strip characters and eerie Hallowe'en witches were well-represented at the annual Hallowe'en costume party for grade school pupils at O'Neill public school. Among the winners were: Terry Strong (boy dressed like girl); Dennis Wells (white rabbit); Linda Rae Johnson (Alice in Wonderland); Suzanne Stewart ("The Buckle in the Hay Belt", original costume); Billy Eby ("Tweedledum", standing immediately behind "The Buckle"); Robert Eby ("Tweedledee"); Ruth Ann Walker (Mammie Yokum" of comic strip); Mary Jo Walker (Japanese girl); Dean and Curt Larson (Sam and Mammy", best couple); Jeannette Fricke (Wonderland character, Mad-Hatter, behind rabbit); Ann Louise

Sanders (cabaret girl, partly hidden); Joan Pease (witch); Dickie Marcellus ("Little Black Sambo," with umbrella); Roy Bridge (rabbit, standing behind Alice in Wonderland); George Ferris (Lone Ranger); Bobby Kramer (Jack-O-Lantern, best Hallowe'en costume); Donna Summer (witch); Dickie and Diane Cork (George and Martha Washington); Betty Schultz (Indian girl); Nancy Fetrow (beautiful costume); Gary Sanders (Indian boy, with feathers, partly hidden); Terry Kurtz (best cowboy). Other winners included: Richard Brinkman (tramp); Joan Carol Riffey (clown); Douglas Friedrich (best Hallowe'en cat); Lonna Spry (best girl as boy).

Hold Hard Times Hallowe'en Party—
The usually peaceful home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Widtfeldt in Rock Falls Valley was the setting of a rousing, hair-raising hallowe'en party, on Saturday night, October 27, when all the ghosts and goblins of the season were present and lurking in the shadows everywhere. After everyone had been most "ceremoniously" welcomed, the remainder of the evening was spent playing cards.
High score was won by James Curran and LeRoy Waegli, who took the place of a lady, and low to Lyle Vequist and Mrs. Henry Vequist. Door prize, guessing the number of seeds in a small pumpkin, went to James Curran and traveling prize (a real live cat) went to LeRoy Waegli.
Best ladies Hallowe'en costume was worn by Mrs. Waegli, and best mens hard time outfit by Francis Curran.
Lunch of doughnuts, sandwiches and coffee was served.—By club reporter.

A lumbering steed amused the audience, composed of pupils as well as parents. The "horse" is Rodney and Danny Sullivan. At right is Pat Gamel (boy dressed as girl).

Hear 'Readers' Digest' Article Read—
The Bethany Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Kruse on Tuesday, October 24. There were 24 ladies and 15 children present.
Mrs. Henry Wood read the 11th chapter 1st Corinthians.
We sang "Higher Ground," and Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Lambert sang a duet.
Mrs. Carol Summerer read an article from the "Readers' Digest" entitled, "Someone Else on the Bench."
The secretary's report was read the roll call was answered by naming a favorite fall food.
We sang "Near the Cross" and closed by repeating the Lord's prayer. Mrs. Kruse served a lunch.

Joins Slub—Betty Richter
The Scott Community club met with Mrs. Frank McDonald, Tuesday, October 16 with 9 members present and 3 visitors. We sang and the flag salute was given. Mrs. Charles Gifford and Mrs. Charles Lubber presented the lesson, first part of "Personal Credit." We elected new officers.
Betty Richter joined our club. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Harvey Krugmans, November 6.
Visitors are welcome to come.—By Mary Lubber, news reporter.

Ben Asher Feted on Birthday—

Happy Hollow Club Windsup '51 Activity

EWING — The Happy Hollow 4-H club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rurede on Friday evening, October 26, for an annual weiner roast. The club members received the prize money from their 1951 fair exhibits. No regular business meeting was held.
The evening was passed playing phonograph records and playing games. The fathers of the members played card games and the mothers visited and prepared refreshments.
A big blazing bonfire over which weiners and marshmallows were toasted was the main attraction of the evening.
This meeting brought to a close the club's activities for the year.

1951 UNITED STATES AVERAGE BILL—$6.95
For 250 Kilowatt-Hours Residential Electric Service

SPOTLIGHT ON NEBRASKA

Just ten years ago, when your Consumers Public Power District first came into being, the average residential user of electricity in Nebraska paid $7.17 for 250 kilowatt-hours. Today, only $6.06 for the same amount! In 1941, twenty-one states had lower electric rates than Nebraska. In 1951 only six states have lower rates!

Such progress is the result of the intelligent planning, building, operation, and the sound economic policy that lies behind the development of Nebraska's power resources!
